Immanuel Pearson, 69, Dies in Home Blaze

Immanuel Pearson, 69, resident of Red Lake Falls since 1920, died Tuesday afternoon of last week in a fire that consumed his three-room home a block north of the Red Lake Falls tow mill.

Three trucks from the fire department sped to the scene at 2:50 to fight the stubborn blaze which was finally extinguished some three hours later. After fighting the fire for an hour, firemen were able to enter the front room of the house where they found Pearson's body.

A neighbor, Kamiel Williams, had knocked on Pearson's door Tuesday morning and early in the afternoon but got no answer.

Pearson was probably sleeping in his front room and overcome by fumes. Firemen found his partially burned body in the living room after fighting the blaze for an hour. Cause of the fire is undetermined.

Pearson was born in 1885 near Montreal, Quebec, and served in World War I. He moved to Red Lake county in 1920 from St. Jean, Man., and had been employed at the tow mill there at various intervals since that time. He was a member of Gunder Austad Post No. 22 of the American Legion.

Payments for 1954 Christmas seals mailed out at Thanksgiving time are still coming in, said Mrs. Earl Jensen, Pennington county chairman of the anti-TB campaign.

She stated that there is still a considerable distance to go before collections come up to 1953, when a total of $2,430.54 was collected, compared to $1,876.15 turned in to date this year.

"Many people, I am sure, have put off answering their Christmas Seal letters in the holiday rush," Mrs. Jensen said today. "To those who have delayed, I want to point out again the importance to yourself of supporting your TB association.

"TB can strike in any home, rich or poor. Great progress has been made in treating TB, but too often it still brings suffering and death. When you buy Christmas Seals, you are paying for services to help keep TB away from your home and your family."

New Simpler Income Tax Form Prepared

The new punch-card federal tax form for reporting 1954 income was today described by Director of Internal Revenue, A. R. Knox, as the simplest return developed by the revenue service during the forty-year history of the federal income tax.

"This is one federal tax return that can be filed in with th very minimum of trouble," Director Knox said. "Devised for the employee whose total wages reported on his withholding statement amounts to less than $5,000, and who does not have more than $100 of other income, the return required no mathematical computations," he explained.

The new punch card return, officially designated Form 1040-A, is now available at all internal revenue offices, and can also be obtained at most banks, building associations and post offices. Besides the punch card, taxpayers who elect to use the simplified form are furnished an instruction sheet which carries facsimilies of both sides of the card. After the data has been assembled on the instruction sheet, the taxpayer copies it on the punch card, retaining the rought draft for his own records.

The front of the card bears the taxpayer's identification, the amount of income he has received, the amount withheld by his employer, and dividend credits and sick pay allowances, if any. He also designates by check mark his marital status, and signs the card, which is his return. If it is a joint return, the signatures of both the husband and wife are required. On the back of the card the taxpayer shows his exemptions, including himself, his wife, children and other dependents, the extent of support, etc.

When the card return is completed, it should be mailed, with the taxpayer's withholding statement (Form W-2), to the district director of internal revenue in the envelope which is provided for this purpose. From the information on the card, the internal revenue service will figure the tax. If the taxpayer has overpaid, a refund check will be forwarded to him. If additional taxes are owed, he will receive a bill.

Director Knox says that many wage and salary earners who this year will receive the regular 1040 forms by mail are eligible to use the simplified punch-card return which may easily be obtained, thus saving themselves the worry of determining their correct taxes.

Persons using the card forms, he pointed out, must take the standard ten per cent allowance for deductible items, such as interest payments, medical expenses, charitable contributions, etc. In most cases, Director Knox says, the ten percent standard deduction is generous, and the taxpayer will be benefited by taking it, rather than enumerating any deductible items to which he might be entitled.

Pioneer Home Notes

There were signs of Christmas at the Home long before the 24th. Parcels began to arrive very early and by Christmas eve there was a huge stack of packages. In the afternoon of the 24th as many of our guests as were able gathered in the living room around the Christmas tree. A few carols were sung and little Judy Walla sang two songs. After a few remarks by Superintendent Walla the parcels were distributed. The beaming faces of the recipients revealed the joy and gratitude in their hearts to those that had thus remembered them.

A great number of friends have visited the home during the holidays. Several groups have also visited the Home and brought cheer to our guests by singing Christmas carols. They were the Luther Leaguers of Erskine, Trinity S. School of McIntosh, Junior Choir of the Kingo church, Fosston, and the Girl Scouts of Fosston. Thank you for coming.

Several have remembered the Home with generous gifts. The Erskine, Trinity S. School donated 25; Trinity Ladies' Aid, McIntosh $10; Zion Ladies Aid of Blackduck $10; Bygland Ladies Aid of East Grand Forks $10; Mrs. Carsten Meade, $1; Margaret Johnson, N. Y. $5; Minuel Egeland, Fisher $50. The memorial gifts for December amount to $117.00.

A box of delicious apples came to the Home for Christmas. They were donated by Glen Bakkum of Corvallis, Oregon. Apple boxes were also given by Wesley Johnson of Thief River Falls and H. Nelson of Oslo, William Christianson of the Woodside grocery brought a gift box of assorted groceries. Roger Bagne 8 doz. oranges, 9 rolls of Christmas ice cream and food for snack trays. The McIntosh creamery 5 gal. ice cream. Eggs, Mrs. Mervin Gunderson. A beautiful wool afghan was given by the Mary Martha Circle of the Zion Luth. church at Blackduck.

A hearty thank you to all who have remembered our Home this Christmas season.

Babson Sees Upward Business Trend for First Half of 1955

Business and Financial Forecast for 1955

By Roger W. Babson

1. GENERAL BUSINESS. Despite wails from some quarters, 1954 saw a drop in the average Physical Volume of Business of only 5% from the record year 1953. 1955 could see a rise of about the same amount. Certainly, the direction of business until mid-1955 will be upward.

2. BUSINESSMEN WILL WAKE UP. During 1954 many businessmen rediscovered the meaning of the word "competition." Sales will continue to be made only with real effort in most lines.

3. CONSUMPTION OUTLOOK. Consumption in a number of lines has been proceeding at a more rapid rate than has production. I forecast a better record in early 1955 for both steel and automobiles.

4. TEXTILE INDUSTRY. Textile industry operated at extremely low levels throughout most of 1954. Coal and railroad equipment also exerted a strong downpull. I forecast that the textile and coal industries will be in a recovery phase after their long stay in the doldrums.

5. PRIVATE CONSTRUCTION. I forecast that home building and general construction will be somewhat lower in 1955 than in 1954, but this important industry should still operate at high levels next year.

6. PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION. I forecast that public construction will increase during 1955. This should mean a rise in the output of cement.

7. AGRICULTURAL EQUIPMENT. This industry has been suffering from a decline in demand, but should now improve. Government-sponsored planting curtailment and crop loans have reduced free supplies, and may make for higher agricultural prices later in 1955.

8. ARMAMENT INDUSTRY. The armament industry will still be one of the main floors beneath the economy. The electrical and chemical industries will move at a rate close to that of 1954.

9. OTHER INDUSTRIES. I am somewhat optimistic on clothing, aircraft manufacturing, airline transportation, office equipment, electricity output, petroleum production, natural gas, and shoes. I am also fairly bullish on rubber, paper, electrical equipment, certain types of building, and nonferrous metals.

10. WEATHER CONDITIONS. It is foolish for me to attempt to forecast rains, droughts, frosts, etc., for any special section. However, taking the nation as a whole, I look for better weather in 1955.

11. RETAIL SALES. I forecast that the outlook for retail sales is encouraging, at least through the first half of 1955.

12. PROFITS. Stiffening competition is chipping away at the profit margin. Return on invested capital is in a long-term downtrend. The first few years after World War II were the golden years for the novice in business and for the inefficient. Those days are gone for awhile.

13. SELECTIVITY. Higher labor and other costs, plus intensified competition, will continue during 1955. I forecast a high degree of selectivity in the effect of this trend on individual activities and companies. Victory will be for the nimble and for the strong!

14. DIVIDENDS. Recent high expenditures for new plant and machinery have left some concerns with very high depreciation charges. As new capital commitments are cut and depreciation remains high, cash inflow could expand. Such companies should be able to pay out in dividends a higher percentage of earnings in 1955 than in recent years, notwithstanding a moderate profits shrinkage.

15. INVENTORIES. Inventories have been permitted to run down during 1954. As total business expands, there will be a tendancy to replace reduced stocks, especially during the first half of 1955. Total manufacturers' inventories, however, may build up more rapidly than total business inventories. I forecast that total wholesale and total retail inventories will show little change from 1954 levels.

16. PRICES OF MANUFACTURED GOODS. Even with the expected pickup in demand, I see no sharp markup in industrial prices next year. Over-all supplies are generally ample. Hence, I forecast that industrial prices in 1955 will show little change from recent levels.

17. FOOD PRICES. Food prices may firm later in 1955. The strong move into Government crop loans this year has made free supplies of most agricultural items less burdensome. I forecast that new advertising programs by canners and other great food distributors will help farmers, stock raisers, and fruit growers.

18. CONSUMER INCOME. Consumer income will hold at satisfactory levels. Most goods should move readily into consuming channels.

19. LIVING COSTS. I forecast that during 1955 living costs will show little over-all change from present levels. There may be some firming during the first half, but the late months may again witness a minor softening.

20. RENTS, ETC. I forecast rental expenses may edge somewhat higher; clothing costs should be steady to moderately higher. There is small chance that food expenses can be greatly reduced.

21. MONEY SUPPLIES. I forecast that money supplies will be ample for all legitimate business needs during 1955. With little likelihood of business getting out of hand on the upside, credit easing is more likely than credit curtailment in 1955.

22. INFLATION. Fears, or perhaps hopes, of an inflationary boom should be buried. Barring outbreak of war, our productive capacity is sufficiently large to meet all demands for goods. I forecast that no runaway inflation is probable, even if the money managers increase the supply of money or ease credit.

23. INTEREST RATES. Until the Treasury finds a way to balance the budget; hold business at high levels and unemployment at a minimum, I forecast little likelihood of higher interest rates.

24. BOND PRICES. With the possible exception of tax-free bonds, I see no reason for increased bond prices in 1955. I forecast an increase in the issuance of tax-free revenue bonds.

25. STOCK PRICES. After so sharp a rise, the market could have a reaction; but I am forecasting no crash in 1955 such as we had in 1929. In fact, the situation changed for the better October 11, 1954.

26. WAGES. I forecast that the wage trend in organized industry will continue to move higher at least in the first half of 1955. During the first half year, when business will be improving, the labor chieftains will also be quick to resort to the strike weapon.

27. OTHER LABOR GAINS. I forecast that the heavy guns of the labor bigwigs will be trained on the guaranteed annual wage, shorter work week, and more pensions. With a better congressional control of appointments to the National Labor Relations Board, the decisions of that body will swing more toward labor than toward management.

28. NEW INVENTIONS. These will mostly be a labor-saving type. I forecast a marked increase in automation and cybernetics, and other marvelous changes in production methods.

29. EMPLOYMENT. Unemployment outlook is brighter, since business will be on the upgrade during the first half. I forecast that local and seasonal unemployment will still prove a knotty problem.

30. FAILURES. The salient business characteristic of 1955 will be bitter competition. Many companies already weakened by competitive conditions will no longer be able to keep afloat. I forecast a rise in both the number and the total value of failures during 1955.

31. MERGERS. I forecast that mergers and consolidations will be encouraged by federal officials, if, by merging, a weak company can be saved. But while every effort will be made to prevent bankruptcies, Washington will frown on large mergers and consolidations.

32. GENERAL REAL ESTATE SALES. The time is already past due when real estate prices should have been falling. Only a fear of World War III and easy credit have prevented this. Therefore, I forecast that a downturn in prices cannot long be postponed.

33. URANIUM CRAZE. The greatest speculation will take place in the seeking and trading of land with uranium prospects. This is now centered in Colorado, Utah, and vicinity; but I forecast it will spread in a limited way to many other states and even to "offshore" property. It could exceed the gold rush of 1849. Another demand will be for woodlands which can be bought for a few dollars per acre.

34. COMMERCIAL FARMS. These have suffered a decline in price as a result of the slump in agricultural prices and farm incomes. Unless more will be done politically for the farmers next year, I forecast that the recent decline in commercial farm prices may continue during 1955. Subsistence farms on the fringes of larger cities should hold up well in price as migration towards the suburbs continues.

35. VACANT LAND IN CITY AREAS. With the exception of parking lots, city vacant land should experience a continued slow reduction in price during 1955; but no marked change in suburban vacant land, except for parking. I am very bullish on land anywhere suitable for parking.

36. BUSINESS PROPERTY. I foresee little hope for improvement for such property in the larger cities during 1955. Business property in the suburbs has not been so inflated, and therefore will not be so vulnerable to decline and high taxes.

37. INDUSTRIAL BUILDING. The construction of new industrial plants gives every indication of continuing to mark out a downward course during 1955. I forecast that the brightest spot on the construction horizon for next year is the prospect for increased municipal construction, —schools, hospitals, etc.

38. RESIDENTIAL CONSTRUCTION. The building of new homes has held at very high levels during 1954. Although I expect the trend of new home prices to be downward during the year 1955, they will still persist at very high figures, at least during the first half of the year. New homes will continue to be the choice of purchasers, even though older homes give better values.

39. TAXES. The Eisenhower Administration has clearly recognized that expanding business and increased expenditures for plant and equipment are the true sources for rising employment and more jobs. I forecast a continued aim during 1955 will be to have taxes aid business—and thereby help employees to more and better jobs.

40. INCOME TAXES. I forecast there will be no further relief, in 1955, of the double-taxation feature on dividends or of the 25% capital gains tax. Furthermore, corporation income taxes will not be permitted to decline as scheduled next spring. I forecast that, unless business slumps more than I anticipate during late 1955, there will be no reduction in personal income taxes next year, except to correct some technical errors. Any relief for the individual "small" taxpayer will be saved until the election year, 1956.

41. POLITICS. The really big political news in 1955 will not be made by the laws that will be enacted, but by the tremendous preparations for the 1956 presidential campaign. Those who claim that President Eisenhower is at heart a liberal and will get along well with a Democratic Congress should remember the lessons of politics.

42. WORLD WAR III. In my opinion, the initiative in international affairs still rests with Russia. The Kremlin is not yet ready for an all-out attack and no one in the West wants World War III. Malenkov is now pushing a "Peace Offensive." I am referring here to the year 1955 —over the long term, I still feel that a major holocaust is inevitable, but I forecast no World War III in 1955.

43. FOREIGN AID. Our foreign efforts during the year will continue to aim at plugging the leaks and building new dykes against the flooding tides from the East. I forecast we will work hard to build up Europe, with Germany as the core; but Russia will make spectacular gains in the Far East, particularly in India.

44. FOREIGN COMPETITION. As Germany rearms and the Brussels "Treaty Organization" goes into gear, I forecast further improvement in Europe. Competition from European manufacturers will, however, intensify. Reciprocal trade deals will be pushed. I would not be surprised to see a decline in our exports in 1955 and an increase in imports.

45. CHURCHES AND CHARITIES. I forecast that the spiritual awakening which started in 1954 will continue into 1955 with an increase in Church members. This is a very important sign. Gifts to charities will also increase, due to the more liberal allowance on taxes; up to 30%, provided 10% goes to churches, schools, or hospitals.

46. TRAVEL AND SPORTS. I forecast more money will be spent on travel and sports in 1955. This is becoming an important new industry and should especially benefit, Florida, California, Arizona, New Mexico, the Great Lakes Region, New England, and the Northwest.

47. NEW METALS AND ALLOYS. Next to air-conditioning, I expect great growth in the use of new metals and alloys. I forecast the rare-metals stocks will be sought in 1955 as were the oils in 1954.

48. ADVERTISING. I forecast business spending in this field will increase further in 1955. It not only is the salvation of individual businesses, but is the best stimulant for national prosperity.

49. POPULATION. I forecast the population will continue to increase during 1955, with a growing percentage of young people between 18 and 22. This means a greater demand for clothing, college education, and especially for new school buildings.

50. CONCLUSION. Develop Faith, Meditation, Health, and Good Works—with more attention to your family—to create reserves for real trouble which some day will come. GO TO CHURCH! — Copyright 1954 — Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the Minnesota Historical Society

MESABI PIONEER

The recent death of E. J. Longyear brought an end to the life of a man who not only made history but also, in his declining years, wrote it.

It was E. J. Longyear who made the first hole, by a diamond drill, in the great Mesabi range. That was in 1890 on the eastern end of this range, not then known to the world for its great deposits of high grade iron ore. That first hole was one of many, many thousands which Mr. Longyear and his associates were to drill in the great iron mines of Minnesota.

Not only did Mr. Longyear make the first diamond drill exploration of iron ore but he was also the first to apply this type of a drill to copper.

The Longyear name is great in Michigan where a cousin, J. M. Longyear, was a fabulous character and in Minnesota, where E. J. Longyear made history. It was this pioneer of the Mesabi who took the Longyear name around the world. He drilled holes in China where 500 coolies carried equipment for several hundred miles over a trail which later became the Burma Road. He drilled the Roan Antelope copper mines in Africa, and other properties which later supplied 80 per cent of Great Britain's copper. The largest, and most recent, Longyear foreign operation was exploration of the great Cerro Bolivar iron hill in Venezula.

Mr. Longyear died in his ninetieth year at his home in California. In recent years he had written a story of his life. The Mesabi Pioneer was published by the Minnesota Historical Society in 1951 and it constitutes a most interesting chapter in the story of Minnesota men and mines.

AN EARLY FATHER

The name of Sherman Hall ought to be given special recognition. He was the father of the first white child born in the whole Lake Superior area of northern Minnesota and Wisconsin. The son was born on July 8, 1833, while the father was a missionary at La Pointe.

Sherman Hall was born in Vermont in the year 1800. He graduated from Dartmouth and Andover Theological Seminary. He came early to La Pointe, on the south shore of Lake Superior, and remained there 22 years. He then went to the Chippewa agency at Crow Wing.

Reverend Hall is credited by many students as being the creator of the English conception of the Chippewa language. He translated the New Testament, publishing it in 1843 and revising it in 1856. He wrote a grammar and a hymn book. After he had risen to his greatest usefulness as a missionary, the schools at Crow Wing were removed to Gull Lake and there was a change in denominational control. Mr. Hall became pastor of the Congregational church at Sauk Rapids, then an important outpost on the Mississippi.

In addition to his ministry, Sherman Hall served as judge of probate and superintendent of schools in Benton county. All told, he served as a missionary and a minister for more than 48 years.

His end was tragic. He fell from a wagon and died from his injuries in August 1879.

THE BARK CANOE

The birch bark canoe will always be known as one of the most useful and romantic transportation devices in the history of Minnesota.

No one knows for how long the Chippewas and other early Indian people used this craft. The earliest white explorers noted it and used it. It was an Indian creation made because the waterways were the transportation ways of the Red Man.

The various Indian groups had their experts, bucks and squaws, who were outstanding artisans. The canoe used the birch bark which would be taken from the trees in large, tough sheets. To strengthen the craft there would be carefully fashioned supports of white, strong cedar. The strips of birch bark would be skillfully shaped and tied together with the long, strong roots of the tamarack tree. Pitch would be assembled from nearby spruce and pine trees and the canoe would be made strong, light and watertight.

Because these craft were light and easily portaged they were used on some of the longest and hardest journeys known to the first people to come into the Lake Superior and Mississippi valleys. The early fur traders, who headquartered at Fort William on Superior, took birch bark canoes on their trips to the far Pacific. They would leave the trading post early in July and would be at Fort George on the Columbia about October 20. There they would trap and trade and leave with their canoes and peltries for the east in April. The canoes would be on the water or portage twenty hours daily on the long trip which terminated in late June.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

By Richard E. Wanek
State Capitol Reporter
St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press

Just 50 years ago next Saturday Minnesota's beautiful state capitol was opened to the public for the first time. When the gavel falls Tuesday to open the 59th session of the Minnesota legislature, the lawmakers will be starting the structure on one of St. Paul's seven hills into its second half century of life, looking young and fresh as it enters early "middle age."

At that initial session in the new building, John A. Johnson became Governor of the North Star state, and took his place at the end of the ceremony in the Governor's office in the southwest corner of the capitol's main floor.

Next week C. Elmer Anderson will retire as Governor and leave the office ready for 36-year-old Orville L. Freeman, the first non-Republican to occupy the office since the Farmer-Labor days of Floyd B. Olson, Hjalmar Petersen, and Elmer Benson.

Plan Colorful Ceremonies

An elaborate opening week program should attract many visitors to St. Paul. So will the colorful ceremonies of the inauguration.

Barring unforseen developments, these will be the events:

Monday, January 3—The State Senate majority group will caucus to select the president pro tem of the senate. The position is honorary, but the man selected could become Governor if something should happen to the governor and lieutenant governor. Senator Val Imm of Mankato is slated for the position.

State officers other than governor and lieutenant - governor will take their oaths of office in private ceremonies on Monday. These include State Auditor Stafford King, the only Republican re-elected; State Treasurer Arthur Hansen; Attorney General Miles Lord; Secretary of State Joseph Donovan; Clerk of Supreme Court Frank Larkin, and Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner Hjalmer Petersen.

House Convene Tuesday

Tuesday, January 4—Both the senate and house convene at noon to organize and elect officers. The senate organization after all senators take their oath of office administered by an associate justice of the state supreme court, will be fairly routine.

The conservatives have a 48-19 majority, so they will control all committee assignments and hiring of employees. Imm will be formally chosen president pro tem by that margin if voting follows caucus lines. The liberals are backing Senator B. G. Novak of St. Paul for the job.

Hartle vs. Johnson

In the House the intense interest of organization will follow opening of the session which is in charge of Secretary of State Donovan.

The conservatives will back John A. Hartle of Owatonna for re-election as Speaker, and the liberals will support A. I. Johnson of Benson. Indications are that the vote will be very close with 66 votes required to elect the speaker.

The speaker is in charge of committee assignments, which makes this vote the most important, in terms of the political considerations, of all. Illness or absence of even one member might leave the house unorganized after the first day in case neither side can muster the necessary 66 votes.

Who Will Get No. 1?

This is the first day on which bills can be introduced in the 1955 session and there is some jockeying to get a favored measure the honor of being No. 1 bill introduced. This is up to the presiding officer to decide.

If the house is unable to elect a speaker on Tuesday, there is a question whether bills can be introduced while the secretary of state is still presiding. If that happens, the house itself can by vote determine what action it shall take.

Wednesday is inaugural day for the new governor. Orville L. Freeman is scheduled to take the oath of office at exactly noon with Chief Justice Roger Dell presiding. Freeman will then deliver his inaugural message.

Plan Formal Reception

During the evening there will be a formal reception in the capitol rotunda at which the constitutional officers—governor, lieutenant - governor, attorney general, treasurer, and auditor—and perhaps other elected state officials will stand in line and greet any citizen who comes to the reception.

A crowd of several thousand is expected for this event.

After the reception there will be an inaugural ball at the Prom ballroom in St. Paul. Admission is by invitation, with invitations handled by the Democratic - Farmer - Labor Party. There is a $3 charge per couple or $3 for individuals to cover expenses of the affair.

There will be little legislative business conducted during the first week of the 90-day session, with some committees holding their first meetings during the second week of the session.

(Ed. Note: During the period he is serving as interim commissioner of administration for the state government, Arthur Naftalin's column is being written by guest writers. Next week the column will be written by Rolf Felstad, political writer for the Minneapolis Tribune.)

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Marge Olson

More and more farm families are buying television sets. If you were the lucky receiver of a set at Christmas, here are a few tips on lighting for television. These tips come to you from the REA.

Lighting for Television

The lighting arrangements of the room have much to do with eye comfort in watching television and also with getting a clear picture from the screen.

New owners of television sets often make the mistake of thinking that the room should be entirely dark when the television is turned on. Watching a bright screen in an otherwise dark room may be almost as tiring to the eyes as driving against the glare of oncoming headlights on a dark night. Lighting specialists have for years pointed out that the sharp contrast between a pot of bright light against surrounding darkness can cause eye fatigue. Subdued general lighting of the room is suggested to avoid both glare and gloom.

To balance the bright light from the screen, low lights may be used—or soft indirect lights placed at the back of the television set, above it or on either side. If lamps are used, medium dark shades are better than white or very light-colored shades. The influence of television may be one reason that more lamps, both floor and table models, are coming out with a three-way switch so that they may be turned low when television is on or higher for other purposes.

The placing of lamps in the room also is important. No light should be located directly in the line of vision toward the screen because it will interfere with a clear picture and also tire the eyes. No light should be located where it will be reflected on the screen. The reflection causes a bright spot that conceals part of the picture. Also no light should shine directly on the screen.

Daylight viewing also calls for some adjustment of light from windows. This may require curtains or venetian blinds that will cover a window from which light shines directly on the screen or into the eyes of the viewer.

Guide To Fertilizer Use

Soil tests and fertilizer trials conducted by University of Minnesota soils scientists indicate that farmers can profit by knowing the exact needs of their farm's soils.

I would like to report that a new University booklet, Extension Bulletin 277, "Guide to Fertilizer Use," was developed with the idea in mind of helping farmers use fertilizer more effectively.

Free copies are available at the Pennington county extension office or from the Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

You can use Bulletin 277 in selecting fertilizers for small grain, legumes, permanent grass pastures, potatoes, sugar beets, and truck and canning crops. It tells you how much plant food to apply per acre and the best ways to use it.

Two ways are suggested. The first, "fertilizing the soil" can be done best by broadcasting and plowing under. This is a long-term plan that helps your soil for several years.

Another method, "fertilizing the crop" means adding enough fertilizer to each crop for highest yields and still maintaining soil fertility.

Fertilizer needs vary widely over the state. Differences of past cropping, moisture conditions and kinds of soil mean that only general fertilizer recommendations can be given for a large area. However, Extension soils specialists say that the University's Soil Testing Laboratory can help you learn your own farm's fertilizer needs. Bulletin 277 shows you the area you are in and its general phosphate, nitrogen and potash needs.

Gives Facts on Garry Oats

Seed supplies of the new, improved Canadian oat variety, Garry, are short and if you're offered some, be sure it is the certified and improved Garry.

University of Minnesota agronomist Edwin L. Jensen informs me that the new Garry is a "reselected" variety. That is, Canadian agronomists selected superior plants from the old Garry to "build" the new variety. They chose plants that showed strong rust resistance.

Race 7 and 8 of oat stem rust were big damagers of oat crops in recent years and Garry is resistant to them in addition, to Race 7-A, which is not important now but may be in the future.

The new Garry also resists smuts and has some tolerance to crown or leaf rust. It is, however, a late-maturing variety but earlier than Rodney, the other new Canadian oats.

The University of Minnesota's Agricultural Experiment Station tested the new Garry this year for the first time. They found it yielded about as well as Andrew and had a somewhat lower test weight.

Jensen repeated his warning about being sure that you buy only the improved, reselected Garry. If you buy certified seed, you'll be certain of getting the variety you want.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—May a veteran take Korean GI training in a school outside the United States?

A—Yes, provided he enrolls in a VA-approved course in an accredited college or university.

Q—I am taking flight training under the Korean GI Bill. Because of bad weather, I did not receive any instruction at all last month. Will I get my VA allowance all the same?

A—No. Flight trainees do not receive GI allowances for any month during which they received no instruction.

Q—I am planning to take a carpentry course under the Korean GI Bill. It is being offered by a school that requires a predominance of shop work. How many hours a week would I have to go to be considered a full-time student?

A—Full-time training in a trade course requiring shop practice is at least 30 hours a week for at least five days a week, with no more than two and one-half hours of rest periods each week.

Q—I was separated from service in May, 1952. What is my deadline for starting training under the Korean GI Bill?

A—Your deadline comes in May, 1955 — exactly three years from the date of your separation from active service.

A little insanity in the family comes in good when a member commits a violent crime.

Child's Play—What Good Is It?

Adults watching active children at play may wonder about what they see. Why is there such a compelling urge to play? Should life be all play and no work for our children? Does play really have any value?

One experienced kindergarten teacher sums it up this way. "Play is a child's tool for learning. It teaches him how to talk, plan, cooperate, sympathize; it satisfies his curiosity; and it makes his body strong through vigorous muscular activity."

For three to six-year-old children, play is work and work is play. They love make-believe, building, running, touching, seeing, and trying. They are not ready for organized games. They need materials that they can manipulate, supplies that they can use in their own way, and space for active play.

From six to eight years of age children are interested in their immediate environment and in the immediate present. Play in school means small groups working together on ideas that are important to them. There is plan and purpose, and organization underneath it all and learning comes easier through play situations.

From nine through twelve years of age, children's interests expand to far away places and backward in time. At the same time they are becoming more aware of the realities of the present, and their social responsibilities. Friends are important. Every child needs the give and take involved in gaining and keeping friends. At this age there is special emphasis on rules, on being fair and on doing things the "right" way.

Play is the legal way to be someone you are not, doing what you cannot do. Given space, play things, materials and playmates, there are no limits to imagination. All children need the opportunity to express their feelings, and to act out their understandings of life's relationships through play.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

CHARLES T. BUCKMAN, 2804 W. Front Street, Alhambra, California, about twelve years ago, was managing a large super market in Memphis, Tennessee—and he was about to become a nervous wreck from worry. He worried about everything. If business was good, he worried about how to get enough merchandise to take care of it. If it was bad, he worried about how he was going to get rid of the merchandise he had on hand. Then there were ration stamps, coffee and sugar stamps, government forms and regulations to keep up with.

He got to the point where he couldn't sleep, ate with little or no relish, and he was so cross and irritable around his home that he says he wonders how his wife ever put up with him.

Came the days he was to go on his vacation, and his supervisor happened in before he got away. And nothing pleased him. He thought Mr. Buckman should stay over another day. But Mr. Buckman thought, "I must get out of this before I go crazy." And that is just what he did. He resigned right then.

When he got home, even though he was out of work, he felt wonderfully free, as if a heavy weight had been lifted from his shoulders. Right then he decided there would be no more worrying on his part; that it just wasn't worth it.

He went out and got himself another job, and when he got off from work in the afternoon he went home—and the job stayed there.

In his new work he carries a lot of responsibility and has a lot of important decisions to make. He makes them as quickly as possible and to the best of his ability. If he finds them right, fine; if wrong, he says to himself that others have been wrong before so he doesn't worry about it.

Cathedral Sextet to Face Prowlers Thursday Evening

Twice-postponed Season Opener Will Be Played on Arena Ice at 8 p. m.

Coach Dennis Roll's hockey Prowlers, after twice having their schedule opener postponed because of lack of ice, will finally get the 1954-55 slate under way on Thursday night, Dec. 30th, when they meet coach Sergio Gambucci's ever-dangerous Crookston Cathedral sextet on the Arena rink. Face-off time is scheduled for 8:00 p. m.

The Prowlers, who are the defending state high school champions, will be out after their 22nd consecutive hockey victory. The locals' win string was started in 1953 when they defeated Williams, 6 to 2, in an eighth regional consolation game. Last year, in winning the regional and state titles, the Prowlers won twenty games, to bring their winning streak to twenty-one games.

With the completion of the ice sheet in the Arena, hockey coach Rolle has been sending his young and inexperienced squad through strenuous drills and practice sessions. In an effort to give the Prowlers game-experience, coach Rolle has engaged the Thieves' locals and the home-for-Christmas former Prowlers in informal scrimmages.

FARMERS and the new Social Security program starting Jan. 1

In this final article for farm families, we should like to summarize some of the action points discussed in previous articles.

1. The self-employed farm operator's first report of his net earnings will be for the year 1955 and will be due on or before April 15, 1956. If gross income for the year is expected to be over $1800, a detailed record of farm income and expenses should be kept for report purposes. His own Social Security tax will be 3 per cent of net earnings reported from $400 to $4,200, inclusive.

2. Each farm operator should keep a record of the name and Social Security Account Number of and the cash wages paid to an employee, regardless of age, excepting Mexican contract laborers, British West Indies workers, and those members of the immediate family falling within the "Family Employment" exclusion in the law. He should withhold 2 percent from total wages amounting to $100 during the year and up to $4200, add 2 percent as his own contribution, and include the above information on his Employee Social Security Tax Return to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

3. Each farm operator and employee must have a Social Security card. Applications for cards may be obtained at any local post office or from the Social Security District Office in Grand Forks, North Dakota where original (or duplicate) cards are secured.

4. A leaflet entitled "Facts for Farm Families" will be sent by the District Office upon request to those who want further information about the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act as they relate to Farm Coverage.

Year-End Memories

The most memorable of the year's athletic events was, without any quibble or argument, the winning of the 1954 state high school hockey championship by coach Dennis Rolle's Prowlers. That was number one.

Prowler high school hockey squads, in the years to come, will undoubtedly win state hockey titles, but these championships will never have quite the "glow" that this first one produced.

The 7500 fans that were in attendance at the state championship finals last February between the Eveleth Golden Bears and the Prowlers will long remember the highlights of that classic game. Marv Jorde, ramming in a close shot late in the first period gave the Prowlers a 1 to 0 lead; and then, midway in the second period, Lyle Guttu, after taking a pass in center-ice from Mike McMahon, split the Eveleth defense, recovered the puck, and beat goalie Tom Beste with a corner shot from close in. With a couple of minutes of the period remaining Guttu and Jorde added "insurance" goals, and with a 4 to 0 lead entering the third and final period it was evident that the Prowlers were 'in'. Bob Kochevar's blue-line shot, waist-high, eluded goalie Jack Hoppe and gave Eveleth their lone tally, with the Prowlers winning by a 4 to 1 score.

Let's call the roll of those twelve Prowlers that comprised coach Rolle's tournament squad: goalies Jack Hoppe and Rod Collins; defensemen Mike McMahon, Jim Zavoral and Les Sabo; centers Marv Jorde and Joey Poole; and wings Lyle Guttu, Sid Vraa, Bob Helgeland, Darryl Durgin, and Jack Quesnell.

We'll wager that this 1954 Prowler championship team will be used as a "yard stick" for many years to come, and they'll be the team with which future Minnesota state champions will be compared.

Sid Vraa

On the individual level, Loren Sid Vraa made 1954 an eventful year, for the Prowler all-state football player established a new season scoring record—131 points—and a new individual game scoring record—34 points.

While we applauded the touchdown scoring splurge that Sid produced for the fans on Crookston's wind-swept Highland Park gridiron that late October night, we were more impressed by Vraa's stellar defensive play against the Bemidji Lumberjacks. Against the Crookston Pirates, Sid sprinted through and around the bewildered Pirate tacklers for five touchdowns and, adding four placekick coversions, and a new Prowler scoring record.

The week previous to the Crookston tilt, the Prowlers played the Bemidji Lumberjacks at Bemidji, and lost, 25 to 0. Vraa's offensive efforts against the alert and agile Lumberjacks were quite futile, but it was on defense that Sid proved himself to be of all-state stature.

Big Art

In leading the Prowlers to their third successive district 31 basketball title, big Art Johnson, a six-foot, five-inch center, scrambled the Prowler scoring records. Art, who is now attending Concordia College, and proving to be a valuable member of the Cobber varsity, in a game played here last February against Crookston, scored 14 field goals and 5 free throws, marking up 33 points for a school single game record. And during the season, in 23 games, Art rolled 482 points through the Prowler basket, that mark also being a new record.

Big Bill

It was quite a sight for the senior hockey fans when they saw Bill Juzda, the old pro, make his first appearance in a Thieves' uniform. Remember the crunching body-check that he handed out to Roseau's Jim Zarie? Zarie thought that he had skated into one of the Arena's steel girders—and he wasn't far wrong at that.

Juzda rates as the biggest hockey "name" to perform in the Northwest Hockey league, for big Bill played eight seasons in the National Hockey league, and twice was a member of a Stanley Cup winner.

Temper

A very small gallery was in attendance as Brownie McGrady, Wally DuChamp and Phil LeGault came trudging up to the 9th green one afternoon last August. But that gallery was a witness to the fact that Phil, with a 13-inch putt to win a four-hole carry-over and bridge bid, missed. Phil then established a club-tossing record when he heaved his putter all the way from the 9th green over the trees, and to the number one tee-off. Such temper.

Commission Advises Reduced P. P. Taxes for Manufacturers

Reduced personal property taxes for manufacturing companies were recommended by the Minnesota Tax Study Commission today. The commission said such action would promote expansion of present industries and encourage new ones to come into the state.

It believes the result would be more jobs, more taxpaying companies, a general improvement in Minnesota's economic situation and consequent benefits to the entire population.

The commission found that business taxes generally in Minnesota are higher than in competing states, but the most oppressive to manufacturing is the personal property tax. It said the Legislature previously has provided some tax relief for farmers, oil refineries and the taconite industry. These concessions are described as comparable to the reductions now proposed for manufacturers.

Some new method of raising revenue will have to be adopted to replace losses to local governments if the tax on manufacturers is cut as proposed, the commission said. It did not say what this new method should be, but specified that any replacement tax "should be spread fairly and equitably over all the people of the state."

Minnesota manufacturers will pay about 15 million dollars in personal property taxes this year. This tax is assessed against tools and machinery used in production, and against inventory stocks raw or finished materials on hand as of May 1. The legal tax rate is levied against 33 1-3 per cent of the assessed value of both machinery and inventory.

The Tax Study commission recommends that this schedule be changed to 20 per cent of assessed value for tools and machinery and to 10 per cent of assessed value of inventories. It did not say how much of a reduction in total taxes would result.

Several precedents were given for the proposed action. The state tax classification law of 1913 taxed farmers' livestock on 33 1-3 per cent of its full and true value. Farm machinery was taxed on 40 per cent of value, as were agricultural products in the hands of the producer. Later the Legislature decided this was too burdensome on agriculture. Today farm livestock, tools and machinery are taxed on 20 per cent of their value. Agricultural products in the hands of the producer are taxed on 10 per cent of value.

The 20 per cent and 10 per cent figures are the same as the Commission recommends for taxing manufacturing machinery and inventories.

Another example of tax concession cited by the study group applies to oil refineries. The Legislature cut the classification rate on oil refinery real estate from 40 per cent of full value to 27 per cent. It cut the oil refinery personal property classification from 33 1-3 per cent to 17 per cent of full and true value.

Comparable low tax rates were established for taconite.

The commission said that as a consequence of tax concessions, "oil companies have erected and projected in Minnesota refineries costing several million dollars, which will add to employment as well as serving to increase the tax base." It noted that the taconite industry has been encouraged to make large investments in the state.

Part of the commission's report deals with the relative importance of taxation on the location of business enterprises. It says it is improbable that any company has moved out of Minnesota or any other state solely because of high taxes. However, it adds that taxes are one factor considered in business location and expansion plans, and may be the determining factor in a close decision.

"If a manufacturer is considering locating a branch plant in southern Minnesota," the erport says, "he will very likely compare the state and local taxes he will have to pay with those imposed by Iowa, Illinois and probably Missouri. According to data submitted to this Commission, Minnesota would have to offer some rather important advantage to offset the higher taxes required in this state under the existing tax structure."

Facts gathered by the Commission "indicate that in Minnesota higher state and local taxes are applied to manufacturing operations in all categories than is the case in some competing states."

Frank Blair Quits Game & Fish Post

Has Served Minnesota for More Than 30 Years

Resignation of Frank D. Blair, veteran director of the division of game and fish, of the state conservation department, effective December 31, was announced today by Chester S. Wilson, commissioner of conservation. Blair announced his intention to resign some time ago, to take a needed rest and devote his time to less strenuous activities.

"Frank Blair's resignation marks the end of a notable career of public service in conservation," Commissioner Wilson stated. "After early experience in private game work in Pennsylvania and Minnesota, followed by ten years in charge of similar activities for the old state game and fish department and a short period in private business, Blair was recalled to state service to take charge of the game bureau for the division of game and fish under the new consolidated conservation department in 1933. He has been working for the department ever since, making a total of over 30 years in state service in conservation work.

"During World War II he served as acting director of game and fish. In 1946 he was appointed director of the division, and continued in that position until his resignation.

"No plans have been made regarding a successor," Wilson stated. "That matter will be left for action under the new administration."

FU Grain Terminal Convention Draws over 5,000 People

Annual Meeting Last Week in St. Paul Votes Fight on Present Farm Program

Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association, largest regional grain marketing cooperative in the nation, wound up its seventeenth annual meeting in St. Paul, December 15, pledged to an all-out campaign to save America's family farms.

This action came after an appeal by M. W. Thatcher, general manager of the huge cooperative, for the grain farmers of the Northwest to lead the fight for creation of a sound farm program which would be acceptable to consumers and farmers alike.

A record crowd of more than 5,000 was on hand for the GTA convention, biggest farm gathering in the nation. The three-day session—December 13 to 15—was in the St. Paul Municipal Auditorium.

First step in the vital family farm program, Thatcher said, should be to provide the general public with complete information as to "how and why" farm income has dropped 18 percent in the last four years.

The veteran GTA leader proposed a $2 to $4 million educational program aimed at reversing the farm policies of the Eisenhower Administration. The proposal won unanimous preliminary approval of the convention, and now will be presented to the local co-op elevator associations and line elevators which own GTA. Thatcher declared he hoped to have the huge information effort, which will use radio, television and the printed word, underway in a few months.

The resolution approved by the convention urged an expanded peace-time farm program which would safeguard the income of all American agriculture. The resolution also condemned the flexible supports 1954 Farm Act and urged its repeal.

Predict 8 Deaths in State Traffic During Week-end

Eight Minnesotans who were fortunate enough to avoid fatal accidents last week-end will be killed in traffic mishaps during the coming New Year Day week end. That is the fate in store for them, according to Earl M Larimer, state director of highway safety, if motorists drive and pedestrians walk as they have in ushering in the New Year.

"It is all too evident," said Larimer, "That too many people think that intemperate drinking, reckless driving and careless walking are necessary companents of a New Year's celebration. That is why the record of the past five years shows that a total of 39 motorists and pedestrians had no opportunity to enjoy living in the new years that they were ushering in so gaily."

Not only will there be a predicted eight deaths, but an alarming and wholly unnecessary rash of personal injuries and thousands of dollars of property damage will be suffered during the coming week end, he stated. On the basis of past performances, Larimer ventured the following predictions:

There will be close to 700 reported motor vehicles, in which some 250 motorists and pedestrians will receive injuries and approximately 550 motor vehicles will be damaged or destroyed.

Alexander, president of the Hennepin County Republican club, and W. N. Bennett, president of the Lincoln club of St. Paul.

The two clubs are speatheading the movement for the "friends of Burnquist" testimonial banquet. The Union will seat about 1,200 persons at dinner.

Aaron Youngquist, former Assistant Attorney General of the United States, is slated to be toastmaster. Federal Judge Sanborn will introduce Mr. Burnquist. Other speakers will include representatives from various groups with which the "General" has been prominently identified or to which he has rendered special outstanding services during his nearly half century career as legislator, governor, and attorney general.

Mr. Burnquist served as Governor during the first World War. During his second term he called a special session of the legislature to enact the first soldier's bonus law in the United States. He was also a sponsor of the law granting women full voting rights in the state of Minnesota.

GOOD AND BAD

Quite an argument is getting under way over the question of Minnesota's financial condition. Some say it is bad and others say it is good. Strangely enough, both sides may be right.

Those who contend that the state is in a strong financial position can properly point to huge trust funds and reduced indebtedness. Few states are in better condition in these respects than Minnesota.

But those who state that we face an extremely difficult financial problem can justify their concern by pointing to the depleted reserves in the general revenue and income tax funds. Just to maintain the present level of spending is going to require substantial tax increases, and if there is increased spending as demanded by the pressure groups, there will have to be still bigger tax increases.

For those who will have to come up with the answers in terms of appropriations and tax levies for the next two years, the state's present financial condition is not good.

FRANK BLAIR RETIRES

Announcement of Frank Blair's resignation as director of the division of game and fish does not come as a surprise to his many friends throughout the state. He has a long record of state service to his credit and his retirement was expected regardless of the outcome of the election.

Blair started his career in game management in Pennsylvania in 1908 and was brought to Minnesota in 1915 under the sponsorship of a group of prominent sportsmen. During the nearly forty years of his service in this state practically all of our present game and fish management program has been established and much of what has been accomplished can be attributed to his leadership.

As director of the division of game and fish he has had one of the most difficult political assignments in the state. A division director is a member of a team over which there is a captain who issues the orders, and over whom there is a governor. At times that team has been controlled too much from the governor's office and sound administration sometimes has been forced to yield to political considerations. In an office that always has been a political hot potato Frank Blair has done a commendable job and with his retirement will come a greater appreciation of his contribution which was not always recognized during the many controversial years of his service.

THE COURAGE TO BE PATIENT

French ratification of the treaty that establishes West Germany as an independent nation and a full partner in the North Atlantic Treaty organization is a most heartening conclusion to the diplomatic record of the year 1954. The fact that the Soviet leaders went all-out in a threatening effort to influence the French against such action indicates how severe a blow this ratification is to Russian plans and prestige.

The free nations have had a few setbacks during the past year but the general condition is vastly improved thruout the world. Peaceful solutions have been found for a half dozen problems that were highly explosive. In recent months our country has strengthened its position in international affairs a great deal and this no doubt is due in a large measure to the restraint of those who speak for us.

Particularly encouraging was the following statement by President Eisenhower at a recent press conference. This declaration of the peaceful intentions of our country has been well received in countries that have been inclined to look upon us with suspicion.

> "Traditionally, if we get into trouble that involves war, the nation closes ranks behind the leader, the job to do becomes simply understood, it is to win the war. There is a real fervor developed throughout the nation that you can feel everywhere you go. There is practically an exhilaration about the affair.
> "But, ladies and gentlemen, I have also had the job of writing letters of condolence by the hundreds, by the thousands, to bereaved mothers and wives.
>
> "That is a very sobering experience, and it means that if we are going ever to take such a fateful decision as leads us one step toward war, let us, by no means, do it in response to our human emotions of anger and resentment, but let's do it after we have prayerfully considered it and found, as Wilson expressed it, 'no other means of protecting our rights.'
>
> "Let us recognize that we owe it to ourselves and to the world to explore every possible peaceable means of settling differences before we even think of such a thing as war.
>
> "And the hard way is to have the courage to be patient, tirelessly to seek out every single angle open to us in the hope even finally of leading the other side to a little better understanding of the honesty of our intentions."

Our state parks did a record volume of business this year with a big increase in the revenue from the sale of entry stickers. During the two seasons such stickers have been sold $177,000 has been collected from this source and it apparently is not going to take long to repay the loan of $450,000 that was authorized to make possible an extensive improvement program without hitting the general taxpayer. Nearly half of the park visitors were from out of the state.

The official crop reporters estimate another big increase in hog and turkey production next year and are predicting an abundance of low-priced meat for the consumers in 1955. That is not good news from the producers' standpoint. All agree it isn't good but no one seems to have a workable solution for the production control problem in these commodities.

FAMILY AFFAIRS

Public delight is teachers' dilemma, observes Slayton Herald in picturing what may be a world's record accumulation of twins: Thirteen sets of twins are enrolled in Slayton public schools this year.—Kerry Donald Kappel, West St. Paul baby, has four living great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horner of Rosemount, Mrs. John Kellerman and Mrs. Alex Tauring.—Mr. and Mrs. Philip Adelmann, Farmington, share a December 20 birthday and now little Mary Theresa makes it a three-cornered affair.—No time to waste, especially during the Holidays, figured Mrs. Rose Smith of Fairmont, who addressed Holiday Greetings while sitting under a beauty shop dryer.

As the New Year scenes unfold, we hope they picture the "tops" in good fortune and good health for you and your family. May each coming season be laden with joy and delight . . . each day be filled with peace and contentment. We wish to extend our very best wishes for the New Year to all of our friends.

New Year's resolution that pays off in thrills . . .

"I'm going to drive that 1955 BUICK!"

We've seen some high peaks of interest in our new cars over the years—but never anything like this.

Since the day we unveiled these glamorous new Buicks, people have been coming in—not only to see and study and sit in these great cars—but, very definitely, to drive them.

They want, it seems, a firsthand taste of the thrills that Buick engineers have conjured up for this new year.

And who can blame them?

For the word's around that Buick has what no other car has—a new kind of performance from a new kind of transmission.

It's called Variable Pitch Dynaflow Drive.* It uses the principle of the modern airplane's variable pitch propeller. And it does in oil what that aeronautical marvel does in air.

At one pitch of the blades inside the Dynaflow unit, you get more fuel efficiency in normal cruising and driving—which means better gas mileage, pure and simple.

But push the gas pedal beyond the full throttle position and you switch the pitch. Instantly, you get electrifying response—a sudden safety-surge of accelerating power to get you quickly out of a tight spot—and with the absolute smoothness that is constant in Dynaflow Drive.

Maybe you, too, have made a mental resolution to drive a '55 Buick—but why wait?

We're ready, willing and eager to let you try one—feel the spectacular new power that gives life to this bounteous beauty—and see for yourself that here is a performance thrill too exciting to miss. Drop in on us this week, won't you?

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

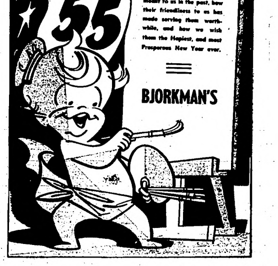
about this question
Our wish for you in the New Year is all the success and happiness you can possibly have. However, each of us is realistic enough to know that joy and sorrow are always mixed. In order to minimize the financial loss in any adversity that may come, protect your loved ones and yourself by being adequately insured against all your risks. In this way only can you be assured of a New Year as happy as possible.
HAPPY NEW YEAR



IT'S TIME . . .
once more to tell these swell folks, our customers, how much their patronage has meant to us in the past, how their friendliness to us has made serving them worthwhile, and how we wish them the Hapiest, and most Prosperous New Year ever.
BJORKMAN'S

HAPPY NEW YEAR
HAPPY NEW YEAR
HAPPY NEW YEAR
HAPPY NEW YEAR
1955

Ring out the old year, ring in the new—but before we ring the old year out, we, the business and professional people of Thief River Falls, wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors of the community for the many favors that have been extended to us in 1954.

Primitive people lived self-sufficient lives. They supplied their own simple needs as best they could. In our complex civilization we live by an exchange of services and are dependent upon each other. We are united by many bonds of common interest, financially and socially.

Ours is a young community with many of the problems that come with healthy growth and development. Our local economy is founded on a highly diversified and expanding agriculture. Our city is geared to the needs of the large and substantial farming area it serves.

We know that, as a community, there are problems ahead of us; that things are not always going to be as we would wish them to be. But there are no difficulties ahead of us that, with courage and good judgement, we cannot surmount, and we have reason to look to the future with confidence.

And at this season of the year, with its appropriate greetings and good wishes, we resolve to continue our efforts to make Thief River Falls not only a good place in which to buy and to sell but above all to make it a good community in which to live.

May the New Year Bring You A Full Measure of Happiness

$26,000,000 Paid in '54 to State Jobless

The purchasing power of Minnesota wage and salary workers was buttressed in 1954 by the payment of an estimated $26,700,000 as unemployment compensation benefits, according to Commissioner F. W. Nichols, of the department of employment security, who Thursday reviewed the effect of unemployment this year on the state's job insurance reserves. Benefit payments in 1954 were substantially higher than during any of the other 16 years that the program has been in operation.

This year benefits topped the previous high of $15,600,000 in 1950, by $11,100,000 or 71 per cent. They are about 150 per cent higher than the $11,000,000 paid in 1953 and a little more than 100 per cent over the $13,300,000 paid out in 1949, a previous "bad" year.

Even so, Nichols said, Minnesota goes into 1955 with substantial reserves. On Jan. 1 the state's unemployment compensation fund, out of which benefits are paid, will contain $121,700,000. At the beginning of 1954, the fund totaled $133,900,000. Thus, the reserve has declined but $12,200,000 because employers during the year have paid in about $11,400,000. In addition about $3,000,000 in interest on the fund was received from the U. S. Treasury. In Minnesota all "UC" taxes are paid by employers.

Nichols pointed out that the cost to Minnesota employers of the job insurance program is about three-fourths of one per cent of covered payrolls and ranks among the lowest in the states of the nation.

Non-farm payrolls in the state this year are estimated at $2,967,400,000. This total, second highest in the history of the state, is $43,200,000 below 1953, the high year. When the $26,700,000 paid in benefits this year is deducted from the decline in total payroll dollars, the drop in the buying power of the state's workers amounts to but $16,500,000, slightly more than one-half of one per cent of the nearly $3,000,000,000 payrolls total.

The 1954 benefit payments are comparable to the total payroll of an establishment having 7,525 employees, working full time during the year, at the average annual 1954 salary of $3,548. It would more than double the payrolls for the year in cities the size of Bemidji, Fairmont or Crookston.

One or more benefit checks have been issued to 130,000 workers. The figure indicates, Nichols said, the extent to which unemployment compensation has become of pocket book importance in the state's economy.

The average weekly benefit amount in 1954 was $22.19, $3.91 more than the 1953 average of $18.28. The 1950 and 1949 averages were $17.94 and $16.45 respectively.

While increased unemployment was a major factor in the 1954 increase, as compared with 1953, other influences that increased the dollar total were the higher benefit schedule authorized by the 1953 Legislature which became fully effective this year, the longer duration of periods of unemployment and generally higher average earnings.

During 1954 there were 21,000 claimants who exhausted their benefit rights. This is about 20 per cent of those to whom benefits were paid.

Village of Roseau to Run Hospital Starting Jan. 1st

New Association Buys Former Budd Hospital; First Payment $60,000

The Roseau community hospital is now a fact. Not only are buildings, grounds, supplies and equipment the complete property of the Roseau Community Hospital association, but the new administration is taking over factually, January 1, at which time Mrs. Chapman becomes administrator and Mrs. Albert Olson bookeeper, says the Roseau Times Region.

The contract, a signed purchaser's agreement, was officially concluded last week when the hospital board met with Mrs. Budd and signatures were affixed to official papers.

The agreement gives the association 21 years to pay at the rate of $5,000.00 a year plus interest on the balance of $107,500.00. Approximately $10,000.00 will be paid in 1955, the board members say. This will complete the down payment of $60,000.00. To date over $40,000.00 has been paid on the hospital.

Mrs. Chapman will hire the necessary personnel to run the hospital efficiently and will begin to make gradual improvements in the hospital facilities.

In this respect it was pointed out that organizations wishing to furnish or decorate a room as a group project are most heartily welcome to contact the board with their aims. In many places this procedure has added a great deal to pleasant surroundings and patient comfort.

Pledges are continuing to be paid up with several notable contributions made this week. Dr. J. L. Delmore, Sr., made $5,000.00 available to the Community hospital. Dr. Oliver Olafson, Minneapolis, contributed $100.00 and a number of sizeable memorials are being received. I. B. Hartz, Thief River Falls, contributed $1,000.00.

Crop yields per acre of American farms have improved more during and since World War II than in the previous sixty years.

The U. S. automotive industry has produced 136 million motor vehicles in 54 years—47 million of them since World War II.

Says Minnesota People Pay More Than Average Tax

Tax Study Group Says State Is Fifth Highest In Relation to Income

"It is an inescapable fact that the citizens of Minnesota bear an above average tax burden in relation to their income," the Minnesota Tax Study Commission reported today.

The group found that property taxes are above average for this region, sales taxes are below average and the state income tax is "very high." However, it declared that "the Minnesota income tax places a very light burden on the low income group," referring to those earning less than $5,000 a year. The study that the state "has been much more considerate of the low income group than the federal government," so far as income taxes are concerned.

Approximately 30 per cent of Minnesota taxpayers—those with a gross income of $5,000 or more—pay more than 70 per cent of normal individual state income taxes.

The report cites a study by the United States Department of Commerce which shows that Minnesota is the fifth highest state in the burden of state and local taxes in proportion to per capita income. This means that "state and local taxes in Minnesota will take a relatively greater proportion of the average individual's income than will be true in 43 other states." The study group adds that statistics support the contention that "Minnesota collects a below average proportion of its governmental revenue by primary imposts on the individual and more of it by indirect taxes on business."

Among 12 Midwest states, the report shows that Minnesota farmers pay the second highest real estate taxes per $100 of valuation. Five of these states have a higher tax per acre.

A majority of the study commission members declined to support proposals for exempting farm buildings from taxation and for adoption of a "progressive" land tax—the greater the acreage owned, the higher the tax rate per acre.

Previously the Commission has stated that farm lands generally are assessed at a higher proportion of their true value than lake shore property and real estate in smaller cities and towns. This tends to put a higher tax burden on the farms.

Marshall County Seeks Bridge over Red River at Oslo

Minnesota and North Dakota Highway Depts. As Asked to Build Span

Pressure is being brought to bear to secure a new inter-state bridge across the Red River of the North as a result of action of the Marshall county board of commissioners in special session Friday, December 17.

The bridge would be entirely a state project both in Minnesota and North Dakota with the county boards of both Marshall and Walsh counties requesting action from their respective state highway departments.

The present bridge, built as a draw-bridge in 1912 but never used as such, is too narrow, unsafe and has poor S-shaped approaches which are a hazard to traffic. The Oslo Community club has also requested action on the proposal.

From all indications it appears that the bridge could be built in 1956, according to present plans, with preliminary work scheduled to start next year, according to unofficial sources.

The Marshall county board resolved that being that the present bridge is so located and constructed as to be obsolete for modern traffic and has deteriorated by age so as to be in a dangerous condition and beyond repair.

Services Included in Grocery Bill

Little Prospect of Lower Prices in 1955

When you pay your grocery bill, you're paying not only for food but for many marketing services that save time and labor in the home.

Because so many foods on retail markets now include service costs, the family's grocery bill will not be much lower in 1955 than in 1954, even though there may be drops in the price of some plentiful foods, says Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota.

Marketing charges included with food purchases are not expected to drop in the coming year, according to food economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The largest share of these charges is for labor. About five million workers are employed in getting agricultural food products from farm to consumer. The butcher, the baker and all others who assemble, transport, process, package and distribute food products get a share of the family's food dollar.

Families are now buying less of the farmer's food crops in the rough form and more in the finished or partially finished form. For example, most of the wheat sold by farmers used to be purchased as flour but now most of it is sold to families as bread or other bakery products, Mrs. Loomis points out.

As families have less domestic help and as more women combine wage earning with doing their own housework, industry has taken over much of the food preparation formerly done in the home. Markets now sell ready-to-cook poultry, vegetables that have been washed, trimmed and packaged, frozen precooked dinners and mixes for cakes, other baked products and puddings. Today's families show a preference for these ready-prepared foods that save time and labor but cost more than the home prepared.

THE HOUR PASSES

It is past midnight, and I must go. For this is the New Year, and I am the Old.

Some call me Father Time.

Some cringe from me, and are glad to see me leave.

Others have learned to know me for what I am. They take advantage of every golden hour, and the rule by which they live is golden too . . . doing unto others what they would have others do unto them. These are the ones who believe . . . whose lives are rich in Faith, based upon God's teaching.

If every man would make a single resolution, this New Year . . . if he would resolve to attend his Church and to base his life upon its principles . . . the meaning of fear would vanish from the earth and, under God's benediction, the world would move toward peace.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DISTANT PAST

Some relatives expected last Christmas were delayed, so Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Olson, Blomford, kept their tree up. Months came and went, still no relatives. When the guests arrived in September tree and presents were still intact so the tree was kept on duty and is cheerfully serving again this Christmas.—In 1913, twelve years after her marriage, Mrs. Martha Schwanter lost her wedding ring while picking corn near Wabasso; this Christmas month 41 years later the ring was found by the loser herself, now 73, while feeding her chickens.—A 32-foot canoe 31 inches wide, hollowed from a white pine log with sides about an inch and a quarter thick, was found by an Oliver iron miner in Thousand Island lake and is believed to be of great archeological value.

1955

May the pages of the New Year tell a story of happiness and success for you and your family. We have enjoyed our pleasant association with you in 1954—and look forward to seeing you and serving you often in 1955.

Fire Losses for City Hit $50,000 During Past Year

Compares with $10,725 in 1953, $2,775 in 1952 and $104,000 for 1951

The Thief River Falls fire department responded to 65 alarms in 1954, with a total of just under $50,000 in damage resulting from the blazes. The figure is substantially higher than the losses of $10,725 sustained in 1953 and $2,775 in 1952, but is less than half the total of $104,000 in losses suffered in 1951.

Accounting for more than half of the 1954 total was the fire that destroyed the Pure Oil Co. station October 19, with a loss of $29,500. Second heaviest loss resulted from a fire March 21 in the R. G. Berger home at 710 St. Paul av. S., and third largest was the $7,000 loss July 9 in the Alvin Dahlstrom home at 715 Atlantic av.

Other losses included $3,000 damage to the Land O'Lakes warehouse on Davis av. at Fourth st. February 25; $800 at the Carlie Johnson home, 623 Horace av. N., September 9; and $250 at the John Anderson home, 314 Conley av. S. October 27.

Nominal damage resulted from a score of minor blazes, including chimney fires, flooded oil burners, overheated electric motors and grass fires.

The last call of the old year came from the Richard Peterson home on Greenwood blvd. Thursday afternoon, when a pan of grease caught fire and scorched the kitchen ceiling and cupboards before being extinguished.

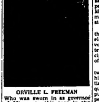
Mar[illegible]all County to Vo[illegible] on Liquor Sale N[illegible] Monday, Jan. 10

T[illegible] over Today



ORVILLE L. FREEMAN

Who was sworn in as governor of Minnesota this noon in the state capitol in St. Paul by Chief Justice Roger Dell of the supreme court. He succeeds C. Elmer Anderson.

Much interest is being shown in the county-wide liquor election, scheduled in Marshall county for Monday, January 10th, when voters of the county will again register their votes on the following question: "Shall the sale of intoxicating liquors be permitted within the County of Marshall, through the establishment of municipal liquor stores?"

The question is the same as that submitted in the special election of August, 1947, when voters of Marshall county registered their disapproval of municipal liquor sales by a margin of approximately 600 votes.

Publicity campaigns of the two opposing forces swung into high gear last week, with advertisements for both sides of the question being given widespread publicity through the newspapers of the county.

The "dry" cause is being espoused by the Marshall County Anti-Liquor League, of which Dan Warnes of Stephen is chairman, while the "wet" forces are headed up by the Marshall County Citizens Committee for Economic Progress and Legal Control, of which Bob Filipi of Warren and Gayle LaFond of Argyle are the co-chairmen.

Wets are promoting their cause along the lines of "legal control" and "you have it now — why not make it legal," while the dry forces will concentrate their attack on the moral angles involved and the incidence of liquor involvement in the increase of crime and juvenile delinquency.

Legislature's Liberals Rule Lower House

Benson Man Is Elected Speaker by 1-vote Margin as Session Opens

By the narrowest possible margin, liberals took control of the organization in the house of representatives Tuesday as the Minnesota legislature opened its 59th session in St. Paul.

Rep. A. I. Johnson, Benson liberal, was elected speaker over Rep. John Hartle, Owatonna, who had held the post under conservative control for the last three sessions, by a vote of 66-65.

Every member of the House was present—for the first time in many opening sessions.

As speaker, Johnson will preside over the House and will name members of standing committees. He said he expected to announce committee appointments before the end of the week.

The election—which gave liberals control for the first time since 1937—was not decided until the last vote was cast. The vote stood 65-65 when the name of Rep. Florence Yetka, Cloquet, last on the alphabetical list, was called.

Yetka voted for Johnson, whose liberal supporters immediately surrounded him and escorted him to the rostrum.

With Gov. Orville Freeman looking on from a seat beside the rostrum, senators chose Sen. Val Imm, Mankato conservative, as their president pro tempore. He was elected over Sen. B. G. Novak, St. Paul liberal, 46-18.

Taking over as presiding officer in the Senate Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, Rochester, a Democratic-Farmer-Laborite told the Senators that "with understanding and cooperation we will move forward to a successful session."

Rolvaag and members of the Senate were sworn in by Chief Justice Roger Dell.

Welfare Board Served Many in County in 1954

Board Paid out $360,000 Last Year, an Increase of $18,000 over 1953

One out of every 12 persons in Pennington county received either financial aid or some other type of service from the county welfare board in 1954, John X. Lynskey, executive secretary, stated this week.

1954 marked the first year of active participation by the board in extending social service and collection work to the mentally ill. Aided considerably by the cooperation extended by the probate judge and sheriff, definite progress was made toward the shortening of the patients' stay at the mental institutions.

Under the new legislation which went into effect in 1954, the board was able to provide the arrangements for the return of several persons from Fergus Falls who otherwise would still

Eddy Ruhl, Tenor, to Appear in Concert Thursday Next Week

The second concert of the series presented this year by Northwest Concert association will feature tenor Eddy Ruhl, to be heard here at 8:15 p. m. Thursday, January 13, in Lincoln high school auditorium.

Ruhl is one of the truly international voices in the concert world today. A native of Washington, D. C., he has been received with the same great enthusiasm on both sides of the Atlantic. His voice was responsible for some two million dollars worth of war bond sales during World War II. After his tour of duty with the army, he had the honor of being the only foreign artist to appear in St. Peter's Church in Rome for a world-wide radio broadcast.

The handsome young star has been the favorite of many of the most respected musical figures in American music history. He was a protege of Mme. Schumann-Heink, and other famous people like Rosa Ponselle, Lawrence Tibbett and Nicola Moscona have felt that he had one of the world's finest voices. Arturo Toscanini said that Ruhl had a "Beautiful voice—thrilling quality."

Since the war he has been saluted by the most critical opera audiences in the world in Torino, Milano and Florence and before concert audiences in Athens, Naples and other leading cultural centers of Europe.

After his return to the United States in 1952, Ruhl reaffirmed his place as a leader in music circles with appearances in New York and throughout eastern United States concert halls.

The young tenor is appearing on tour in the upper midwest throughout January under the direction of the University of Minnesota concert, theatre, and lecture service.

TB Test Program Being Organized in Local Schools

Dr. Flancher of Sunnyrest Sanatorium in Crookston Will Give Mantoux Tests

A tuberculin testing program is now being organized in the Thief River Falls schools, Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, stated today. Dr. E. H. Flancher, public health field director with the newly reorganized Sunnyrest sanatorium at Crookston, has offered his services in conducting an all-school Mantoux testing survey.

Pennington county has been fortunate in having a low tuberculosis case rate, said Mrs. Race, but that does not mean the job is done. In the past four years, she added, there have been two cases in the local school system, while in Minnesota in 1953 there were 2,080 new cases.

Consent slips will be sent home with each pupil during the next few days, and parents wishing to have their child tested are asked to sign the slip and return it immediately to the school.

"Mantoux testing is a simple procedure," said Mrs. Race, "and it is a comfort to know that your child does not have the tuberculosis germ in his body. Early discovery of infectious cases and prevention of the spread of the disease is the keystone of TB control. The program has been approved by the local medical profession."

Young Criminals Arrested Sunday at Detroit Lakes

A high-speed automobile chase on rough country roads ended near Detroit Lakes Sunday in the arrest of four Iowa teen-agers who have admitted four days of crime.

The crimes included a holdup in Eagle Lake and burglaries in International Falls, and break-ins in DesMoines and Clear Lake, Iowa.

The youths also told of having committed a burglary in Thief River Falls, but local police have not been notified of it.

The four were carrying three rifles and four revolvers, all loaded, when caught by state highway patrol officers.

"They had enough ammunition to start a small war," Dave Wennestrom, Becker county sheriff reported.

The chase followed the robbery of the Eagle Lake general store, eight miles north of Park Rapids, by two youths at 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

Tune in "SPARKS FROM GOD'S ANVIL" broadcast, this Sunday, Jan 9 at 1:45 P. M. over KTRF in Thief River Falls, Minn. for a resume of both the wet and the "dry" arguments used up to that hour.

December 7 Degrees Warmer Than Usual

The mean temperature for the month of December 1954 has been above average, according to Dr. O. C. Soine, agronomist and weather observer at the Northwest School and Experiment Station, Crookston. Dr. Soine reports, "The past month of December was 7 degrees warmer than usual as measured by the mean temperature for the month, but no record was broken by the mild weather. In fact, December has been above average for the past three years. In 1952, the temperature was 19.06 degrees and in 1953 it was 13.93 degrees. The warmest December on record was in 1938 when the mean temperature averaged 24.5 degrees."

The month by month readings and the 40-year average are as follows:

	Mean Temperature 1954 Degree	40-Yr. Ave. Degree
January	—4.6	5.32
February	23.4	7.95
March	23.2	25.65
April	37.6	41.11
May	48.7	54.53
June	63.3	63.75
July	70.0	69.96
August	65.6	67.31
September	55.7	57.18
October	44.3	44.90
November	32.8	26.90
December	18.5	11.54
Mean	39.88	39.47

The mean temperature for the year was only slightly above the average but a month-by-month comparison shows only four months to be above the long-time average. The greatest variance was in the month of February which was 15.45 degrees above average.

The coldest month of 1954 was January which had a mean temperature of 4.6 degrees below zero. This low figure is due to the fact that only for two days in the entire month the the minimum temperature above zero.

The coldest day of 1954 was on January 21 when the temperature dropped to a low of 41 degrees below zero.

The warmest day occurred on July 26 when the temperature rose to 95 degrees.

The frost-free period of 114 days was 14 days shorter than the 50-year record. The last frost in the spring was recorded on May 30 while the first frost in the fall occurred in September 22.

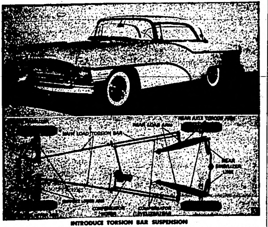
1955 Packards and Clippers Offer New Ride—Highest Power



INTRODUCE TORSION BAR SUSPENSION

DETROIT—A revolutionary new suspension system which eliminates coil and leaf springs and new V-8 engines with the highest horsepower for automobiles are the outstanding advances of the 1955 Packards and Clippers in dealer showrooms January 17. Heading the Clipper line of five models for the medium priced field is the Constellation hardtop (above).

Termed the most important development in riding comfort and safety since the introduction of front coil springs in 1934, torsion bar suspension appears for the first time on a production car. The engineering term "torsion" means twisting. As shown in the diagram, two long steel bars running the length of the car take the shock of road bumps and dips by twisting. This means these road shocks do not reach the car frame and car passengers. A separate load compensator keeps the rear end of the car level with the front end regardless of passenger or luggage weight. Packard's new "Torsion-Level Ride" provides a flat, constant, level ride at all times. Rear end drop on acceleration is eliminated; wheels have better traction; front end plunge is reduced when brakes are applied; and the car has greatly increased stability.

Packard's new V-8 engines range from 225 horsepower, 245 in the Constellation, up to 275 in the Packard line. Teamed with this new family of engines is a Twin-Ultramatic transmission, which gives either smooth start or rapid breakaway acceleration.

A new safety feature is a windshield wiper specifically designed for a sweep-around windshield, because it cleans the curved areas.

There are more than 100 other engineering advancements in addition to distinctive new styling for both the Clippers and the luxury line of Packards.

The cars are the end result of the Packard program launched two years ago by James J. Nance, Studebaker-Packard president, which has brought the company a new young management team, the most modern production plants in the industry, and dealership service in 4,000 cities and towns.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

KILLED BY INDIANS

The number of Minnesota people killed in the Sioux uprising of 1862 has never been determined.

It was impossible at the time to list those who had died. When the smoke of burning homes had blown away an effort was made to determine the extent of damage, injury and death. A commission was appointed to count the casualties. But the pay was so small that this work was not done.

In 1881 a law directed the county assessors and the county auditors to question the people as they performed their official duties. This was incomplete.

Governor Ramsey in a message to President Lincoln in September of 1862 estimated the number of dead at not less than eight hundred.

Indian Agent Galbraith, who may have known the most of the consequences of the uprising, estimated the number of dead at various places. He gave the number of citizens massacred at 644.

Renville county had the greatest number of dead, 221. It is believed that 204 citizens were killed in Brown county. This meant that more than two hundred were killed in other areas and counties along the Minnesota river.

The number of soldiers killed is, of course, definitely known. This number was 93.

These estimates, which are given the largest amount of credence, indicate that the total number of deaths from this great uprising amounted to 737.

THE KELLEY SHRINE

Oliver H. Kelley was a young man from Boston who came to Minnesota in 1849, the year of the formation of the territory. He laid claim to a homestead south of what is now the community of Elk River and near to the now forgotten village of Itasca.

In 1864 this young man obtained a clerkship in the department of agriculture in Washington. As he toured among the farms of the nation he observed the need for co-operative activities upon a nationwide basis. He conceived the idea of a secret organization of farmers and in 1867 he organized the Patrons of Husbandry.

The first state Grange, and the real beginning of a great organization, was formed at the Kelley home. The two founders are listed as Kelley and D. A. Robertson of St. Paul. The first meeting for organization and instruction at the Kelley homestead in 1869 was attended by six people.

For many years there was agitation that the Kelley home be preserved as a national shrine for the Grange and for agriculture in Minnesota and the nation. On October 3, 1954, this pioneer home was opened to the public. It is furnished in the style which prevailed in territorial days and is a monument not only to Oliver Kelley but to pioneer times.

Shortly after the meeting at Elk River Kelley resigned from his work at Washington to devote all of his time to the organization and growth of the Grange.

PIONEER HOME

Records of household expenditures in the days of Minnesota contain many comments on the manner of living a century ago. In those days of little money, families watched their budgets and pennies and in the files of the Minnesota Historical Society are many records which indicate the economic conditions among the pioneers.

One family in St. Paul recorded that it bought 43 cords of wood at something over five dollars a cord. The family also bought a hundred pounds of venison, then common to all frontier homes in Minnesota. There was also purchased ten pounds of bear meat and 12 buffalo tongues at 75 cents each. There were purchases of dried apples, cranberries, an important early day product in Minnesota, and wild rice useful to both red and white men.

There are still people in Minnesota who have lived through the period of the whole modern development of light from the wick in the dish of venison fat to electricity. The family in St. Paul a hundred years ago bought candles in twenty pound boxes. They also had lamps but there was a general fear of coal oil, later known as kerosene. Many would not allow this potentially dangerous oil on their premises. Consequently many used sperm oil, from whales taken in the Pacific by New England whalers. The cost of this oil was about two dollars a gallon.

Temperature Tips On Eggs

Since eggs are now a two-way bargain in nutrition and in price—you will want to use them generously in family meals and to splurge in baking favorite foods that call for eggs.

To hold their freshness, eggs need to be kept cool. However, for success in cooking homemakers often ask when to use eggs cold and when to take the chill off in advance. Here are egg temperature tips from the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

A high-quality raw egg separates into white and yolk most easily when it's 50 to 60 degrees F. An egg just out of the refrigerator is so cold that its white is viscous and clings to both shell and yolk, making it difficult to separate. On the other hand, when an egg warms up to 75 degrees F. or more, the yolk tends to flatten and then may break in separated. It pays to remove them from the refrigerator at least an hour in advance. Obviously, small eggs will warm up sooner than large ones.

For cake-making, eggs, like other ingredients, should be at room temperature to combine well.

Egg whites whip more quickly and to a greater volume when the chill is off. Various studies indicate that best whipping temperature ranges from 61 to 77 degrees F.

For cooking in the shell, take the chill off the egg before it goes into hot water to avoid cracking the shell from the sudden change in temperatures—or put cold eggs in cold water and bring eggs and water to simmering temperature together.

Hard-cooked eggs seem to separate most easily from shells when they are cold. As soon as they are cooked, cool rapidly in cold running water. Fast cooling helps prevent the unappetising dark-colored layer around the yolk. Many homemakers have found that chilling makes eggs more firm, thus easier to slice for a garnish or to separate the yolks from the whites for stuffing.

They also stopped to visit with the old folks at the Good Samaritan Home in Warren. They said they had good roads all the way except for Lookout Pass, near Cour D Alene, Idaho, where it was so icy, cars slid down hill with locked brakes, and those who tried to walk down there to find out what was blocking traffic had to form a chain and the first one across had to sort of hold on to a truck and pull the others along. They were held up for two hours there and the road had to be sanded for quite a distance on each side of the pass before traffic could move again. The only snow they saw was after they got to Warren on Sunday.

Thieves Will Play 3 Games Here This Week; Meet Roseau Tonight

The senior hockey Thieves, after absorbing three straight losses in "on the road" games, will move into their "home" rink, the Arena, for three games beginning on Wednesday night, Jan. 5th, when the Roseau Cloverleafs play here. Following tonight's game against the Leafs, the Thieves will play the Crookston Pirates on Saturday night, Jan. 8th; and then follow with a game on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 9th, against the Warroad Lakers. With that "doubleheader" slated for the local ice on Saturday night and Sunday night, the senior hockey fans will be able to witness plenty of top-flight hockey.

Playing without the services of their player-coach Paul Bedard, who was side-lined because of an ankle injury, the Thieves dropped a 5 to 3 decision to Sergio Gambucci's Crookston Pirates at Crookston Wednesday night.

Joe Vinet, slapping in a rebound, gave the Pirates a 1 to 0 lead at the 6:43 mark of the opening period; but that lead was short-lived as the Thieves' Bob Amundson, recovering his own rebound, beat goalie Bud Schraeder to even the score at 1-all at the 7:08 mark. With center Bruce Bell, a newcomer to the Thieves lineup and playing as a replacement for Bedard, in the penalty box, Hec Bourgeous sent the Pirates into a 2 to 1 lead at the 10:05 mark.

A pair of Crookston goals late in the second period, by Len Sigurdson and Vinet, gave the Pirates a 4 to 1 "cushion" entering the third period.

In the final stanza, Gambucci closed out the Pirates' scoring by beating Jack Hoppe at 1:35, and Crookston held a 5 to 1 lead. Ron Castelane, scoring a 3:15, and Church Rissell, with a tally at 9:47, added the Thieves final markers.

The week's top individual performance was the five goal splurge of Crookston's Sergio Gambucci. Gambucci, the Pirates' player-coach, rammed five goals past Grand Forks' able net-minder, Don Dawson, as Crookston racked up a 9 to 5 win over the Redwings in a game played at Crookston on Sunday.

The Thief River Falls Thieves, without a win in three league starts, will attempt to get into the win column this week when they play three games on their "home" rink, meeting the Roseau Cloverleafs on Wednesday night, the Crookston Pirates on Saturday night, and the Warroad Lakers on Sunday afternoon.

More Archers Had Good Success In '54 Deer Hunting

Judging from report cards already received from Minnesota bow and arrow hunters, the "Robin Hoods" met with much better success this year than last.

A total of 510 bowmen reporting showed 91 deer taken for a success ratio of 17.84 per cent, which bureau of game technicians believe to be "exceptionally high."

They point out, however, that 45 of these deer were taken on the Camp Ripley Military Reservation, which has not been open in the past, and that an estimated 4,500 bow and arrow hunters have yet to mail in their report cards to the bureau of game.

In 1953, there were about 3,000 bow and arrow hunters and only 66 deer reported taken.

Meanwhile, the regular small and big game report cards are trickling in at a rate that is not too promising. The division of game and fish needs huner's report cards in order to help determine how much game has been taken this year and the prospects for future seasons.

Hunters should complete their report cards, affix a two cent stamp to each, and drop them in the mail box as soon as possible.

TIMBER HAULERS AIDED BY SPECIAL TRUCK LAW

Haulers of unfinished forest products are again benefitting from the so-called "timber haulers law", which went into effect January 1 and will expire March 7, unless the Legislature extends it again, as it did two years ago.

The measure allows timber haulers in the northern part of the state to increase their axle loads by 20 per cent above normal legal maximums. Roads in only a specified area, where presumably all types of roads are frozen to great depth, are included under the terms of the law.

MILAN BORSHEIM SPENDS LEAVE WITH PARENTS

A2-C Milan Borsheim was promoted December 1, to A1-C. He is presently stationed at Ladd AFB in Fairbanks, Alaska, and is senior stock record clerk for special service supply. He recently returned to his base after spending a 30 day leave at the home of his parents, Mr and Mrs. H. L. Schuster.

Introducing the Thieves

A welcome addition to the senior hockey Thieves roster is Dennis "Spanky" Sullivan. While Sullivan will be a newcomer to the Thieves roster he is by no means a stranger to local hockey fans. The 25-year old Spanky has been a hockey opponent to local teams on numerous occasions, being a graduate of Crookston Cathedral in 1946, and a member of the Blue Wave hockey squads that played against the junior hockey Hornets and the Prowlers; and following his graduation, Sullivan became a member of the senior hockey Crookston Pirates, and played with that club until this year when he moved here. Sullivan, who is five-feet eight-inches tall, and weighs about 180 pounds, is a member of the famed hockey-playing Sullivans of Crookston being a cousin of Bill, Leo, Jerry, and Tommy, all of whom performed for the Blue Wave and the Pirates. Spanky, who has played at wing, is being used as a defenseman by player-coach Paul Bedard, and he is proving to be an able blue-liner.

Prowler Team Wins 7-0 over Cathedral Six

Locals to Open Season Here with Tilt Against Roseau Next Wednesday

Coach Dennis Rolle's state champion Prowlers opened their 1954-55 schedule on Thursday night by scoring a decisive 7 to 0 win over the Crookston Cathedral sextet on the Arena rink. The locals will move into conference competition this week and following Tuesday night's tilt against Hallock, the Prowlers will make the long trip to Williams for a game on Saturday, Jan. 8th. On Wednesday night, Jan. 12th, Oscar Almquist will bring his high-flying Roseau Rams down here for an important regional game on the Arena ice.

The Prowlers, with six players punching in goals, outskated the Blue Wave here on Thursday night, and had a comparatively easy time in marking up their 22nd consecutive hockey victory.

Joey Poole opened the game's scoring at the 1:51 marke of the first period when, on a solo rush from the Prowlers' zone, he out-maneuvered the Cathedral defense to skate in on goalie Len Brekken for a point-blank shot. Seconds later Glen Carlson whipped a score into the north goal when, on an assist from Chip Strand, he beat Brekken with a sharply-angled shot. Brad Teal's backhand shot at 7:32 gave the Prowlers a 3 to 0 lead; and Jack Quesnell's score, after recovering a rebound on a shot by Fred Dablow, boosted the locals lead to 4 to 0 at the end of the first period.

Goals by Art Cloutier and Sid Vraa, late in the second period, increased the game score to 6 to 0 for the Prowlers; and Jack Quesnell's second tally of the game, at the 5:53 mark of the third period, closed out the scoring for the Prowlers, giving the locals a well-earned 7 to 0 triumph.

The summary:

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Face-offs and Tip-offs

Local sports fans, after having been on a somewhat restricted athletic diet the past two weeks will, this week, have an ample and attractive menu. Here's the schedule: tonight, Wednesday, the senior hockey Thieves will make their bow before the home-town fans when they meet the Roseau Cloverleafs on the Arena ice; on Friday night, Jan. 7th, on the high school gymnasium court, coach Alan Adams' basketball Prowlers will meet the Crookston Pirates, the squad that has been installed as the 31st district favorites.

On Saturday night, Jan. 8th, high-scoring Sergio Gambucci will bring his Crookston Pirates senior hockey club here for a game against the Thieves; and on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 9th, the league-leading Warroad Lakers, with an attack that features a pair of active and aggressive Winnipeg junior hockey stars in brothers Gordie and Art Stratton, will play the Thieves on the Arena rink.

On Tuesday night, Jan. 11th, on the local floor, the basketball Prowlers will be host to the Halstad Pirates in an inter-district tilt; and on Wednesday night, Jan. 12th, the game that could develop into the best high school hockey game of the season will be played here, with coach Oscar Almquist and his Roseau Rams meeting Dennis Rolle's state champion Prowlers on the Arena rink.

Prowler Capers Busy

And just to keep the boys out of mischief, the Prowler basketball squad on Saturday night, Jan. 8th, will play the Ada Vikings at Ada; and on the same night, coach Rolle and his hockey Prowlers will be playing the Williams high school sextet at Williams.

The basketball Prowlers will get quite a lift when Chuck Brandvold, a transfer from Detroit Lakes, becomes eligible on Jan. 14th. Brandvold, who was a standout tackle on the Laker football squad this past season, should give the Prowlers considerable rebound and under-the-basket strength, for Chuck is a six-foot, two-inch athlete weighing about 190 pounds. Brandvold injured his left knee during the last game on Laker football schedule, and as a result he is forced to wear a brace on the knee. While the brace is a handicap it doesn't appear to hinder his maneuverability too much.

Coach Adams, who is continuing to experiment with the Prowler squad in an effort to develop a smooth-functioning unit will, perhaps, when Brandvold becomes eligible, use Chuck at center and move big Bill Frahm back to a guard position. Frahm is the best outcourt shooter on the team, and with Bill popping at the basket from just off the circle, the opposing teams won't be so ready to "jam" up the lane.

They're Still the Champions

Until they are beaten, and that won't be easy to do, coach Dennis Rolle's Prowlers will be the regional and state high school hockey champions. That fact was given credence on Thursday night when the blue-and-gold trounced the Crookston Cathedral Blue Wave, 7 to 0.

From the time that Joey Poole sashayed through the Cathedral defense, using a couple of shoulder feints to outmaneuver the blue-liners, and then came in for a point-blank shot into the north goal at 1:51 of the opening period and until Jack Quesnell closed out the Prowler scoring in the third period, the locals were vastly superior to the Cathedral club. Joey's opening effort was a "picture goal," and he looked like a young Paul Bedard by the manner in which he "deked" the Blue Wavers. That is, like a Paul Bdard with speed.

Lacking the all-round team balance of last season's championship outfit, coach Rolle is forced to shift his lineup considerably. One unit, with Joey Poole at center, Sid Vraa at right wing, and Jack Quesnell at left wing, has Brad Teal and Duane Glass on defense. When the Prowler mentor sends in his "kid" line of Jack Poole center, Chip Strand and Glen Carlson at the wings, he moves Joey Poole and Sid Vraa back to the blue-line. The fact that Joey and Sid are back on defense, gives Jack and Chip and Glen lots of confidence, and they play the puck very aggressively.

If the trend of the game is such that the Prowlers have a scoring "cushion", coach Rolle will use his second set of defensemen in Fred Dablow and Harry Armstrong, and such forwards as Jimmy Reese, Jimmy Hall, and Art Cloutier.

And don't forget that game here next Wednesday night, Jan. 12th. The Roseau Rams, with their all-veteran line of Jack Delmore, Mike Robertson, and Dick Johnson, will be here.

Thomas W. Belland, member of the Washington, D. C., fire department formerly of Thief River Falls, was one of five firemen who were nominated for medals for bravery as a result of their heroic action in coming to the rescue of a policeman fighting for his life with an assailant. The story, published in a recent issue of the Washington Star, was forwarded to the Times by Rep. Harold C. Hagen.

Prowler Six Makes It 23 Wins in Row, Taking Hallock 7-1

All-state Joey Poole Registers Two Goals and Has Four Assists

For about ten minutes last night, coach Bill Sullivan's Hallock high school hockey team held a 1 to 0 lead over the Prowlers, and it was not until the second period, when the locals tallied three goals, that coach Dennis Rolle's defending state champions had the game "under control." The Prowlers won 7 to 1.

Hallock's Harold Johnson, taking a pass in front of the north goal, flipped in a shot to give the northerners a 1 to 0 lead at 5:03 of the opening period. Chip Strand, on a double assist, from Glenn Carlson and Sid Vraa, evened the score at 1 to 1 at the 9:50 mark.

Goals by Sid Vraa, Brad Teal, and Joey Poole, with Joey Poole assisting on the goals by Vraa and Teal, broke the deadlock and gave the Prowlers a 4 to 1 bulge in the second period. The Prowlers added some "insurance" tallies in the third period when Vraa, Poole, and Jack Quesnell dented the mesh for scores.

That the Prowlers held a marked advantage in ice play over the ever-trying Hallock sextet is indicated by the stops that were credited to the two goalies. The Prowlers' Rod Collins had but nine "saves" during the game, while Hallock's Jerry Knutson was tested forty times.

Tuesday night's win, the twenty-third in the Prowlers victory skein, was a team effort, but all-state Joey Poole was particularly brilliant. The swift-moving center-ice player scored two goals and had four assists, and his back-checking was deadly in breaking up the Hallock rushes.

The summary:

Director Outlines State Forest Policy

A policy for the administration, protection, development and use of Minnesota's 5,000,000 acres of forest land has been prepared by the division of forestry and issued by its director, E. L. Lawson, today.

"Twice in the past 25 years, the division has prepared policy statements, and the new revised statement of policy is made to keep pace with progress and new objectives," Lawson stated.

State-owned lands are under the jurisdiction of several divisions within the Department of Conservaion, but the development and management of 4,100,000 acres of forested lands are the responsibility of the division of forestry.

The general policy is stated under six broad fields of forest conservation governed by laws of the state and administrative orders. They are.

Forest protection; from destruction by fires, insects and disease, and animals.

Forest land use; plans to make land produce its best crops of timber, wildlife, recreation, erosion control, and water conservation.

Sustained production of forest crops; managed to insure a continuing yield of forest products.

Recreation and other uses; use of forests for health and pleasure while also producing other crops.

Soil and water conservation; the need of forest and related vegetation cover to protect soil and water resources.

Forest investigations and research; continued and increased effort to solve problems of forest management and utilization.

The policy is concerned not only with the administration of state lands, but also with the need of cooperative measures for the protection and management of private forests and units of public forests, such as school and municipal.

Let us labor for that larger comprehension of truth, and that more thorough repudiation of error, which shall make the History of mankind a series of ascending developments.— Horace Mann.

Anoka Gets Gift of New City Hall Costing $425,000

A new $425,000 city hall will be built in Anoka within a year —gift of Federal Cartridge Corp., Anoka's biggest taxpayer, and the Olin foundation.

Charles L. Horn, president of both organizations, said the ammunition firm gave four annual $50,000 gifts to a special city hall fund as a favor to the city where most of its employes live.

The Olin grant of $225,000 made last August, was made "because the folks need a new city hall immediately."

The present 70-year-old city hall has been termed a fire hazard. The gift saves Anoka taxpayers of an additional 10-mill tax burden for 20 years, which the city hall would have cost if it had been financed by the conventional bond issue.

INDIANS CAN BE MADE USEFUL CITIZENS

The federal govenment has inaugurated a policy of gradual withdrawal from participation in Indian affairs. The education branch of the bureau has selected Minnesota as pilot state in working out a citizen-financed scholarship program for Indian youth. The median income of Minnesota Indians is less than $500 a year, the bureau reports, and their unemployment is in the highest U. S. bracket, yet their skills and potentials are highly encouraging. Among many vocational training fields the Bureau hopes to open to Indian youth is that of printing, both because exceptional interest and aptitude are manifest and because of the critical shortage of skilled workmen in this technical and useful field. Nursing for the girls is another attractive opportunity. It is likely than an Indian Bureau office will be established in Minnesota to get this challenging project under way.

To Measure Cow's Milk Flow

W. E. Petersen, University of Minnesota dairy professor, points to a curved "register" line on a Kymograph — an instrument that measures a cow's milk flow per minute. The device is used in rate-of-milking studies to determine ease and rapidity of milking of the many breeds of dairy cows. Looking on is Ned D. Bayley, associate professor of dairy husbandry, who is active in the studies. Some of the reasearch findings will be described at the University of Minnesota's Farm and Home Week, Jan. 11-14.

'Boxholder' Mail to Be Curbed Soon

Postmaster General Announces New Order

Postmaster General Summerfield announced Thursday that city and town deliveries of "junk mail" will be discontinued after March 31.

Such deliveries of what the post office department calls "simplified address mail" were established on an experimental basis 15 months ago. The system allowed distribution on selected routes of advertising material addressed simply to "householder," "patron," or "boxholder," without specific street address.

The experiment, which had been tried previously by the Democratic administration, resulted in numerous protests that the result clogged the postal system.

Rep. Murray of Tennessee, who is slated to become chairman of the House post office committee in the new Congress assembling this week, said recently he had told Summerfield that unless "junk mail" deliveries were stopped, his committee would take steps to outlaw it.

Sen. Carlson, of Kansas, retiring chairman of the Senate post office committee, only a few days ago issued a public statement calling for discontinuance.

The dropping of the simplified addressed mail, which is handled at a third-class rate of 1½ cents per piece, applies only to city and village delivery routes. Such mail will still be handled on rural routes and to boxholders at post offices where no city or village delivery service is available.

This type of patron has had the services since October 1934.

Crookston Places Ban on Moving Houses into City

An absolute ban on moving dwelling units from outside the city limits into any residential area was invoked by the Crookston city council Tuesday of last week. Passage of a resolution clamping down on such projects came only after extended discussion and a tie vote, broken by the ballot of Council President Louis LaBone. The action was designed to prevent recurrence of activities such as have been carried on recently in importing rental units, sub-standard as to appearance and facilities, according to the pro-ban council group.

State Is in Sound Financial Shape, Says Val Bjornson

Retiring Treasurer Submits Report on Cash Balances at End of Year

With cash and invested funds totalling more than 430 million dollars and state indebtedness cut by 14½ millions the past year, Minnesotans are far from finding an "empty stocking" as they take a New Year look at their state's fiscal picture. That was retiring State Treasurer Val Bjornson's observation as he left office Monday. Bjornson prepared the semi-annual statement of the treasurer's office for the printers, as required by law, at the close of business December 31.

"Some comparisons made by State Auditor Stafford King last fall take on added interest now," Bjornson observed. "Bringing them up to date, this is the situation—A Republican administration taking power 16 years ago 'inherited' a debt that totalled nearly 130 million dollars. There were total investments and cash on hand amounting to some $115,700,000 at that time. That figures out to a deficit of more than 14 million dollars, comparing debts with assets. Now, a Democratic-Farmer-Labor administration assuming power 'inherits' indebtedness that aggregates $95,144,505, with cash and investments totalling more than $430,500,000. That can be reckoned, on the same basis, as a credit balance of more than 335 million dollars—admittedly quite a contrast."

Bjornson acknowledged that permanent trust funds whose pricipals must remain untouched, under the constitution, do not constitute a direct asset in the way of immediately available cash. "The total of more than 253 millions now amassed in our permanent trust fund structure," said the retiring treasurer, "is, however, a tremendous resource in support of education. Interest earnings running to well over $15,000 a day pay more than $10 per pupil toward our state school aids, from this source, for the current school year."

State Implement Dealers to Meet in Minneapolis

Problems of the implement sales field will be discussed when some 2,000 members of the Minnesota Implement Dealers association gather at Nicollet Hotel, Minneapolis, Tuesday, January 11, for their annual three-day convention.

T. H. Arens of Aitkin, Minnesota, president, has announced that Governor Orville L. Freeman will give the address of welcome.

Highlight speakers will be W. C. McFarlane, president of the Minneapolis-Moline Company, Carl Taylor, Waukesha, Wisconsin, banker and large-scale farmer; Don Ross, DeMoines, merchandising manager of Successful Farming magazine; Ted Miller, Gering, Nebraska, president of the National Retail Farm Equipment association; Professor A. J. Schwantes, head of the department of agricultural engineering, University of Minnesota, and Fred Sharpe, Baldwin, Kansas, University of Kansas extension lecturer on Salesmanship.

Annual banquet and entertainment program of the organization is scheduled for Wednesday night, January 12.

Freeman Calls Traffic Safety Meeting Jan. 26

Governor Orville L. Freeman yesterday called a statewide conference on traffic safety for January 26, at the Hotel Saint Paul. He made this announcement at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Safety Council and stated that he had asked A. V. Rohweder, who was re-elected council president, and several others to arrange the conference.

"The appalling accident and death rates resulting from traffic mishaps during the past years," Governor Freeman said, "require that we, as citizens of Minnesota, give this subject serious and sustained attention."

He said that during the past two months many suggestions intended to improve the accident picture have been received by him and that he felt that these ideas and recommendations should be discussed at the forthcoming meeting.

"I am asking" he said, "that state, county and municipal officials attend this conference to discuss this grave problem with civic, labor and other organizations and individuals interested in the control of traffic accidents."

Participants at the conference are expected to review and possibly add to proposed safety legislation which will come up before the legislature and will discuss other recommendations already made by various groups in the promotion of statewide accident prevention.

New Air Chief Is Named by Freeman

Gov.-elect Orville Freeman said last week that he will name Mitchell Perrizo, Jr., Delaven, as commissioner of aeronautics.

Perrizo will succeed L. L. Schroeder, who has held the post since 1943 when the department was created. The post pays $9,400, and the term is four years.

Perrizo is a graduate of St. John's University and the University of Minnesota law school.

He was on the University of Minnesota faculty in 1941-42 and served one term in the state house of representatives. He has been a member of the Minnesota Commission on Interstate Cooperation and state vice president of the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve, he served from 1942 to 1946 in the Pacific theatre and was recalled in 1950, serving 17 months with the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

"Minnesota has made considerable progress in airport development during the past decade," said Freeman in announcing the appointment, "and this has resulted from joint cooperation of federal, state, and local units of government."

LES SCHRAEDER IS OUT

Les Schroeder, commissioner of aeronautics, is one of the state department heads who is being replaced as the new administration takes over. It is a change that was to be expected. As he steps out however he deserves a pat on the back for the outstanding contribution he has made to the development of aviation in Minnesota during the years he has served as the head of this young department.

To a certain extent Les Schroeder created the job he has held since the department was established in 1943. He was one of the front men in the drive to secure passage of the constitutional amendment that authorized the creation of such an authority. The amendment carried by a big majority and he was the logical choice for the office of commissioner.

Under his leadership Minnesota pioneered in the field of state regulation of aviation. By taxes on fuel and the licensing of aircraft, revenue was provided for state assistance in the establishing of landing fields and airports without cost to the general taxpayer.

Because of the special flying problems in the metropolitan area an independent commission was established with broad powers of flight and airport control in such areas. This agency and Les Schroeder did not get along too well. There were understandable conflicts of interest and authority.

In general the Metropolitan Airports Commission represented the views of the large commercial airlines. Schroeder and his Department of Aeronautics represented the views of the rural communities. The big companies did not like Minnesota's plan of industry-taxation under which they contributed substantially to the overall airport development in the state. It has been another of those unfortunate city vs. country arguments.

In this argument, as in all others, there were good points on both sides. We think that in general Les Schroeder's program was basically sound and in the best interests of the industry as a whole. By the encouragement given to aviation generally and to feeder airline services particularly we think it will prove to be a good program for the great hub of air traffic in this region, the Twin Cities.

In our book Les Schroeder gets a lot of credit for the good work he has done. In or out of office, he will always be a welcome visitor in Thief River Falls and many of the other small towns of the state.

MOUNTAIN BECOMES MOLEHILL

The mountain of dry-milk in storage that helped to lengthen the shadow of gloom over the dairy industry last spring has now been reduced to a molehill, the Wall Street Journal reports. The April peak of 600 million pounds has been cut to a present total of 90 million pounds in the possession of the government. Cut-rate sales, outright gifts and reduced price-propping purchases are credited for the reduction. The cost to the taxpayers is estimated at 125 million dollars.

It is estimated that price-support losses will go up to $750 millions this year compared to a last year's total of $420 millions. These losses however cannot properly be charged up to a one-year's operation. As J. Delbert Wells of the Farm Bureau points out, production controls, an important part of the price-support program, have been applied too late. The present drastic action to dispose of surpluses and get production back into balance with demand could have been less drastic if it had come earlier.

As more of these mountains are reduced to molehills we can look for a return to normal, healthy marketing conditions.

CRIME WAVE HEADING THIS WAY?

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover is not cheerful about the crime outlook. He makes the startling statement that one out of every 18 persons between the ages of 15 and 17 is now a juvenile delinquent and predicts that if the present trend continues "we shall face a crime wave of grave proportions during the late 'fifties and early 'sixties."

In 1953 persons under 18 years were responsible for 53.6 per cent of all car thefts; 49.3 per cent of all burglaries, and 40.1 per cent of other thefts.

It is well to be forwarned of what may be ahead of us. If the crime wave he anticipates does materialize we will of course take drastic action to bring it under control. Maybe a little more drastic action of a preventive nature before the situation gets out of hand would be a real kindness to many of our young people.

REGULATING INVESTIGATIONS

It appears that Congress will impose a few limiting regulations on the activities of its investigating committees, and that will meet with favorable public response. Congressional investigations are necessary and generally serve a good purpose. There is no reason however why they cannot be conducted under a procedure that will give reasonable protection from possible abuses.

In our courts of justice we do not deny to anyone the right to a fair and impartial trial, and we recognize as a fundamental principle that a person accused of an offense against society is innocent until proven guilty. Those who are brought before Congressional investigating committees should be given this same consideration.

MILLIONS MORE TO FEED

A census bureau estimate on population guesses that we started the New Year with 163,900,000 people in our country. That is about 12½ millions up from the official total of 1950 and if we continue to grow in this proportion it won't be long before we will be looking for increased acreage for food crops again.

The year 1954 was not a good one for agriculture and it isn't likely that 1955 is going to be much better according to the dopesters. But for the long pull the farm is the best bet. They can have their big cities. A well diversified agricultural community is still a good place to make a living year in and year out.

HOOKING RIDES PERILOUS

Hooking rides on cars and trucks by youngsters with sleds is one of the most dangerous of winter-time practices, warns the Minnesota Safety Council. Every year several children are seriously injured or killed in accidents resulting from this type of prank. Sudden stops or changes in direction can hurl an unsuspecting child under the wheels of the vehicle to which he is clinging or of a passing vehicle.

At a congregational meeting, the Bethlehem Lutheran Congregation voted to go on record opposing the sale of hard liquor in Marshall County. When the facts are surveyed with an open mind, and with concern for our young people and the rest of the citizens, we cannot help but see the great harm done by the liquor traffic. We urge everyone to do his Christian duty on January 10th, 1955 by voting, "NO".

Crookston Man Is Appointed Deputy Attorney General

Lowell Grady, 51, assistant Minnesota attorney general since Feb. 1, 1949, was designated by Miles W. Lord, attorney general-elect, Thursday to be Lord's deputy attorney general.

A native of Crookston, Grady practiced law there between 1930 and 1942 after which he spent four years as attorney for the office of price administration.

He returned to private practice in St. Paul in 1946.

As an assistant attorney general, Grady has handled some of the trial work in both the civil and criminal departments.

State Sheriffs Propose New Laws

Legislative Committee Meets at Capitol Jan 6

The legislature committee of the Minnesota Sheriffs association will meet at the state capitol Jan. 6 to discuss proposed legislation supporting resolutions adopted by the sheriffs during their annual meeting in St. Paul Dec. 27 and 28.

Problems relating to juveniles, alcohol control and traffic safety were prime concerns of the law enforcement officers during the sessions. The resolutions recommend changes in present laws or new laws to permit easier, more efficient handling of these problem.

To curb drinking by minors, the sheriffs recommend redefining 3.2 beer as an intoxicating liquor and that the presence of minors in 3.2 taverns or liquor establishments be illegal even though accompanied by a parent or guardian.

In the interest of reducing the number of traffic accidents involving minors, they recommend laws making minors subject to the same treatment as adults for traffic violations. At the present time, minors guilty of traffic violations appear in juvenile court. Adults charged with similar offenses generally face stiffer penalties from traffic courts.

The sheriffs also adopted a resolution recommending reflectorized license plates in the interest of safety.

Ford Motor Company's new "800" series, full three-plow tractors, are designed for heavy work in all types of soil. Shown above is the 860 model, equipped with live power take-off. It and the 850 model both are powered by Ford's field-proven "Red Tiger" engine with power increased by 30 per cent, and both have five-speed transmissions. Another power series, the "600" with three models, also is offered by Ford for 1955, marking the first time in the almost half-century history of Ford tractor production that the Company has offered more than a single size tractor. Both the 600 and 800 series are equipped with headlights and taillight as standard equipment.

$23 Million Spent by N. W. Bell Co. on Expansion in 1954

Company Reports It Pays Taxes of $2.32 Per Month for Each Phone in Use

In 1954, Northwestern Bell Telephone company spent approximately $23,000,000 for expansion and improvement of telephone service and equipment replacement in Minnesota, Carl O. Lindeman, vice president and general manager, said this was the heaviest construction program in the history of the company's operations in the state, and the outlook for 1955 is a construction program of equal size.

"By coincidence," Mr. Lindeman said, "taxes on telephone service in Minnesota during the year also amounted to approximately $23,000,000. This is about $2.32 per month for each telephone in service."

In 1954, approximately 26,500 telephones were installed to bring the total number in service to 791,000. This is substantially more than the number added in 1953, and this year the company expects to gain even more—about 35,000.

The volume of long distance calling in 1954 exceeded that of 1953. Last year, Minnesotans made approximately 124,000 long distance calls per day, on the average, as compared with 120,500 calls per day during the previous year.

In 1955, Mr. Lindeman said, the company expects to be able to fill practically all orders for telephone service.

During the year the change of exchanges to dial will continue. Larger communities scheduled for dial service in 1955 include St. Cloud, Anoka, White Bear Lake, Gaylord and Minnetonka Beach.

The company expects to add another 6500 telephones in rural areas this year. Particularly large projects will be undertaken in the vicinity of Eveleth, Barnum, Jeffers, Isanti, Brainerd and St. Cloud.

1955 Packard to Be Shown Jan. 17

Edward Motor Sales to Show Improved Models

The all-new Packard and Clipper automobiles for 1955 offer a revolutionary new kind of safe, comfortable ride; the auto industry's top performance in new V-8 engines; a new Twin-Ultramatic transmission, new styling and more than 100 other major advancements.

Available in a wide selection of distinctive body styles, the new models will go on display in Packard dealerships throughout the nation, including Edward Motor Sales in this city, the week of January 17th.

Highlighting of the new Packard models is the Four-Hundred, a Packard hardtop. The Constellation, another smartly styled hardtop, is the star of the Clipper series of cars.

In addition to featuring top V-8 engine performance, Packard and Clipper Custom models strike a dramatic note in this year's new model parade with the introduction of a Torsion-Level Ride.

Packard torsion bar suspension, which completely replaces the conventional front-coil and rear-leaf springs, brings to American cars the first major improvemnt in riding comfort and riding safety since the introduction of front-coil springing in 1934. The Torsion-Level Ride is standard equipment on all Packard models and on Clipper Custom models.

SPIRE in the SNOW

Next time you see a church standing in the snow, its spire raised to the winter sky, think how hard it was to attend Sunday services in your grandfather's day.

Then it was a matter of getting up in the cold chill of early morning, hitching up horse and sled, and jingling across the countryside with sharp icicles of wind stinging your cheeks. Yet few stayed at home because of the weather.

Today, it is relatively easy for all of us to get to Church. Whether we live in the city or in the country, modern transportation can bring us conveniently to the very doors of the Church. Yet we are far more apt to stay home than grandfather was.

Grandfather realized there was so much to be gained by making his pilgrimage through the snow that only sickness could have kept him at home. He knew that few experiences were richer than worshiping in the church of his choice each Sunday morning. If we stop to think . . . and if we're honest with ourselves . . . we'll know it too.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

IF YOU WANT TO SING YOU GOTTA SIGN

Applications for entry in the Grand Opera Auditions for the Twin Cities area must be filed not later than January 15. Forms and information may be had from the Opera Committee, 109 Northrop Auditorium, Minneapolis 14. February 21 and 22 aspiring vocalists from North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Minnesota, will be heard and evaluated by a committee of 17 competent judges headed by the well known Duluth conductor Herman Herz. Winners will have a second hearing and the top regional vocalist will have a try right at the fabulous Met. While last year's Twin Cities winner was not signed by the Met she has been a busy and popular concert artist since. An earlier winner, Robert McFerrin, baritone, was the first Negro male singer ever signed by the Metropolitan Opera Company. This may be the first year the Upper Midwest will score!

Action to Change Name Taken Last Thursday; Warren Man Is Speaker

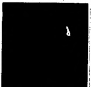
Eddy Ruhl in Concert Here Thursday Night



EDDY RUHL

A handsome, young tenor is the next offering of this year's Northwest Concert association concert series. He is Eddy Ruhl, a protege of Mme. Schumann-Heink who will appear in the Lincoln high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. on Thursday, January 13.

Ruhl has been a favorite of opera audiences in Europe and America, and has been a concert hall favorite since shortly after he left high school. Orchestra conductors, Victor De Sabata, Walter Damrosch, Arturo Toscanini and Hans Kindler have all called his voice one of the most beautiful in the world today. And opera stars like Rosa Ponselle and Lawrence Tibbett have felt that it was an outstanding voice.

Marshall Co. Residents Again Vote Down Liquor Sale Monday

Vote with One Precinct Missing Is 2,822 in Favor, 3,210 Opposed

For the third time since the repeal of the national prohibition law, Marshall county voters in a special election Monday voted down a proposal to permit the sale of liquor in municipal liquor stores.

The county auditor's office in Warren reported this morning that with all precincts except Excel township reporting, the vote was 2,822 in favor of sale and 3,210 opposed.

The question submitted to the voters was, "Shall the sale of intoxicating liquors be permitted within the county of Marshall thru the establishment of municipal liquor stores?"

The city of Warren and most of the villages of the county voted "Yes" on the question by varying margins, while most of the townships endorsed the "No" side of the argument.

Unofficial returns from the municipalities with the yes vote listed first were:

Alvarado 35, 77; Argyle 341, 52; Grygla 31, 68; Holt 39, 39; Middle River 128, 67; Oslo 117, 45; Stephen 192, 178; Viking 6, 58; Warren 485, 380; Newfolden 61, 136; and Strandquist 47, 34.

Liquor sales have been banned in Marshall County since 1915 when they were voted out under the county option law. The election Monday, as in 1947, was on whether or not to permit establishment of municipal liquor stores in the county.

In 1917 most municipalities voted strongly in favor of the proposal but rural areas were solidly against it. The outcome was 2,037 yes to 2,602 no.

Minnesotan Finds Australians Able Wool Producers

Manager of State Wool Reports on His Recent Journey to Australia

The care and skill of Australian wool growers in preparing superior fleeces seems far ahead of U. S. practices. This comment came this afternoon (Wednesday, Jan. 12) from Carl Nadasdy, a Minneapolis wool marketing authority who spoke before a University of Minnesota Farm and Home Week audience.

Nadasdy, general manager of the Minnesota, Dakotas and Iowa Co-op Wool Growers, returned recently from "down under." He says Australian growers begin planning their wool crop with superior breeding. They are not concerned with carcass quality or body confirmation—80 per cent of Australian sheep income is from wool, only 20 per cent from lamb. U. S. sheep raisers are just the opposite—70 per cent of their income is from lamb, 30 per cent from wool.

In choosing breeding rams, the Australian producer checks grade, staple length and fiber density of the ram's fleece. After getting ewe lambs for breeding, he culls nearly a third as unsuitable for high quality wool production.

After shearing, Australians are extremely careful to remove skirts, bellies, britch and tags, placing each in separate bales. They handle the main part of the fleece separately.

Some Australian methods are at present "too drastic" and impractical for U. S. growers. But radical improvements are needed in the way our domestic clip is prepared. If we do not "move" on these necessary changes, Nadasdy says, we will lose markets to superior Australian wool.

The reason: Australian wools arrive in the U. S. ready for manufacturers. Little if any labor is required for sorting and other operations to get wool ready for scouring—the Australians take care of that on the ranch.

In production costs, we have a real battle ahead of us, Nadasdy says. Labor, supplies and other production items are far cheaper in Australia. Most important, however, is the climate. Much of Australia seldom gets freezing weather. They can thus graze sheep the year around and seldom have to feed hay or grain in winter.

Christgau Explains Social Security as Applied to Farmers

The recent extension of old age and survivors' insurance protection is probably the most important improvement made in social security system.

This statement came at a Farm and Home Week convocation on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus Wednesday, Jan. 12, from Victor Christgau, director of Old age and survivors' insurance in the new Federal Bureau of health, Education and Welfare in Washington.

Now, under present act of Congress, five and a half million farm workers are covered by old age and survivors' insurance. Included are three half million self-employed farm operators and two hired workers. In Minnesota about 150,000 farm operators and 60,000 hired workers will begin earning social security credits beginning this month, Christgau said

With extension of social security protection to farm people, Christgau's bureau, OSTI, gradually will assume more and more of the load in providing financial coverage will be about $75 million a year—by 1980, $130 million a year. Minnesota will share in these savings. The state appropriated nearly $12 million for old-age assistance in fiscal 1954.

Christgau described OASI as a self-supporting financed from each worker's contributions, their employers' and the self-employed—benefits are paid as an "earned right."

To a farmer at age 65, it will mean fixed monthly income ranging from minimum $30 to a maximum $108.50 for as long as he lives, the farmer and his aged wife will be entitled to a total monthly benefit ranging from $45 to $162.80. If there are children in the family who are still under 18, family benefits can total as much as $200 a month. Since an average person is estimated to live at least 13 years beyond 65, these payments can become sizable.

To a farmer in his younger or middle years with a growing family, the survivor's part of the program may be more important than the retirement features, Christgau pointed out. For example, in case the husband dies premturly, his widow would be eligible for monthly benefits ranging from $30 to $81.40. A widow with children under 18 would be entitled to payments ranging from $45 to $200 monthly.

Even if a man leaves no wife or children upon his death, but only aged and dependent parents they would be paid benefits in the program.

Christgau suggested farmers and farm workers who want to know more about the program write or call the District director of Internal Revenue in St. Paul or any such local office. A booklet of full instructions will be available from such offices in a few days, he said.

Area Men Attend Session of FU in St. Paul Jan. 4th

Orlie Hafdahl of Pennington county, Neil Morrisey of Gatzke and Oscar Rokke of Newfolden were among 64 farm leaders from all parts of the state who met January 4th in St. Paul.

The Farmers Union group met in an all-day session to discuss national and state issues and to place emphasis upon building, the Farmers Union to help strengthen the farm support program.

Pointing out that the parity ratio had dropped to the lowest point in 14 years, Edwin Christianson, president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, cited the importance of restoration of 90% supports on basic crops and dairy products.

Federal Census of Manufacturers Is Being Conducted

Report forms of the 1954 census of manufacturers are being mailed to all Minnesota manufacturers by the bureau of the census, Department of Commerce The information requested of manufacturing firms in this canvass will enable the census bureau to modernize the detailed manufaturers statistics, now of the vintage of 1947, for states and smaller areas.

The 1947 census showed 4,567 manufacturing establishments in Minnesota, with value added by manufacture of $1,022.6 million, an average of 179,900 employees for the year, and salaries and wages of $501.3 million.

15 Hunting Deaths Occurred in 1954

Total of 93 Accidents Reported During Year

With a total of 15 deaths and 78 injuries the 1954 hunting and firearms seasons ended with a total of 93 accidents which is the 4th lowest total in the past ten years.

There were 35 injuries and 5 deaths during the regular deer, duck, pheasant and grouse seasons. One death and 11 injuries resulted from the deer seasons; 3 deaths and 6 injuries during the duck season; 1 death and 13 injuries, pheasant and 5 injuries for the grouse season. Last year 15 deaths occurred during the same open seasons, 9 of which were deer hunters.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

During the six weeks I have been serving as Commissioner of Administration for the state government I have had a most unusual opportunity to observe at close range the problems that face the new legislature and the incoming administration.

From my particular vantage point the difficulties we face — especially the financial ones — are fully as large as they have been described in news headlines and reports. However carefully we plan and budget, we are certain to need many millions of dollars in additional revenue for the next biennium.

Setting aside for the moment my own preferences concerning what should be done, I would like to review some of the central points that I believe are of critical importance as we proceed to grapple with the work of this session.

No Balance This Time

One hears a good deal about the general revenue fund. This is the fund which receives all the non-dedicated taxes and receipts (such as revenues from iron ore, gross earnings, liquor, beer, and cigaret taxes) and which supports the main run of state governmental activities.

In previous years there has always been a balance in this fund as the new biennium opened. Two years ago it was more than $8,000,000. This year there is no balance; in fact, there is likely to be a deficiency.

At the same time some of the taxes, notably iron ore and gross earnings, are expected to yield less than in previous years. Add to this the normal expansion in governmental needs, such as salary increases, and the total additional revenue begins to mount.

Tax Program Awaited

Governor Orville L. Freeman indicated in his inaugural message last week that he had no intention of "dismembering" state programs and that ways would and must be found to provide enough to meet essential services.

With something in excess of $20,000,000 needed in additional revenue for the General Revenue Fund, the big question in everyone's mind is, Where will the money come from?

The answer will be forthcoming next Wedenaday (January 19) when the Governor presents his budget message. If it comes off as planned, the message will be given in the evening before a joint house-senate session and will be televised, for the first time in history.

More For Schools, Too

The General Revenue Fund is only part of the story, however. An even larger sum is needed for public schools, which are supported, insofar as the state is concerned, out of the dedicated income tax fund.

At present the state pays, among several different types of aid, a basic aid of $80 per year for every pupil unit. Because there will be some 50,000 more children of school age next year, the drain on the income tax school fund is very strong. On the basis of $80 basic aid, the fund will be $12,000,000 short at the end of the next biennium, if the income tax rates were to remain unchanged.

But Governor Freeman stated in his inaugural message that he favors increasing the basic aid from $80 to $92, and this means that the deficiency at that rate will be $29,000,000 — which is the additional amount needed for schools, if the basic aid is to be increased to $92, as urged by spokesmen for public education.

Buildings Needed, Too

To complete the picture one needs to consider the matter of buildings, too. Over the years many structures have deteriorated to the point where they are dangerous hazards to life. The new Governor has declared in favor of an $4,000,000 emergency building program to replace hazardous structures at Anoka, Rochester, Hastings and Faribault institutions.

Added to this are other critical needs, in the Governor's view, that will require perhaps as much as $30,000,000. Buildings are paid for by bond issues which are amortized over a period of years with revenue received from the property tax.

What is needed here is more long-range planning that would enable the legislature to consider the long-term replacement needs for the state. Some of our buildings are as old as 85 years, and we are entering a period when the need for rebuilding can no longer be put off.

Co-operative Spirit

The early days of the session finds a reassuring spirit of cooperation on the part of the liberal-controlled house and the conservative-controlled senate. Liberals hold a one-vote margin in the house, and the lineup here will be observed nervously as the leadership proceeds to its work. Freeman, as would be expected, is working in close liaison with house liberals, and, so far, senate conservatives have been co-operating, too.

The magnitude of the problems we face has given everyone a sense of the need to submerge partisan differences in order to arrive at workable solutions. Whether this spirit will continue is, of course, the question, but so far there is reason to hope that it will and that the session will produce some happy answers.

PUBLIC OPINION

Lynbrook, N. Y.

Editor, The Times:

Being a native of Thief River Falls, and a subscriber of the "Times," I naturally devour the contents of each copy of the paper. It is great to keep in touch with the home town, and through the Times I once again got in touch with Carol Southard. We more or less grew up together, as her mother had a dressmaking shop next door to my dad's cream station. Carol now lives in New York City, and it was great to talk to her again about old times back home.

My family and I live on Long Island, and I commute every day to New York City where I am employed as an illustrator (artist) for Transfilm Inc., producers of films for industry. We do motion pictures, animated cartoons, television spots, filmstrips, and slides. President Eisenhower had his campaign television speeches filmed in our studio. I helped letter his speeches on large cards, which he read before the camera. They were out of range of the audience, however.

As a hobby, I've been doing ceramics for some time. Now it is going beyond the hobby stage, and I've been able to sell some of my work.

Perhaps you would be interested in the following item which appeared in the May, 1954 issue of "Crockery & Glass Journal," a trade magazine under the heading—"Shopping the New York Stores" was the following paragraph, "At the Mayflew Shop, on well-heeled Madison Avenue, the emphasis was on exclusive imported merchandise. Windows featured Blue Circle dinnerware, imported from Denmark, at $8.50 per place setting, and stark white French Limoges, at $12.75 per place setting. Also from France were Limoges China ash trays at $7.50, hand-painted by Stan Newland, a famous Norwegian decorator. Bearing the insignia of well-known men's colleges, these trays have been extremely popular."

As for being a famous Norwegian decorator, well at least I'm of Norwegian extraction and I am a decorator among other things.

Sincerely yours,
STAN NEWLAND

Editor the Times:

The picture of the 1,000th B-47 published in the January 5 edition of the Times was of particular interest to me because I was personally in charge of conditioning the engines, which is a major tune up, when we received it here at Smoky Hill from the factory in Witchita.

The plane was received by my squadron, the 45th Bomb Sqd., in the 40th Bomb Wing, the 11th of December. Many local and military dignitaries were present for the ceremonies. The plane was christened "The City of Salina" by a local girl.

The plane will go with us when we go overseas this spring.

I can disclose only this much about the plane. It is a 6 jet engine medium bomber in the 600 mph. class. The wing span is 116 feet, the length is 108 feet, and stands 33 feet high at the tail and carries a crew of three.

The armament consists of two rapid firing 20 millimeter cannon mounted in the tail.

Sincerely yours,
A/2c Gary Forsberg

Wool Production

The good sheep raisers in Pennington County tell me they're pampering their sheep flock this winter and aiming for a high quality clip in the spring. Some of them are buying bred ewes if they have the feed.

The length, weight and strength of a fleece can be improved by proper feeding. Wool is very high in protein; therefore, a well-balanced ration is needed for maximum wool growth. In winter, legume hay, with its high-protein content, along with some oats, will assure a well-grown fleece.

Where common roughages such as wild or timothy hay must be fed, a protein supplement should be added. A fifth of a pound of oil meal per head per day will suffice or one and one half to two pounds of good oats if this is cheaper.

Follow These Rules

Wool represents approximately one-third of the income from sheep in Minnesota. Income from a flock can be increased substantially by closer attention to growing good wool and by better care in handling and preparation for market.

1. Improve your sheep and wool by breeding. Use good rams. This will insure wool of good length of fiber and desirable fineness.
2. Keep pastures free of burrs.
3. Use carefully constructed hayracks or mangers to protect the necks from chaff.
4. Do not let sheep run to hay or strawstacks. This means too much chaff in the wool.
5. Dip for the control of ticks and other external parasites at least once a year.
6. If sheep are to go on pasture before shearing, they should be tagged, that is clipped behind from the crutch to the dock to prevent the smearing of the wool by scouring and formation of dunglocks.
7. It takes a year to grow a fleece. Do not spoil a good fleece by carelessness at shearing time or failure to condition it after shearing.

Order Trees Now

If you have made plans for planting a windbreak next spring you can order Evergreen or Hardwood trees from the Extension Office.

The following species are available. Norway Pine, White Pine, Jack Pine, White Spruce, Black Spruce, White Cedar, American Elm, Green Ash, Soft Maple, and Caragana. The cost of these trees is very little. I would guess for $5.00 you could order all the trees you needed for the average windbreak planting. Also any farmer who desires to use the tree planting machine next spring may do so. Stop in soon and order your trees before they are all gone.

OUR LAND

Ditch System Effective

Glen Sutton, a farmer at Saum, Beltrami County, finds a parallel ditch system removes surface water well. He is farming 80 acres in a wet sand area. Before, he was at the mercy of the weather. In 1952, with help of the Beltrami County Soil Conservation District, Sutton built an outlet ditch through a low area. He plowed deep dead furrows—parallel & spaced about 300 feet apart—leading into the ditch. The system worked so well that in 1953 Sutton had the District's dozer in to deepen two of the dead furrows and shaped them out to 4 to 1 side slopes for easier working. He plans the same with two more dead furrows as the land is broken out of a hay crop. This year, the ditches and the outlet were fertilized and seeded to a grass-legume mixture. Says Sutton: "I got a beautiful catch—I don't have ditches, but permanent hay strips."

Prefers Trench Silo

Fred Lau, Farmington, Dakota County, likes his new trench silo better than the old type. He built it in 1953 with the help of a neighbor. The trench stretches 150 feet into a hill, is eight feet deep and 16 feet wide. He used cement blocks for the walls with glass blocks for windows near the top. It has no roof but he plans one this summer. Lau says: "Put the trench where feeding and filling will be the most convenient. Slope it to keep water out. Slope side walls one or two inches for each foot of depth. My side walls need more slope, I find. This year, Fred filled much of the silo with pea silage from the vinery where he sold his peas. He put corn in the rest.

The quality of the material and the problems of washing and shrinkage must be considered when buying marquisette curtains.

Today a wide assortment of marquisette curtains is available, in cotton, rayon, Dacron, nylon, glass fiber and Orlon. When buying curtains, choose the fabric which best suits your requirements at a price you can afford to pay. Here are some questions you should ask: Will the curtains improve the looks of the room and regulate light? Will they retain their general appearance, size and shape under use and care? Will they wash easily and resist shrinking?

In tests made on various fabrics, nylon marquisette shrank 2.5 per cent or less, cotton marquisette shrank 3 per cent or more and rayon 5 per cent or more. On an 80-inch panel 3 per cent shrinkage would mean a loss of 2.4 inches and 5 per cent would mean shrinkage of 4 inches.

Cotton and rayon marquisette with permanent finishes shrank less in the tests than those with only a starch finish. Curtains with permanent finishes were generally easier to put on stretchers than the regular starched curtains.

Some of the fibers used in marquisette curtains are more durable than others when exposed to light and heat, and they withstand the effects of gases, smoke and soot. Glass fiber is exceptionally resistant to these conditions. Dacron and Orlon are also outstanding, and all three are superior to nylon in this respect.

Nylon curtains, however, are very popular because they are lower in price than most of the other materials and durable when they are not exposed to direct sunlight, intense heat, industrial fumes, and soot for long periods. Consequently, nylon curtains will last longer if hung in windows away from direct sunlight and away from hot radiators and other sources of heat.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I am the widow of a World War I veteran, receiving death pension payments. I recently received the proceeds of a fire insurance policy, to cover damage of a fire to my house. Does the fire insurance money count as income, for VA pension purposes?

A—No. Proceeds of a fire insurance policy are not considered in computing your yearly income for VA pension purposes.

Q—Can a veteran who lives in one State obtain a GI loan for the purchase of property in another State?

A—Yes, it is possible. However, you may find that lenders generally confine their lending operations to certain areas.

Q—I have a term National Service Life Insurance policy. Premiums were placed under waiver when I returned to active duty. I understand that the waiver will continue for 120 days after my separation from service. May I cut short that 120-day period? I would like to pick up my term policy and then convert it to a permanent plan of insurance, taking advantage of a lower premium rate because of my birth date.

A—Yes. You may resume your term policy at any time after your separation, without waiting for the 120-day period to expire. Of course, once you resume payments you may convert to a permanent plan.

Q—How would my entitlement be used up, in case I decide to take flight training under the Korean GI Bill?

A—Your entitlement would be used up at the rate of one day for each $1.25 paid to you as your GI training allowance.

Thieves Win Two out of 3 Tilts Past Week; G. Forks Here Jan. 15

The senior hockey Thieves broke into the Northwest Hockey league win column this past week when they scored a pair of triumphs, defeating the Roseau Cloverleafs, 11 to 6, and the Crookston Pirates, 5 to 1. In the third game on the week's home schedule, the Thieves dropped a 6 to 5 decision to the Warroad Lakers on Sunday afternoon.

The Thieves will be idle on Wednesday night, but on Saturday night, January 15, the ever-colorful Grand Forks Redwings will play the locals on the Arena rink; and on Sunday afternoon coach Bedard's squad will meet the Crookston Pirates at Crookston.

Last Wednesday night, the Thieves, punching seven goals past their "jinx" net minder Roseau's Don Collins, in the third period, defeated the Leafs, 11 to 6. Roseau, playing without the services of center Monty Markstrom, and losing Fred Dunsmore in the first period when the nifty Roseau forward suffered a gash over an eye, held a 5 to 4 lead entering the third period. With Roseau's Don Johnson sitting out a penalty, the Thieves racked up a pair of quick goals, with Ron Castelane and Chuck Lamsden scoring. The locals piled in four more goals in rapid order to gain a 10 to 5 lead before Roseau's George Stevens tallied for the Leafs. With seconds remaining of the game, Church Russell, who scored three goals during the period and had four for the game, flipped in the Thieves' final marker.

On Saturday night, on the Arena ice, the Thieves, showing their finest hockey of the young season, and with the redoubtable Bill Juzda back on the blue-line, defeated Sergio Gambucci's Crookston Pirates, 5 to 1. The one goal that the Pirates scored, and which gave Crookston a 1 to 1 tie at the end of first period, was credited to Joe Vinet but the goal glanced into the Thieves' net off Larry Winder's skate.

With bashing Bill Juzda at the blue-line, the Crookston attack was held pretty well in check, and in addition Juzda was credited with four assists during the game. Bud Brossoit, playing at a wing with Church Russell and Ron Castelane, was outstanding for the locals, scoring a pair of goals, as did Castelane, and had one assist.

Sunday afternoon's tilt against the league-leading Warroad Lakers was nip-and-tuck until the 15:30 mark of the third period when Art Stratton, poke-checking the puck away from the Thieves' defense, skated in on goalie Jack McGill and, after a neat feint, flipped in the tie-breaking score, giving Warroad a 6 to 5 win.

The game may have proved more costly to the Thieves than the two points that Warroad gained, for in the first period, Juzda pulled a groin muscle and forced to leave the game. It is doubtful if Juzda will be able to play for a couple of weeks.

Prowler Cage Team Drops 2 Games in Week

Lose to Crookston, Ada; Will Play Bagley Flyers Here Friday Evening

The Prowler cagers dropped a pair of games over the weekend, bringing their season's record to three wins and three losses. Playing on the local court on Friday night, the Prowlers lost a 64 to 41 decision to Al Droen's alert Crookston Pirate squad in a 31st district encounter; and on Saturday night, playing at Ada, the locals lost to the Vikings by a 60 to 44 score.

This week, on Friday night on the local court, coach Al Adams' crew will meet Dick Lawrence's Bagley Flyers in an inter-district game. In a "thriller" played at Bagley last year, the Flyers edged out the Prowlers, 39 to 38.

In the preliminary games played this week, coach Joe Mrkonich's 'B' squad had their winning streak broken when they lost a 42 to 32 game to Linton Lehrer's Crookston 'B' team. On Saturday night, the local 'B' team, with Dave Hanson scoring 30 points and Dave Rasmussen tallying 11 points, defeated the Ada 'B' team, 56 to 42.

Friday night's varsity game was featured by the sharpshooting of a pair of Crookston Pirates. Hank Hulst, a fast-breaking guard, scored nine field goals and eight free throws for a 26-point total; and blond Bruce Lindell, with a deadly one-handed push shot, looped in six field goals and a pair of free throws.

George Gifford, playing at center for the Prowlers, was the high scorer for the locals on four field goals and five free throws.

The Ada Vikings, with a veteran forward line of Sherman Moe, Mike Simpson, and Harold Moe, handled the Prowlers with comparative ease in an inter-district game played at Ada on Saturday night, winning by a 60 to 44 score.

Rangy Sherm Moe, a forward, racked up eleven field goals and nine free throws for a 31-point effort in the three periods that he played. With the game score at 47 to 21 in favor of Ada, Moe, together with other of the Viking "first stringers" was taken out of the game. The Prowlers picked up the bulk of their points in the fourth period scoring 23 points, with Bill Frahm notching nine points and Evan Jones scoring three field goals. Frahm's 14-point total was the game's high for the Prowlers.

The Warroad Lakers, winning one of the two games that played during the week, added a pair of points to their team standings and hold a three-point lead over the runner-up Roseau Cloverleafs. The Lakers, who are due to lose a couple of players—Dan McKinnon and Dick Dougherty—to the United States Olympic hockey squad, have been anxious to build up a point "cushion" and assure a place in the playoffs.

The Grand Forks Redwings, with a win and a tie in four games, will be busy this week, playing three games in five days. The Wings travel to Roseau on Wednesday; play the Thieves at Thief River Falls on Saturday; and are host to the Warroad Lakers at Grand Forks on Sunday.

During the week's play, coach Paul Bedard's Thieves made the largest point gain, winning a pair of games to mark up four points in the league standings.

LES VIGNESS

Returning to the senior hockey Thieves lineup this year, after an absence of four years, during which time he was serving out an enlistment in the Air Force, is Lester "Les" Vigness. Vigness, a standout performer for Prowler varsity squads in football, track, and hockey, graduated from Lincoln high school in 1946. During the following two years, Vigness was a valued member of the senior hockey Thieves.

In 1948 he enlisted in the Air Force, and during two hockey seasons, while stationed in California, he was a member of Bill Gray's San Bernadino Shamrocks. The past two hockey seasons, Vigness has been stationed in Kansas, and as a result has not been able to participate in hockey.

Les, who's 26 years old, has been playing on the line that is being centered by Larry Winder and which has Swede Lund on the other wing. Vigness, who packs a solid 200 pounds on his five-foot, ten-inch frame, admits to being overweight, but a few more double-headers like this past week and he'll be like the Viggy that gained all-regional honors.

Prowlers Defeat Williams Six 5-1

Joey Poole Scores Three Goals in Saturday Tilt

Playing on a snow-covered rink at Williams on Saturday night, coach Dunla Rolle's hockey Prowlers, with Joey Poole scoring three goals, defeated the Williams high school sextet, 5 to 1. The win marked the third straight of the season for the blue-and-gold and increased their winning streak to twenty-four games. The Prowlers' long winning skein will be in jeopardy tonight, Wednesday, when the Roseau Rams, winners of seven games this season, will meet the locals on the Arena rink. The Rams, who won a spectacular 3 to 2 overtime game from the Warroad Warriors at Roseau on Friday night, are currently in first place in the regional conference standings.

Following their important conference tilt against Roseau here tonight, the Prowlers will make the long jaunt to Duluth, where, on Saturday night, they meet the Duluth East high school team. The Prowlers will return to their "home" ice on Tuesday night, Jan. 18th, when they play the Baudette sextet in a conference game.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

End of a Streak

When Al Droen's Crookston Pirates basketball team beat the Prowlers on Friday night, 64 to 41, it marked the first time since late in February of 1950 that the Pirates had scored a cage victory over the locals. Way back in 1950, in a game played at Crookston, the Pirates defeated such Prowlers as Don Green, Don Stadum, Duane DuChamp, Jerry Furuseth, Wally Grovum, Donny Johnson, Dick Bjorkman, Rog Williamson, Stan Rosengren, and LeRoy Aasland by a 43 to 36 score.

Starting in a district consolation game played that year, which was won by the Prowlers, 46 to 36, the Prowlers had run up a winning streak of ten games. Trying to make it eleven games on Friday night, the locals were outplayed and out-rebounded by an alert Crookston squad, and while we won't agree that the Pirates were 23 points better than the locals, they were beaten by a better team.

Looking over the Crookston lineup, and most of the varsity boys are juniors, and judging by the boys that coach Lipton Lehrer has on the Pirates 'B' squad, it's probable that Crookston will be a "power" in district basketball for the next several years. The Prowlers will be hard-pressed to gain a win over the Pirates in the next two years.

Coach Al Adams' Prowlers were sluggish in their game against Crookston on Friday night, appearing to lack "desire" to cover the rebounds. It's the hope that Chuck Brandvold's eligibility and entrance in the Prowler lineup on Friday night, against Bagley, will give the locals a "lift." It's a cinch that Chuck will add "power" around the basket, for he's a rugged competitor.

A Few Words

We had an interesting dressing-room conversation with Bill Juzda prior to the Thieves vs. Crookston Pirates hockey game here Saturday night. During the conversation we mentioned that we had read a feature article on Montreal's famed Maurice Richard in a national sports magazine a couple of months ago. And this article stated that Richard had once "knocked out" Bill Juzda, who was a defenseman for the Toronto Maple Leafs at the time.

Well, Bill's answer to that was: "Yes, Richard did knock me dizzy one time, clobbering me from behind. Richard will never hit a guy from the front."

And, Bill, continued, "It didn't say that I had Richard on his back one night in New York. It didn't say that, one time at Toronto, I had him down. And it din't tell of the time I had him against the boards, closer than I am to you, and said 'All right, you blankety-blank - blank - blankety Frog, what are you going to do about it?' Richard didn't do a thing."

And to emphasize his remarks, Bill poked us in the chest with his forefinger, which felt, and looked like a tamarac stump. Frankly, we believe that one of the smartest things that Richard ever did was when he didn't do anything about that challenge of Bill's.

The League's Best Line

Said Warroad's Dick Roberts, as we were refreshing our acquaintance with the former Prowler hockey coach on Sunday, "You're going to see the league's best forward line in action for the Lakers today when you see the two Strattons and Joe Cyr. They're terrific."

After witnessing the game which was won by the Lakers, 6 to 5, and which found the "Stratton Line" accounting for four of the six Warroad goals, we are pretty well in agreement with Roberts. This young line, and the boys are members of the Winnipeg Barons junior hockey team, has Art Stratton at center, Gordy Stratton at right wing, and Joe Cyr at left wing.

The trio didn't possess such exceptional skating ability, but they were adept in passing and setting up plays in front of the offensive net. The two Stratton's wore glasses, but that fact didn't handicap their play.

We hear, too, that the Stratton line is anxious to go to college down here, and if coach Johnny Mariucci and the Gophers do not care for the Canadians, well, the North Dakota Sioux could certainly find a place for these boys. They're hockey players.

Remember that boy in service with a gift subscription to the Times.

Prowlers Win over Halstad 53-44 in Thrilling Windup

Visitors Lead Locals 25 to 20 at Half-time in Game Here Tuesday

Trailing by a 16 to 12 score at the end of the first period, and 25 to 20 at the half-time intermission, and out-played and out-rebounded by the Halstad Pirates, Coach Al Adams' Prowlers rallied in the second half to win an exciting 53 to 44 game from Coach Ray Kerrigan's squad here Tuesday night.

With Alden Holte doing some fine work covering the backboards, and racking up four field goals and three free throws Halstad spurted into an early lead and held a five-point margin at the half. On several occasions the alert Halstad frontline defenders intercepted Prowler passes and drove down the court for lay-up shots.

The Prowlers played improved basketball in the third quarter, and when Frahm hooked in a field goal, the locals had tied the game at 33-all. Lee Kjos, dropping in a pair of free throws moved the Prowlers into the lead, and with Frahm and Gifford hitting on field goals, Coach Adams' team rolled into a "safe" lead in the final minutes of the game. Frahm, with 21 points, on nine field goals and three free throws, was the game's high-point man. Halstad's Alden Holte, who fouled out of the game in the fourth period, notched fifteen points for the losers.

In a preliminary game, Coach Joe Mrkonich's 'B' team defeated the Halstad 'B' team, 46 to 25.

Higher Income Levy or Sales Tax Needed to Meet State Needs

Every person who makes a living in Minnesota will have to contribute some direct tax payment in support of government if financial needs of the state and its local communities are to continue to increase.

This is the conclusion of the Minnesota tax study commission, as announced today in the latest of a series of reports. The commission emphasized these three points:

1. Rising government costs inevitably will mean increased direct taxes on Minnesota residents.

2. Many citizens now exempted in whole or in part will have to contribute something in direct taxation.

3. Larger tax yields should come from one of two sources—either a uniform (ungraduated) levy on individual income or else a general sales tax.

The Commission previously reported that average taxes on property and personal incomes were high, and has now concluded that ways must be found to obtain direct taxes, even if in small amounts, from everyone earning a living in Minnesota.

This could be accomplished either by taxing income, including lower brackets now exempt, or by imposition of a general sales tax. Under a sales tax, an individual's tax payments would be determined by the amounts spent on goods subject to the levy.

The commission's latest report discusses the merits and demerits of six methods of taxation not now used in Minnesota, but which have been proposed here. These are a public utilities use tax, the Michigan receipts or "value added" tax, graduated land tax, hotel occupancy tax, pari-mutuel racing tax and general sales tax.

Tax relationships between the state and local governmental subdivisions also were studied by the group. In this connection the Commission said: "Local units should not appeal to the state to furnish funds for purely responsibilities. On the other hand, the state in its exercise of control of the local units, must provide them with sufficient and satisfactory means to levy the necessary taxes to raise the needed revenues."

Also, the commission said: "Each unit of government spending public money ought to have responsibility to levy upon its own citizens as much as possible of the taxes needed. . . Local government in the long run are better off to levy taxes according to their needs instead of looking to the state for grants, which usually result in the state directing how the expenditure shall be made."

1954 Traffic Toll in State Hits 637

9 Deaths New Years Eve Boosts Minnesota Total

Nine traffic deaths New Year's Eve—one more than was predicted for the entire holiday week end—boosted Minnesota's 1954 traffic toll to 637, just one less than in 1953 when 638 motorists and pedestrians were killed in accidents on streets and highways. The 51 deaths on which reports have been received to date, were exceeded in only 2 other years during the past decade and were 18 more than were recorded in December of 1953.

Two major factors in the month's unpleasant statistics were the great number of collisions and their severity. There were a total of 21 such accidents, each involving two or more vehicles, with 31 resultant fatalities. Two of the worst, accounting for three and four deaths respectively, occurred on New Years Eve, and were largely responsible for the very dismal holiday traffic record.

Nine deaths resulted from eight single vehicle accidents, with two railroad grade crossing mishaps bringing death to three motorists. Other accidents consisted of vehicles running off the roadway, hitting protective guard rail or bridge abutments.

The eleven pedestrian deaths during December brought the year's toll to 120, or 17 below the 137 pedestrians killed in 1953. Conforming to the usual pattern, the victims were either very young or well past middle age.

Entries Asked in Livestock Sales at Winter Shows

Annual Show and Sale Have Been Scheduled for Week of Feb. 21st

The annual livestock show and sales at the forthcoming Red River Valley Winter Shows, February 21-25, at Crookston promises to set new records, according to O. M. Kiser, secretary of the Red River Valley Livestock Association. According to Mr. Kiser, sixty-five consignors have consigned 245 head of purebred cattle, sheep, and swine for the two-day sales held on the closing days of the Winter Shows.

Eighty-seven head of bulls and cows of the leading breeds of beef and dairy cattle will be sold on Thursday, February 24, and a total of 138 head of bred ewes and gilts of all leading breeds of sheep will be sold on Friday, February 25. A total of twenty-six of the leading breeders of cattle, sheep, and swine will offer twenty-eight head of calves, Gilts, and lambs to boys and girls to enter in the Junior Futurity contests.

Much interest is also reported by Mr. Kiser in the open classes and futurity livestock shows. All entries in the open classes must be in the hands of the secretary by February 10. Present prospects indicate new records in both open and Futurity classes. The livestock judging contests and open class judging of sheep will be held on the opening of the show, Monday, February 21. Livestock judging will be completed on Wednesday to make room for the livestock sales on Thursday and Friday.

Prospective livestock exhibitors wishing to enter livestock at the Winter Shows should write to O. M. Kiser, secretary of the Red River Valley Livestock Association, Crookston, Minnesota.

Governor Freeman Cites Minnesota Financial Plight

Says in His Inaugural Message That State Faces Deficit of $38,000,000

Minnesota legislators last Wednesday saw Gov. Freeman's tax proposals as the key to achievement of the broad legislative program he outlined in his inaugural address to the state legislature.

The state's new governor gave no inkling immediately of how he proposes to pay for the expanded services he asked in his opening message.

It will be about two weeks, it was indicated, before the Democratic-Farmer-Labor governor delivers his budget message, and perhaps longer before he recommends specific revenue measures.

Freeman, after taking his oath of office at noon Wednesday, warned that the state will be 38 million dollars in the red at present levels of spending and taxing—including the deficit threatened in the income tax school fund.

He proposed four major goals in the field of human resources maximum development of natural resources, development of an expanding economy and maximum efficiency in government.

He urged raising basic school aid from $80 to $92, raising old age assistance maximums $5 a month, expanding business activity and payrolls, developing a long-range highway program, reorganizing state government and enacting constitutional revision, reapportionment, party designation and an FEPC law.

111 State Deaths by Drowning in '54

Total Compares with 146 Recorded in 1953

The reduction of Minnesota deaths by drowning from 146 in 1953 to 111 in 1954 is an accomplishment which safety officials can cheer, but an equally big story is that 28 people were saved from death in the same accidents which took one or more lives. In addition there are 17 reports which tell of the rescue of 34 people from a death by drowning.

"Undoubtedly," said Carl W. Moen, secretary of the water and hunting section of the Minnesota Safety Council," there were others saved which were not reported. While we are pleased that there were fewer deaths last year, we must not forget that 62 additional deaths hung on a thin thread of safety and the 1954 total could have been at least 173."

News stories also tell why 111 people lost their lives. Overloaded boats; boat tipped by high wind; fisherman standup in boat; children playing on rubber ice; swimmers go into deep water; heavy motor on small boat; and so on, the same causes year after year.

Of the victims, 62 were under 20 years, many small tots who had no fear of water; 93 were men and boys. The use of water craft by 22 people led to death; 40 swimmers; 27 children at play; 19 summer fishermen, and 5 duck hunters.

WORTH TRYING

Here in Minnesota we are constantly being reminded about our excessive taxes. Seldom is anything said about excessive spending. Maybe we should check a little closer on our spending. Possibly the two are related.

We are now being told that there must be further increases in our spending, and the proposed increases are substantial. The proposed increases are particularly disturbing this year because they come at a time when our ability to pay is down.

The taxes that yielded so abundantly during the war years are now producing revenue in more normal amounts. Our spending has been geared to the abundant yields of the war years, and the present comparatively low normal yields are not sufficient to maintain our present spending program. Unless we reduce spending it will require higher taxes just to make both ends meet. If we spend still more then of course the new taxes will have to be still higher.

Services for which the largest increases are being requested are education and welfare. These are services that have great emotional appeal. We must not deny our youth and certainly we should be generous in providing for the needs of our aged. But even for such desirable services we surely are justified in double checking to make certain that we are getting good value for the dollars we spend.

During the past two years there has no appreciable increase in the cost of living. During this period our welfare program has been expanded and we have spent a great deal more money for education at all levels. Possibly we could get along another two years just as we have been doing, without spending more than we have been. We think it would be worth trying.

And by holding the expenditures in these fields down to their present level maybe we could cut enough in other services to break even during the next two years without any tax increases.

There are times when we have to make a special effort to keep our personal spending within the limits of our income. It often happens in the management of our homes and our farms and our businesses. Such a special effort might produce good results in government too.

NO LONGER OPPOSITES

President Eisenhower probably did not please all who heard his "state of the union" message last week but it is noteworthy that it was both condemned and commended with about equal enthusiasm among both Republicans and Democrats. For many of the right-wingers it was radical. And of course for some of the left-wingers it was reactionary.

And so it was with Governor Orville Freeman's inaugural address. He said about the same things that had been said by his predecessors. What he said probably was not satisfactory to the extremists of either the right or the left.

These talks make it increasingly apparent that our political parties no longer represent any special political ideas or ideologies. The terms Republican and Democrat no longer have a meaning other than as they distinguish between the ins and the outs.

This is not as it was intended to be. Political parties are an important part of of our governmental structure. We need them as a vehicle for mass expression, providing leadership on clear-cut issues.

Today there are conservative and liberal blocs within each party but the parties as such have no distinguishing characteristics. A realignment of parties under new names that indicated the common interest, or at least the common point of view, of their membership would probably make for better government.

INDUSTRIOUS BEN FRANKLIN

Next week is national Thrift Week, so designated in recognition of industrious and thrifty Ben Franklin who was born on January 17. We are glad Ben's birthday has not been used as an excuse for another day of idleness. A holiday in his honor would be in conflict with all that he stood for. On the contrary we hope that his birthday will some day be observed as an occasion for extra effort, with everybody working twice as hard as on any other day of the year. That would be in keeping both with his precept and his example as the way to wealth. To Ben, freedom from debt ranked high on the list in the importance of all freedoms.

WELL DESERVED TRIBUTE

Several hundred friends, and leaders of both parties, joined in paying tribute to J. A. A. Burnquist, retiring attorney general, Thursday night. It was a tribute well deserved.

Over a period of nearly a half a century Burnquist has served Minnesota in various official capacities and, whether as legislator, governor or attorney general, he always has served with distinction. Never once during the many years of his service has his record been darkened by the shadow of scandal. He has been a faithful and capable public servant and a good citizen.

THERE MUST BE CONTROLS

In the farm bill passed last summer Congress directed Secretary of Agriculture Benson to study various ways to prop dairy prices. Last week he submitted his report, 183 pages long, outlining three general ways in which the prices of dairy products could be supported.

There apparently was nothing new in the proposals he outlined, and he did not make any recommendations. His estimates of the comparative costs of the different methods probably will be helpful to the members of Congress in their coming studies.

One of the proposals pointed to was the possibility of maintaining a fair price through controls on production or on the marketing of dairy products. It seems logical that here is where the long range solution for this problem will have to be found. It is inconceivable that any price support program can be looked upon as a permanent thing unless it has as its objective control over the production and marketing of the product.

NO SOOT — NO CRESOTE — NO CHIMNEY FIRES—
NOTHING TO BREAK!

For all fuels. Rapid draft pick-up. Adaptable to any type of building, inside or out. Expertly installed. Low installation cost.

READ THESE FACTS:

The high temperature clay liners are sealed together with a high temperature compound that does not crumble, crack or fall out. When the liners are set the chimney has a high temperature tube that does not leak, is free to expand vertically and horizontally without breaking. The high insulation keeps the chimney warm for rapid draft pickup, also eliminates condensation — so no soot, creosote or chimney fires.

We deliver and install all year.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 153

An Ordinance Providing for the Establishment of Impounding Lots for Motor Vehicles, Providing for the Impounding of Motor Vehicles and the Storage Thereof, Establishing Fees in Connection Therewith, Establishing Procedure for Enforcement Thereof, and Providing for Duties of Individuals in Connection Therewith, and Providing for Penalties for Violation Thereof.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS DO HEREBY ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City Council may establish and provide one or more impounding lot for the purpose of keeping and storing impounded motor vehicles as hereinafter provided.

Section 2. Any motor vehicles impounded by the City of Thief River Falls as hereinafter provided shall be placed in said impounding lots or other place as the City Council shall designate.

Section 3. Whenever any police officer finds any unattended vehicle obstructing the traffic on any street or avenue, or obstructing the entrance thereto of any private driveway, or interfering with the maintenance, cleaning, repairing, or snow removal on any streets or avenues, he may remove such vehicle, or cause the same to be removed, and hold the same in the impounding lot or lots or such other place as the City Council shall designate until the City is reimbursed for all costs and charges of such removal and storage or until the same has been disposed of as hereinafter provided.

Section 4. All the provisions of Section 3 shall be applicable to any motor vehicle found standing in or upon any street or avenue or municipal parking lot where the same has not been moved or used for a period of twenty-four hours, regardless of the requirements set out in Section 3.

Section 5. When the regularly designated impounding lot or lots shall have been filled, the City Council may impound said motor vehicles by placing the same in any garage or parking lot in the City of Thief River Falls.

Section 6. The City shall make a charge of $3.00, or actual cost which ever is greater, for towing said motor vehicle so impounded, from the place where found to the place where the same is impounded; and thereafter shall charge as ground rent for the space on which said motor vehicle stands the following fees:

$1.00 for the first 24 hours
.50 per day for the next 9 days
.25 per day for each day exceeding 10 days.

Section 7. The City shall have a lien upon such motor vehicle for such tow charge and for ground use as hereinbefore provided. If any sum secured by such lien be not paid within 60 days after such motor vehicle has been impounded, the City may sell the property and out of the proceeds of such sale there shall be paid, first, all charges and disbursements of the sale proceedings herein provided; second, all charges paid by the City to any other person in connection with the towing and storage of said motor vehicle, and, third, the total indebtedness then secured by the lien aforesaid. The remainder, if any, shall be paid on demand to the owner or other persons entitled thereto.

The sale herein provided for shall be made at public auction between nine o'clock in the morning and five o'clock in the afternoon within the city limits where the property is situated. A notice stating the time and place of sale, the amount which will be due on the date of sale exclusive of the expenses of advertising and sale, and the grounds of the lien, giving a general description of the property to be sold, shall be served personally upon the owner of the property if he can be found within the city or within the county in which the property is stored, and if he cannot, then it shall be mailed to the owner thereof at least three weeks before the time fixed for such sale if the place of residence or post-office address of such owner is known to the city officials or with due diligence can be learned by the city authorities, and shall be published one in each week for three successive weeks in the official newspaper of the City of Thief River Falls, the last publication of such notice to be at least one week prior to the date of sale. In case neither the place of residence nor the post-office address of such owner is known to the city authorities and cannot with reasonable diligence be learned, the publication of notice, as herein provided, shall be sufficient to authorize such sale.

The property sold, as herein provided, shall be in view at the time of the sale. Under the power of sale hereby given any motor vehicle impounded as in this ordinance provided, may be sold to satisfy the amount due at the time of sale, including expenses, and the property may be offered for sale and sold in the form and condition that the same was received by the city. The city, its representatives or officials, may fairly and in good faith purchase any property sold under this section, provided the sale is conducted by the sheriff of the county, his deputy, or any constable of the county where such sale is made.

All papers, had and made in connection with the sale hereinbefore provided for shall be filed with the City Clerk of the City of Thief River Falls.

Provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall prohibit the city from foreclosing the lien herein provided for by action therefore in the district court and pursuant to the order of the court had and made in such action.

Section 8. Nothing contained in this ordinance shall be construed as in any way altering, repealing, or changing the provisions of any existing ordinance.

Section 9. No person shall take from the impounding lot, or other place designated by the Council, any impounded vehicle without first paying all charges and liens against the same.

Section 10. The Chief of Police of the City of Thief River Falls shall keep a full and complete record of all motor vehicles impounded together with a record of all charges and fees against the same in a book provided therefore by the City.

Section 11. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed $100.00 or by confinement in jail for not to exceed 90 days.

Section 12. If any section or portion of this ordinance shall for any reason be declared invalid, then the remainder of such ordinance shall nevertheless remain in full force and effect.

Grasshoppers to Be Problem in '55

State Entomologist Sees Menace in Valley

Minnesota's grain and grass crops may face a serious threat from grasshoppers this summer.

But the forest tent caterpillar is on the run and won't do much damage.

That's the latest report from T. L. Aamodt, state entomologist, following fall surveys and egg counts in Minnesota's fields and forests.

The 1954 adult and egg surveys showed that severe or threatening grasshopper populations exists in substantial portions of central, southeast and northwestern Minnesota.

Severe infestations are predicted for most of Otter Tail and most of Douglas, Grant, Wilkin, Becker, Norman and southern Polk counties. The threatening area spreads to Fillmore, Houston, Winona, Wabasha, Goodhue, Anoka, Wright Meeker, Kanyiohi, Sherburne, Stearns, Morrison, Todd, Cass, Wadena, Hubbard, Becker, Clay Red Lake, Polk, Pennington, Marshall and Roseau Counties.

Aamodt said the forest tent caterpillar infestation has been reduced to the lowest level since the beginning of the outbreak in 1949.

Garrison Dam Power Goes to Work in 1955

This is the year Garrison dam power goes to work.

The first of five 80,000 kilowatt power units is scheduled to go on the line this spring or summer, depending on the reservoir water supply.

About 90 per cent of all farms in North Dakota, now receiving power from rural electrification associations (REA), eventually will get electricity produced from the dam.

Almost 1,000 miles of transmission lines have been completed, connecting 18 bureau of reclamation substations, said Bruce Johnson, project manager, Missouri-Souris project.

The bureau now is constructing a 230,000-volt line from Jamestown to Fargo.

Completed lines have been under lease to Central Electric Co-op, bringing the bureau $900,000 in revenue last year. Revenue from the system is expected to jump to 10 million dollars a year when Garrison power is in full operation.

Garrison power will go to 21 co-ops in North Dakota and 10 in Minnesota.

Thirteen municipalities in the two states also will buy power. They are Cavalier, Grafton Lakota, Maddock, New England, Park River and Valley City, N. D., and Moorhead, Fosston, Hawley, Detroit Lakes, Wadena and Thief River Falls, Minn.

Garrison dam, now 81 percent complete, will be the second of the big dams built on the Missouri river under the Pick-Sloan plan to generate power.

Last year, Fort Randall dam in southeastern South Dakota put its first generators into operation.

Testing Coffee

A way to test the quality of coffee is to put a spoonful in a glass of cold water and add a few drops of lemon juice. If the coffee is pure it will remain on top of the water; if not, the water will become brown in color.

Burnquist Gets Tribute on Giving up State Office

Honored Thursday on Retirement from Office of Attorney General

Minnesota's new governor and the man who just left that office both paid tribute Thursday night to J. A. A. Burnquist, who is retiring as state attorney general after 46 years in public life.

Gov. Orville Freeman told the 75-year-old Burnquist that his years of service "are an inspiration and joy to us younger people." Former Gov. Anderson, recalling that he became lieutenant governor at 26, declared:

"I have learned much from our guest of honor."

Numerous other speakers told the 600 dinner guests at Coffman Memorial Union how Burnquist, a lawyer, had become successively a state legislator, in 1900, lieutenant governor, governor and then attorney general, a berth he has held for the past 16 years.

In his talk, Burnquist said he had learned early "never to take oneself too seriously, but not too much so."

"I also learned," he went on, "that unless a man is willing to be knocked down, flattened out and can get up again, he hasn't the proper disposition to practice law or run for political office."

Burnquist had nothing to say about future plans beyond a planned visit to his grandchildren on the West Coast.

To rebuild our home that was destroyed by fire will cost $6,000 more than the fire insurance we had on it. This $6,000 mortgage puts us right where we started 10 years ago. Would $7.00 more premium per year have covered this loss?

Leirfallom Steps out as Minnesota Welfare Director

Morris Hursh, for the last six years executive secretary of a private Lutheran welfare council in Madison, Wis., Friday was appointed state public welfare commissioner, minutes after Jarle Leirfallom handed his resignation from that post to Gov. Orville L. Freeman.

The post is one of the top appointive jobs in the state administration.

In his resignation letter, Leirfallom said that "In keeping with our discussions, my resignation comes to you at the outset of your administration in order that my successor may integrate his work with your over-all program from the start."

During the past weeks, Leirfallom told the governor, he has encouraged, in every possible way a "constructive transition to the new administration" and that he would gladly assist Commissioner Hursh in every possible way.

Leirfallom is a former resident of Pennington county.

Winter Anglers and Hunters Told to Get Licenses

Minnesota winter anglers, darkhouse spearers, small game hunters and trappers were reminded today that the arrival of the new year January 1 also ushered in the 1955 fishing, hunting and trapping licenses.

Prices for 1955 licenses remain the same. Resident individual fishing, $1.50; combination fishing (husband and wife), $2.00; non-resident individual fishing, $4.00; fish shipping coupon (one only), $1.00; resident small game license, $2.00 (required of residents 16 years or over;) non-resident small game $25.00 (required of all non-residents;) trapping (issued to residents only, who must also have small game license), $3.00.

The Door Key

That important door key will not be evasive any more when the housewife returns from the grocery, if she will sew a large-sized dress hook inside her handbag, near the top, on which to hang the key.

To Clean Playing Cards

Soiled playing cards can be cleaned by dipping a small sponge in spirits of camphor and rubbing the card gently. This will restore the newness.

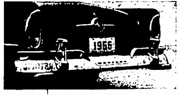
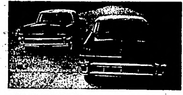
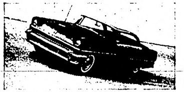
4 MERCURY EXCLUSIVES FOR FINER V-8 PERFORMANCE



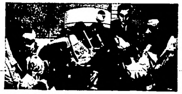
DUAL EXHAUST makes more of Mercury's power available to you for everyday driving. You have two separate exhaust systems for lower engine temperatures—resulting in greater efficiency and economy. Only Mercury Monterey and Montclair in their price class offer dual exhaust as standard equipment at no extra cost.



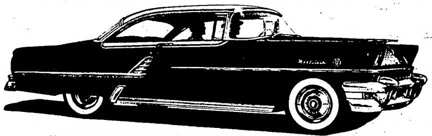
4-BARREL CARBURETOR gives you two-barrel economy for normal driving. But when an extra spurt of speed or hill-climbing power is needed, the extra 2 barrels cut in instantly, vacuum-atically. Only Mercury in its field offers a 4-barrel carburetor as standard equipment on every model.



HIGH-COMPRESSION SPARK PLUGS—revolutionary new anti-fouling spark plugs designed for super high-compression engines—give peak performance at all speeds. No other spark plugs available as standard equipment can match this performance, and no other car in Mercury's field has them.



LONGER EXPERIENCE. Only Mercury among all cars has an exclusively V-8 history. New 188- and 198-hp SUPER-TORQUE V-8 engines are the latest and greatest Mercury developments. And Mercury has put over 2,000,000 proven V-8 engines on the road—more V-8's than any other car in its price class.



NEW 1955 MERCURYS offer high horsepower (188 and 198)—new SUPER-TORQUE V-8 design—for super-pickup in every speed range.

Pouring From Cans

While the United States has a highly dynamic economy, Sweden has had a higher rate of economic growth during the last 70 years in per capita income and has suffered less from cyclical setbacks.

Mending A Cracked Range

A crack on the inside of a range can be mended by using a filler made of equal parts of common table salt and wood ashes, moistened with water to the proper consistency. The filler will dry hard and will be lasting.

Mucilage Substitute

Quite often when one is in a hurry to mail a letter, there will be but one stamp and it has no mucilarge on its back. In this predicament all necessary is to moisten the mucilage flap on another envelope, run the stamp over the dampened part quickly, then place on the letter to be mailed.

The Hanging-Basket

A novel way to water the hanging-basket, without spilling water on the floor, is to insert a small funnel in the dirt, as near the center of the basket as possible, and hidden by the foliage. Fill this funnel with water every day, and it will soak into the soil gradually.

Legislature Urged to Promote School District Revamping

Minnesota school district reorganization should continue with particular attention to merging districts which have been closed for two years or more, the state legislature was advised Friday.

The state advisory commission on school reorganization made the recommendations in a report to legislators.

Reorganization began in 1947 when 7,606 districts were in existence in Minnesota. The commission reported that as of July 1, 1954, there were 4,722 districts.

As of the same date, there were 1,531 closed schools in the state, the commission reported, which "are not carrying their fair share of the costs of education."

"Ways and means must be found whereby these non-operating schools are made a part of an operating district which can provide a complete program of education from grades 1 through 12," the commission said.

The state still has "the problem of the small high school," according to the commission, which found 51 high schools with enrollments of fewer than 75 pupils in the 1952-1953 school year.

"These weak secondary schools cannot provide a well-balanced program of education at a reasonable cost per pupil," the group concluded. "The local taxpayer is not receiving the maximum educational return for the dollar that is expended in the small district."

Unpaid Taxes 3.2 Pct. in Marshall

All but $38,750 of Levy for Last Year Was Paid

A record of only 3.2 per cent tax delinquency on 1953 taxes due and payable in Marshall county in 1954 was noted last week by County treasurer John W. Sanda. This figure meant that with tax collection at $1,173,607 for 1954 the amount remaining due and payable at year's end was only $38,750.

This marks the third year in a row that county tax collections have topped the million mark, reaching $1,034,984 in 1952 and $1,082,959 in 1953.

Although tax collections are becoming larger, the amount of tax delinquency has dropped both percentagewise and dollarwise. Tax delinquency in 1953 amounted to 4.03 per cent or a total of $39,272 while in 1952 delinquency was 4.12 per cent or a total of $38,539.

Townships with a perfect record of no tax delinquency include Bloomer, Boxville, East Valley, Middle River, Parker and Warrenton, according to Mrs. Hannah Odman, deputy county treasurer.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

THE STEAM WAGON

The beginnings of the automobile might well be ascribed to Minnesota.

Joseph R. Brown was a versatile pioneer. He was a trader, logger, farmer, legislator and promoter of towns. He was also possessed of both mechanical ability and imagination.

It was nearly a hundred years ago, in the 1860s, that Joseph R. Brown had the vision of what he called a "steam wagon". This was a steam traction engine, put upon wheels, which was to be fashioned on the form of a vehicle for the rapid transportation of people and property.

Brown worked, off and on, for several years on this new device. He built his steam wagon. He put it upon the pioneer highway between Henderson, a town that he laid out, and Fort Ridgely on the Minnesota. It worked well enough to encourage further effort, expenditure and hope.

Not only did Joseph Brown create his steam wagon but he saw that it would require better highways than existed on the Minnesota frontier. So he asked for laws permitting the counties to levy money and issue bonds to build better roads.

Brown never completed this great mechanical device. It never was developed to a point of real perfection. The later years of the life of this inventor were devoted to this dream. He died in 1870 in New York where he had gone for advice and parts for his machine. Once of substantial means, much of his fortune was expended on the steam wagon, just as other fortunes were gambled on the automobile in the generation which followed.

THE SALT SPRINGS

When Uncle Sam had completed the treaties with the Indians he had more than 50 million acres of land in Minnesota. Since land was to be of value there were many who wished it. The state secured two sections out of every township for school purposes. The swamp lands were later given to the state.

A rather unusual grant was made for, in its day, a rather unusual purpose. President Folwell of the University of Minnesota proposed, in 1870, that the University established a department which would begin, and carry on, a geological study of the state. This work had been heretofore done by the state and federal governments. The proposal that an educational institution assume the responsibility for it was new. The plan was adopted by the legislature and in 1872 Newton H. Winchell began a long and distinguished scientific career in Minnesota.

The legislature asked the federal government to make a grant of land for this work. Seeking an excuse, the state was given six sections adjoining each of twelve salt springs which had been set aside for public purposes, primarily in the western part of the state. The springs never produced salt commercially but the state received 18,771 acres of land. When that area of land was not enough, some more possible salt wells were found and the land available for the geological survey was doubled. The additional wells also produced no salt but a great geologist was put at work in Minnesota.

IRON ON THE BORDER

The search for iron ore in Minnesota began about a century ago. In the 1950s there were reports which indicated the geological possibilities of iron. In the following decade there was both search and discovery. More iron was found in the seventies. Hundreds, and thousands, of men tramped the woods and hills of the north country. They found signs. They also found ore. The principal early discoveries, however, were on the western and eastern ends of the Mesabi where the ore was of low grade.

The first discovery of high grade ore to lead to actual mining in Minnesota was made by George R. Stuntz near Vermillion lake in the late 1870s. Peter Mitchell and others were seeking to interest capital in their discoveries on the eastern Mesabi. Those interested engaged A. H. Chester of Hamilton College to make investigation and appraisal of the ore and its possibilities.

Stuntz endeavored to bring Chester to his Vermillion finds, but the professor was skeptical. He did, however, furnish Stuntz a keg of powder and the help of two Indians. Stuntz dug and blasted and disclosed a substantial tonnage of high grade ore. The Vermillion range shipped its first ore in 1884 and the eastern Mesabi, with its hard, low grade deposits awaited the new day in taconite and its mining possibilities.

For Those Who Follow

Imagine picking your way along a frozen wilderness trail.

You're bitterly cold, but see no sign of human habitation, mile after terrifying mile.

Then, thanks to someone who's already gone this way, you come upon a crude shack. Even with shelter you could still freeze to death, but you find wood already gathered for a fire.

Later, before venturing on, you too pile high more wood for someone yet to come.

No matter who you are—or where—your life marks a trail that someone is following. Along that way is the Church—a haven from storms of the world.

Yet the building alone is not enough. It must have people to work in it and to gather fuel for the fires of faith.

Look ahead as your fathers did before you. Begin today to support and strengthen the Church for those yet to come.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DALE CARNEGIE

CARNEGIE

MRS. IDA UROV, 123 So. Oakhurst, Beverly Hills, California, tells us that when her husband had a very severe attack of arthritis, the doctor first told him to go to the hospital to have his spine tapped. Then he said he should go to Florida. So they got rid of their business in a hurry and stored their furniture. A short while after that her son enlisted in the Navy. Was she worried? Yes, indeed, for a time, then she said to herself, "I am not going to sit and worry. I will get busy."

She loved to cater to the public, so she looked in the paper and saw advertised a job for a waitress. She answered it and they asked whether she had had any experience. She said "no." "Sorry, we can't use you."

Then she went to another place and again they said "no."

However, when she went into the third place she told them that she was experienced. So they hired her. When she began to work the head waiter noticed that she wasn't experienced, so she admitted the truth to him. But he took a liking to her and showed her how to carry the dishes on her arm.

After working there a short while the owner discharged an experienced waitress who had worked there five years and kept Mrs. Urov on the job.

She had always given the customers a big smile which seemed to have inspired their confidence. As a result, they allowed her to select whatever she thought was fresh and good on the menu. She was tipped liberally.

She enjoyed her work so much and was so busy at it, that she had very little time to worry.

And that is how she conquered the worry habit.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Teaching Child to Enjoy Music

Every one can learn to enjoy music; gifted, average, and monotones alike. There is no one born without a sense of rhythm. The rhythm in our bodies is expressed in such things as the way we walk, the way we breathe, in the regular recurrence of hunger, thirst, and for sleep, and so on. Some children seem to have no rhythm in them because, it has never been developed. The same thing is true of the so-called monotones, unless a hearing defect prevents one from noticing difference in musical pitch.

The home is the best place to start a child's musical education, and the time is when he is still a baby. These years in his life are the most impressionable, imitative, and unselfconscious ones.

Any parent can begin his child's musical training. A good way to start is to sing him lullabies. Sing him to sleep, encourage his repeated babblings, recite nursery rhymes to him. There are two things he should learn early, to discriminate tones, and rhythm. When he starts to play with your pots and pans, pad the stick and give him several other objects of wood, tin, brass and whatever you have. As he gets older, his father can make drums with him from kegs and wooden tubs. As to tone discrimination, he soon learns to imitate sounds of animals and man made machines, if you encourage him.

The important things are to show interest in his attempts. Show him when he has taken a step forward in his musical efforts, help make his musical experience a pleasant one, and give him a chance to perform in order to increase his sensitivity to music.

Music is inherent in every one of us, and because it is all around us, every child should have early training in its enjoyment.

Waiting for a lucky break wouldn't be a bad policy if pay days weren't so uncertain.

Happenings in Strandquist during 1954:

The 50 year celebration held on July 5th was a financial and social success.

Bethesda Lutheran church had a successful 60 year anniversary program for a weekend.

School gets a go-ahead vote for a new $70,000 gym.

A new well and water system in the village.

The elevator got a new look by adding a new addition housing a new feed mill.

Andrew Boen moves a residence into town.

This is not such a long list of improvements and I know there are more that have been accomplished but Strandquist is not a very big town. If the same amount of progress is made each year for a decade, there will be something to crow about.

Grades 1-2—Miss Overum

We wish you all a very Happy and Prosperous New Year. Several of us had chicken pox during vacation but we weren't so sick. We were glad we had it then so we could come to school on January 3. Grades 1 and 2 started the New Year with new books. We all like to read. It was much fun to hear of all the pretty gifts we got for Christmas during our sharing period the first day of school. Jimmy Orcutt visited us in the forenoon so he shared too. We had perfect attendance at our Christmas party Dec. 22. Paul Anderson, Richard Anderson and Jimmy Orcutt visited us.

Grades 2-3—Mrs. Stennes

We did very well in our spelling test on Wednesday. There were only two children in the room who did not receive "100." It seems nice to be back to school after our Christmas vacation. Now we have our room decorated with big snow men. We made them just before vacation. Mrs Wawfyzniak visited our room for a short time during our Christmas party.

Grades 4-5—Miss Edeen

Vacation is over and we're back to work. We had a nice Christmas vacation and received lots of things for Christmas. Some of us have been bringing a few of our presents to school to show our classmates. Shirley Kine brought some Iowa corn, hickory nuts and walnuts to school one day. We all got a chance to sample the walnuts. We enjoyed sampling them but we had different ideas on whether they were good or not. This month we divided our spelling class in two teams. We call ourselves the "Golden Clouds" and "Blue Coats."

In art class we are making winter scenes, we use old material and cotton for snow.

Grades 6-7—Miss Gullingsrud

A happy New Year to all! Our room had perfect attendance the first school day in 1955. Let's keep it up! We drew winter scenes in our art class yesterday. They include trees as they look in winter. "King of the Wind" is being read for opening exercises each morning after the flag salute has been given.

Those having "100" in spelling this week were Terri, Janice, Judy J., Shirley W., Anna, Shirley C., Eileen, John, Don, Richard, Joan, June, Judy B. and Isabell.

Grades 7-8—Mrs. Peterson

Car Accident on 59

Julius Fossell of Augsburg township, had a narrow escape from serious injury last Friday when he lost control of his car on the curve ½ mile north of Strandquist on Highway 59. An icy condition of the road caused him to lose control sufficient to partly miss the bridge. He hit the caution sign which was placed at the end of the concrete slab railing of the bridge, and straddled the railing to the middle of the bridge when for some unknown reason the car was thrown crosswise across the railing and hung there barely balancing.

The underpart of the frame and motor pan was completely demolished and Mr. Fossell was thrown against the window receiving several cuts about the face. His nose was broken and some teeth were jarred loose, otherwise his condition is reported to be good.

Airline Official Tells Lions of Plan to Boost Traffic

Club to Conduct Sale of Electric Light Bulbs This Evening (Wednesday)

At the Lions club meeting last Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe, Clarence Liske, general traffic and sales manager of North Central Airlines, told members of tentative plans to offer special family and three-day excursion rates designed to build up passenger traffic on this segment to double the present figure of 19 per cent of capacity.

Liske pointed out that the local service is now being operated under a temporary certificate from the Civil Aeronautics Board, and is expected to continue at least until next October. Service beyond that date, he said, is dependent on the volume of traffic generated in the meantime.

Also present at the luncheon were John Hammer, district traffic manager, and Chet Matthews, local manager.

To aid in financing the Lions club public service program, Bob Carlson, chairman, announced that the residential district of the city will be canvassed this evening (Wednesday) for the sale of electric light bulbs. Members will meet for dinner at the Rex Cafe this evening at 5:30, and will start making their rounds at 6 o'clock.

The luncheon program also included the showing by Roy J. Oen, chairman of the Pennington county polio chapter, of a motion picture starring Helen Hayes and depicting the polio rehabilitation work financed by the March of Dimes.

Slight Increase in Employment Is Seen for Minnesota in '55

The number of jobs in Minnesota this year, not counting those on farms, will average about 843,000 it was forecast this week by Commissioner F. W. Nichols, of the employment security department.

This level will be somewhat above the 836,000 of 1954, but will not attain the all-time high of 861,800 reported in 1953.

The number of persons who will receive unemployment compensation benefit payments is estimated at 127,000 this year, as compared with 130,000 in 1954, highest on record.

An analysis of employment trends in the state, Nichols added, indicates that while employment will increase and the job insurance claimants will decrease in 1955, there will be more unemployment in the state than in 1954, primarily because, as has been happening for some time, the state's economy will not develop enough work to provide jobs for the 15,000 to 20,000 additional persons that will join the state's labor force. In other words, work opportunities are not increasing as fast as is the population.

Minnesota's average monthly employment last year, 836,000, is a drop of 25,800 or 3 per cent from the 1953 record breaking monthly average.

The state's manufacturing industry led four other major groups in accounting for the employment decline. Manufacturing establishments had 13,300 fewer people at work; mining, 2,600; construction, 1,600; transportation and public utilities, 6,600; and trade, 6,100.

Fair Board Signs Grandstand Show for County Fair

Mario Productions Again to Present Grandstand Show at Fair July 11-14

Five members of the Pennington county fair board returned last Wednesday from Minneapolis, where they had attended the annual convention of the Minnesota Federation of County Fairs at the Radisson Hotel.

The delegation signed a contract with Mario Productions to present the grandstand revue and other features at the 1955 county fair here July 11 to 14. The enterprise is the same one that presented the revue here the past several years.

Previously signed for the carnival attractions on the midway were the Hills Shows of Corpus Christi, Texas.

Speakers at the convention included Governor Orville Freeman and Lew Conlon, manager of the Minnesota dairy industry committee.

In attendance from Thief River Falls were Frank Hardisty, president of the fair board; J. M. Roche, secretary; and Stuart McLeod, L. A. Ihle and James Parkins, directors.

Gov. Freeman Reveals Stand to Legislature

Proposal for Repeal of Old-age Lien Law One of Fifty Recommendations

Gov. Orville Freeman Monday recommended that the Legislature repeal the old age lien law, repeal or amend the law prohibiting strikes by employes of non-profit hospitals and enact a law authorizing incorporation of voluntary pre-payment medical service plans.

These recommendations were among more than 50 contained in a printed message distributed to members of the legislature. The suggestions covered several fields, including agriculture, labor, education, welfare and election laws.

The governor said that in addition to his budget message Wednesday, he plans later messages on government reorganization in civil service, conservation and highway safety.

He submitted his recommendation for repeal of the lien law without elaboration. This law requires an old age assistance recipient to give the state a claim on his property for the amount of aid he receives. The claim may be satisfied through sale of his property after his death.

The law was enacted during the administration of former governor Harold Stassen and liberals in the Legislature have long sought its repeal.

He also asked the Legislature to increase workmen's compensation minimum weekly benefits from $20 to $50 and maximum unemployment benefits from $30 to $40 and to raise the standards of protection of children in industry.

Turning to agriculture, he proposed enactment of a law for grading and labeling butter, urged the Legislature to adopt a declaration in support of a family sized farm economy and asked the Legislature to press Congress to establish price supports at not less than 90 per cent of parity.

His other recommendations included:

Action to provide hospital space for 1,000 mentally retarded children. The governor recalled that the 1953 Legislature appropriated money for a site and preparation of plans for such an institution and that a site near Brainerd has been selected.

Gov. Freeman repeated his earlier recommendations for increasing basic school aid from $80 to $92 and for enactment of a fair employment practices law and party designation of members of the Legislature.

Council OK's Sewer, Water Assessments

Covers Mains Installed Last Year on Merriam, Maple and Davis Avenues

The city council at a lengthy session Tuesday night approved assessment rolls covering a water main project on Davis av. and sewer and water mains on Merriam and Maple avs. It was agreed to extend the payments over a ten-year period with interest at the rate of six per cent. A period of 90 days was allowed for payment of the assessments without interest.

City Engineer Douglas Stewart submitted preliminary reports on two other sewer and water main projects to be installed later, no immediate action being taken. One project planned for State av. N. from Sixth to Eighth sts. was estimated to cost about $3,500 for sewer mains and $5,500 for water.

The second project, on Kneale av. from Hughes st. to Nora st., and on Nora st. from Kneale av. to Merriam av., was estimated at $6,380 for sewer and $6,360 for water mains. The engineer recommended that a site for a second water tower be obtained in that vicinity and held until needed.

The council gave its third and final reading to the new ordinance governing the use of house trailers in this city, and then voted adoption of the measure, which is designed to encourage trailer owners to keep them in a trailer park instead of in back yards.

Also briefly discussed was the matter of repealing or revising the ordinance governing water use in the city, which had been adopted late in 1954, and which has not proved satisfactory to some members of the council. Action was deferred.

Another ordinance given its first reading would increase to four cents a kilowatt hour the rate for electricity supplied to hospitals and public rest homes, and to 4½ cents the rate for the court house and armory. At present, it was stated, these institutions are being served by the city at less than cost.

The council reappointed Otis L. Wold as a member of the fire de-

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper

The Power of the Holy Spirit.
Lesson for January 23: John 16: 7-11; Acts 2: 1-4; 4: 8-12.
Golden Text: Acts 1: 8.

Jesus told his disciples in the upper room, on the night before he was crucified, that it was expedient for him to go away, for then they would receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. The coming of the Spirit was dependent upon his going away, for the salvation to be wrought through him had to be completed before the Spirit's coming, also the Spirit would come to be evermore with them when Christ had gone away.

The power of the Holy Spirit was demonstrated and fully realized and received on the day of Pentecost when, obedient to the command of their ascending Lord the disciples had tarried in Jerusalem and were assembled in an upper room, or place, in Jerusalem. There were men present from all sections of the Roman world who had come up to the annual feast of the Passover. Thus was the Christian Church in the beginning a church of all nations and it should ever be a missionary church. The gift of tongues enabled them at the time to understand the message alike, but greater than that was the unity of Spirit which filled them all.

The Pharisees and the elders had Peter and John cast into prison after they had healed a lame man. At their trial before the Jewish authorities, Peter told the elders things they did not want to hear—under the power of the Spirit he preached Christ unto them. This is a message the Church must deliver with greater emphasis today. The world is dying for a little bit of love and needs the preaching of it through Christ.

However, any producer who desires to have a loan on warehouse-stored grain, or a purchase agreement on either warehouse stored or farm-stored grain, may do so until the final date.

A Review

Eddy Ruhl, Tenor, Reveals Ability in Varied Program

By Miss Ruth Thren

The second concert under the auspices of the University of Minnesota's concert service was presented at Lincoln high school last Thursday evening. Eddy Ruhl, tenor, demonstrated a voice of unusual proportions, combined, in one individual, with exceptional intelligence and thorough going musicianship. His multiplicity of gifts hardly could be more amply presented than it was in the varied program.

A majority of the numbers sung were familiar to most people as, "Largo" (Xerxes) and "Where ere you walk" (Semele) by Handel, "Londonderry Air," "On Wings of Song" Mendelssohn, "The Year's at the Spring" Beach, and "Who Is Sylvia" Schubert. As Goethe said, "The effect of good music is not caused by its novelty. On the contrary, it strikes us more the more we are familiar with it."

Two arias, the one from "The Girl of the Golden West," original music by Puccini, and the other taken from the third act of "Tosca," demonstrated Mr. Ruhl's ability to sing opera as well as what is sometimes termed the 'art' song.

The technicalities of good diction, especially in the German language, were well handled in "Morgengruss" (Morning Greeting) Schubert, "Ich Liebe Dich" (I Love Thee) and "Ein Traum" (A Dream) both by Grieg.

Rossini's "Tarantella" would undoubtedly have been more impressive musically speaking had Mr. Peltzer, the accompanist, and Mr. Ruhl 'got together,' especially in the last three phrases. I'm sure most would agree that the part of the accompanist which is very important, was, for the most part, adeptly managed by Dwight Peltzer.

In my estimation the best demonstration of Mr. Ruhl's well proclaimed musical talent was the outcome of a technique involved and utilized fully in sustaining pianissimo effects especially in the upper register. "Elegie" by Massenet illustrated the above very well.

The concert closed with several encores, all well known. Among these were "Because," "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "If My Thoughts Had Wings" by Reynaldo Hahn.

State High Court Grants L.O'L. Plea

Overrules Department of Employment Security

The state supreme court, in a unanimous decision delivered Friday by Chief Justice Roger Dell, granted an appeal by Land O'Lakes Creameries and reversed a ruling by the department of employment security to the effect that processing of turkeys in L. O'L. plants at Thief River Falls, Albert Lea and Aitkin is a year-around operation for purposes of administering the unemployment compensation law.

Friday's decision sent the case back to the department, with instructions to take "competent" additional evidence in determining whether the plants are to be classified as a seasonal or year-round activity.

Unemployment benefits of the workers—many of them housewives—would be larger under a "year-round" ruling than the benefits paid by the state where a "seasonal" activity is involved.

Savings Bond Sale Leaps in December

Cash Sales Hit $10,000,000; 1954 Total is $92,300,000

Cash sales of Series E and H savings bonds in Minnesota during December were $10,000,000 or 48.4 per cent greater than in the previous year, and established a nine-year post-war record for December volume.

This compares with a national gain of 17 per cent.

Sales for all of 1954 were $92,300,000, a gain of 18.1 per cent over 1953 and the highest since 1949. National sales were up twelve per cent.

It is estimated that $22,000,000 of Minnesota's volume came from purchases by 86,000 wage and salary workers through payroll savings plans and the remainder from "over the counter" buyers in banks and other financial institutions.

Series E bond sales accounted for 78.9 per cent of the total volume and were up 8.6 per cent over last year.

Series H bonds were up 75.9 per cent. (These are current income bonds selling in denominations starting at $500).

The three top counties exceeding 1954 sales quotas were Cottonwood (138.1%), Lake of the Woods (137.8%) and Rock (136.7%).

Thirty-seven counties exceeded their 1954 quotas. Pennington residents, with a goal of $310,000, purchased $234,791 worth of bonds or 75.7 per cent of their quota, while Marshall county bought $382,314 worth or 104.6 per cent of its goal. Red Lake county citizens bought $101,729 worth, or 83.4 per cent of quota.

Upon the recommendation of the board of deacons, composed of Stanley N. Mortenson, Ed Van de Streek, Arnold Pearson, Edwin Swanson, Albin Ranstrom and Vernon Scholin, the congregation voted to call a member of the 1955 ordination class of Augustana Seminary, Rock Island, Illinois, to serve as pastor of First Lutheran. Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

With the presentation this week of Governor Orville L. Freeman's budget message, the legislature was settling down to a systematic consideration of its formidable tasks — with the search for money the top item on the agenda.

Following the practice of other sessions, the first two weeks has been devoted largely to the organization of committees and the development of lines of communication between the two houses and between the legislature and the Governor.

The budget message should help bring into focus the central financial questions and should lay out the general framework within which the major issues will be discussed and resolved. During this early period one senses, on the part of both liberals and conservatives, a spirit of quiet determination to get on with the job and move quickly to the tough problems.

Follow Message Closely

As this is written the Governor is putting the final touches to his budget message. It will be followed closely by all legislators and everyone interested in the state's financial problems, because our situation this year is the most stringent in many years, perhaps of all time.

It is a longer message than has been customary. This is due, in part, to the fact that the Governor feels he must present both detailed explanations and justifications of his recommendations. And there are many recommendations, several of which will have a deep effect upon the financial structure.

To Ask Increased Revenues

Governor Freeman last week gave the public one advance glimpse of his budget proposals, when he announced that the General Revenue Fund would require an additional $19,900,000 to meet all new and old demands proposed for the biennium.

He said he is proposing that about $5,000,000 of this amount be raised from non-tax sources, such as increases in fees charged for various governmental services, with the rest coming out of an increased tax program.

In addition, new revenue will be needed for the school fund, which will be short some $29,000,000, if basic state aids are increased to $92 per pupil unit. How the Governor handles these two related matters will command the top interest as we watch the public reaction to the budget message.

In my work as Commissioner of Administration I have participated in the budgeting process and know that the decisions that the Governor has had to make in this and other financial areas have been most difficult.

Spotlight on Legislature

With the budget presented, the spotlight for the time at least now shifts from the Governor to the legislature. It will be the legislators' job now to shift the Governor's recommendations, introduce many of their own, and, then, eventually wrap up all money matters in a series of appropriation and tax bills.

In this process, the role of leadership will fall upon a half-dozen or more members in each house, those who occupy crucial committee positions and who will have the responsibility for guiding the proceedings.

Already the house appropriations committee and the senate finance committee have been meeting regularly, and now their activity and that of the two tax committees will be stepped up. Majority and minority leaderships in both houses are determined that the business shall be moved along quickly, avoiding, if possible, the jam-up at the end of the session.

The House Leadership

In the House the heavy responsibility falls on four key liberal majority leaders. A. I. Johnson, of Benson, as Speaker of the House, is the central figure. He has determined committee assignments and he assigns bills to the various committees and in other ways sets the pace for the proceedings in this chamber.

Next in importance is the majority leader and chairman of the house rules committee, Fred Cina, of Aurora. He manages the affairs of the majority group, a task made especially difficult this session by virtue of the close one-vote margin that separates the two caucuses.

In the day-to-day deliberations, the house activity will center around the chairman of appropriations, Leo Mosier of Minneapolis, and the chairman of the tax committee, Edward J. Chilgren of Littlefork. They have the most powerful committee assignments of all, and, working with Johnson and Cina, must give the top direction.

Similar Group in Senate

The presiding officer in the conservatively-controlled Senate is the Lieutenant-Governor, Karl F. Rolvaag. His powers are not as great as the Speaker of the House, but he can be an influential figure. The central power of direction falls to Senator Val Imm, of Mankato, who is both President Pro Tem of the Senate and chairman of the finance committee.

The other key conservative figure in the senate is Don Wright, of Minneapolis, chairman of the tax committee. The Democratic - Farmer - Labor administration faces its big test in the Senate, because it is here that liberalism and conservatism will clash, if, indeed, it does. There is hope on both sides that the clash will not occur, but only time will provide the answer.

Tips On Hormone Feeding

With the new hormone substance stilbestrol so much in the news lately, I would like to answer some questions about it with the help of W. E. Morris, University of Minnesota Extension Livestock Specialist.

As you know by now, Iowa State College tests—feeding corn to fattening steers and using a stilbestrol supplement—showed daily gain increases of up to 3/4 a pound per head. The substance lowered costs of gain two to four cents a pound and profit per steer was boosted as much as $22.

Heifers did well on the same supplement, making gains of 2 1/4 pounds a day with 10 per cent less cost of gain. They produced choice beef at 19.6 cents per pound. In the heifer group, profits per head were boosted $7.18.

Morris reports that on a high roughage-feeding—an extra 75 days full feeding of corn was found necessary to make choice beef. Good results can be obtained with grass or corn stalk silage, when a stilbestrol supplement is added.

Grade yield and finish are not changed by feeding stilbestrol. And carcasses of stilbestrol fed animals are about the same no better, no poorer than those of cattle fed the same ration without stilbestrol.

Key to good results is proper mixing, Morris says. To safeguard the process, Iowa State College patented the method to control the amounts that could be used in a feed. Feed firms now buy the premix to mix in their feed from a medical firm.

Morris has one important warning, also found on the feed bag of a ration containing stilbestrol: don't take a chance feeding it to breeding cattle, sheep or swine. It was developed for use in stimulating growth of cattle being grown for slaughter. Hormones are powerful substances. Wrongly used, they can have damaging side-effects.

Remain Alive in '55

Did you know that accidents are the Number One cause of death of people between one and 35 years of age? That's what Glenn Prickett, the University's Extension safety specialist tells us. Accidents take a toll of about 1,750 lives and injure thousands of other people every year—in Minnesota alone. Here's Glenn's tips to "remain alive in '55": Check homes and farms for accident and fire dangers-then, eliminate the hazards. And use recommended safety shields on farm equipment. And slow down—work, play, drive safely.

Lice Are Profit-Cutters

It's always a good idea to check your animals often for lice. Lice can get quite a start on their profit-cutting spree before they are noticed, says Harold Searles, Extension dairy specialist at the University. He suggests you look on the neck, especially, parting the hair and examining the skin carefully. If you find lice, go after them with a good lice powder twice a week or more until they're out of the picture. They can greatly reduce milk production and slow down calf growth.

Machinery Buying Tip

A fellow sometimes grouses about high cost of machinery. Still, however, you can buy almost any piece of equipment and even at present prices, it will save you labor. Research has found that in the years of 1935 to 1939, the wages you had to pay a hired man for 31 months—that's over 2 1/2 years—would buy a two-plow tractor. Now, however, it only takes about 14 1/2 months—a little over a year—of hired man wages to buy a new, similar-type tractor. This tip comes from Don Bates, Extension agricultural engineer at the University of Minnesota.

There has already been talk on the radio about spring being just around the corner, about people seeing crows, meadow larks, skunks, muskrats, etc. But this being just January we may see much of the winter yet. Have already gotten some beautiful seed catalogues in the mail as I suppose many of you folks have too.

Give the other man credit for some sincerity of purpose and you might be able to understand him better.

OUR LAND

Prepared by the Minnesota Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with University Farm, St. Paul

Brings Astounding Yield

Erling Burtness, Caledonia, Houston County, won the X-Tra Yield corn contest sponsored by the University's agricultural extension service and The Farmer magazine of St. Paul with a yield increase of 93 bushels over an unfertilized, ordinarily-treated check plot. His X-Tra yield plot gave 161 bushels, his check only 68 bushels. Proof that high yields and good land use go hand in hand.

Build Up Rundown Farm

Oscar and Elmer Skogen bought a hilly, rundown farm at Mantorville township in 1947. They began contour strip cropping, gully control, pasture renovation and tree planting. They limed and fertilized and put on large amounts of barnyard manure. This spring, a tour was held on the "new" Skogen farm and one man who knew the farm 10 years ago, was astonished. Said he, "Ten years ago, so-and-so went broke on this place. I remember cutting grain here when you had to go around gullies. Then, this place wouldn't put out 40 bushel corn." The Skogens now get 90 to 100 bushel corn and their pasture renovation has really paid. The year after renovating an old blue grass slope that wouldn't support one animal per three acres, the land grew "strong enough" to feed an average of over one animal per acre. This pasture returned $100 an acre this year. A spring which dried up many years ago began running again and is going strong. A flourishing grove of new trees protects the buildings now, too.

Public Relations

The Mahnomen County Soil Conservation District plans to print its 1954 annual report and distribute it to county farmers and businessmen. They also sponsor a soil conservation jingle contest in all county schools with cash prizes and certificates to winners. The district's annual cooperators' meeting will be held in February. Leo Kirsch, a county farmer and winner of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune Soil Conservation Contest, will be honored at the meeting.

Game Bird Shelter

Four rows of corn back of the grove will give food and shelter to game birds on the Clarence Thorston farm in Sundown, Redwood County, this winter. The considerate idea was reported by 12 year old Clarence Thorston and is relayed to Our Land by Redwood County Agent J. I. Swedberg of Redwood Falls.

Failing to pick up a point in the two games played this week, losing to the Grand Forks Redwings, 2 to 1, here on Saturday night, and dropping a 6 to 1 decision to the Crookston Pirates at Crookston on Sunday afternoon, the senior hockey Thieves sank to the cellar position in the Northwest Hockey league standings.

The Thieves will have an "open" date on Wednesday night, but on Saturday night, January 22nd, the Grand Forks Redwings will make their second appearance here, meeting coach Bedard's team on the Arena ice. On Wednesday night, January 26th, the Thieves will meet the Cloverleafs at Roseau.

Saturday night's tilt here, against the Redwings, was a cleanly-played affair, with but two minor penalties being called; and Grand Forks, by virtue of their 2 to 1 win, moved ahead of the Thieves in the league standings.

Wilf Shannon, during a melee in front of the Thieves net, banged a goal into the south net at 9:56 of the opening period, and that 1 to 0 score held until the 13:12 mark of the third period when Milt Swindlehurst, on a play set up by Don Crough and Wendy Feist, beat McGill to give the Redwings a 2 to 1 lead.

Seconds later the Thieves notched their lone goal when Rob Amundson dropped a lag pass to Bud Brossoit and, with Amundson as a screen, Brossoit beat goalie Don Dawson on a 25-foot shot. Thieves, in a final minute and half of the game, pulled their goalie out of the net, and using six attackers made a desperate effort to even the score. The Redwings, although pressed, held off the Thieves to gain the win and the league standings.

The combination of Hec Bourgeous and Malcolm Davidson, scoring two goals apiece, and the able goal-tending of Bud Schraeder, gave the Crookston Pirates a 6 to 1 win over the Thieves in a league game played at Crookston on Sunday afternoon.

Church Russell, on an assist from Bud Brossoit, scored the game's first goal on Sunday, beating Schraeder at 2:10 of the first period. That Thieves lead was short-lived, for Joe Vinet's goal at 3:01 and Bourgeous marker at 5:27 sent Gambucci's club into the lead. Bourgeous added a score at 13:08 to give the Pirates a 2 to 1 lead. Davidson's two scores boosted the Crookston lead to 5 to 1 in the second period; and Bud Salem's goal late in the final period brought the game score to 6 to 1 for the Pirates.

Prowler Sextet Defeats Baudette Last Night 5 to 1

Spectacular Work by Baudette Goalie Averts More One-sided Result

Spectacular goal-tending by Baudette's Bob Ryberg, who kicked out forty-one shots during the game, kept the score of Tuesday night's game between the Prowlers and Baudette within bounds, and held the locals to 5 to 1 win.

The Prowlers were held scoreless until the 10:42 mark of the first period when, with Baudette's Jerry Martinson and Gary Noble serving penalties, Jimmy Hall banked in a shot with Jack Poole on the assist; and seconds later Hall added another goal, with Chip Strand assisting.

The locals moved ahead to a 5 to 0 lead in the second period when Duane Glass, scoring on a screened shot from the blue line, Glenn Carlson, scoring on a sharply angled shot after taking a pass from Teal, and Brad Teal, on a lift from just inside the blue line punched in the fifth tally.

Baudette averted a shutout when Fred DiNicola beat goalie Cal Offerdahl at the 7:17 mark of the third period. Offerdahl got his skate on the shot, but deflected the puck into the net.

Roseau Snaps Win Streak of Prowler Six

6-0 Defeat Ends 24-game Series of Victories; Prowlers Take Duluth

Coach Dennis Rolle's hockey Prowlers, after having their fine 24-game winning streak broken by the Roseau Rams, 6 to 0, here on Wednesday night, moved back into the win column on Saturday night when, in a game played at Duluth, the locals defeated the Duluth East sextet, 8 to 3.

The Prowlers will engage in three regional conference tilts this week, playing Hallock at Hallock on Thursday night, Jan. 20th, and meeting Jimmy Doyle's Warroad Warriors at Warroad on Saturday night, Jan. 22nd; and on Tuesday night, Jan. 25th, the Williams team will play the Prowlers on the Arena rink.

In snapping the Prowlers long winning streak on Wednesday night, the Roseau Rams, with an all-veteran lineup, flashed a fine offense and a sturdy defense. Dick Skime opened the game's scoring when he banged in a rebound at 11:32 of the first period; and when Mike Robertson intercepted a clearing pass and skated in on Rod Collins to beat the Prowler goalie at 13:44, coach Oscar Almquist's club held a 2 to 0 first period lead.

Three goals in the second period, with Dick Johnson scoring a pair and Robertson adding the other, moved the game beyond the reach of the dis-organized Prowlers. The Rams' capable center-ice player, Jack Delmore, assisted on all of the second period goals.

In the final period, Johnson, on assist from Robertson, tallied the game's final goal, giving the Rams' wing a "hat trick" performance.

Playing at Duluth on Saturday night, the Prowlers, with center Joey Poole and wing Jimmy Hall each scoring three goals, and with Chip Strand notching a pair, defeated coach Glen Rolle's East high school club, 8 to 3.

The Prowlers moved into a 2 to 0 first period lead on goals by Poole and Hall, with Hall being credited with the assist on Joey's tally. Coach Rolle shifted Hall to a wing position on the Joe Poole and Sid Vraa line this week.

A pair of goals by Poole and a score by Strand gave the Prowlers a 5 to 0 lead in the second period. The locals increased their lead to 7 to 0, on two goals by Hall, before East broke into the scoring column, with Butch Curran scoring for the Duluth Sextet. Bob Smith, on solo rushes added a pair of East goals, and Strand added a Prowler tally, to give the blue-and-gold an 8 to 3 victory.

CHARLES LUMSDEN

Charles "Chuck" Lumsden, a rangy fast-rushing defenseman is one of the Canadian imports on the Thieves roster this season. Lumsden, who towers at six-feet one-inch and weighs in at 192 pounds, is only twenty-two years old. Lumsden played his junior hockey with the Winnipeg Monarchs and the Toronto Marlboros, playing two years with each club. Following his graduation from the junior hockey ranks, Lumsden joined the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey league.

Lumsden was a member of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers football squad, and his brother Tom is a standout defensive end for that club, but a broken leg put a halt to Chuck's football progress.

Bagley Quintet Takes Prowlers Here 66-57

Losing to Dick Lawrence's well-balanced Bagley team, 66 to 57, in a game played here on Friday night, the Prowler cagers lowered their season's record to .500, having posted four wins and absorbed four losses. This week, on Friday night, coach Al Adams' squad will make the short trip to Warren for a district game against the Ponies.

In the inter-district game played here on Friday night, the Bagley Flyers exhibited fine squad balance in defeating the locals, 66 to 57. In forwards Tom Wolhow and Olmer Larson and center Dave Rice, the Flyers had three good-sized front-court players; and in guards Gerry Riewer and Jim Peterson, Bagley had a couple of adept and agile play-makers.

Bagley, with Larson scoring seven points and Riewer notching three field goals, pulled away to 17 to 9 lead at the end of the first period. In the second quarter the Prowlers, with Bill Frahm driving around Dave Rice for three lay-up shots, outpointed the Flyers, 14 to 13, and trailed by five points, 25 to 20 at the intermission.

Coach Adams squad turned in their best basketball in the third period, and with Frahm marking up seven points and newcomer Chuck Brandvold, who proved that he will be a valuable addition to the blue-and gold, scoring five points, the Prowlers knotted the score at 41-all.

The Flyers regained control of the game in the fourth period, scoring ten points to pull into a 51 to 41 lead before the Prowlers could garner a point. Bagley's fourth period spurt was "sparked" by forward Larson who dropped in a pair of field goals and five free throws. The Flyers showed remarkable accuracy from the gift-shot line in the final stanza, marking up fifteen points on free throws.

Bill Frahm, with eight field goals and five throws, was the game's high scorer with 21 points. Bagley's Larson, with 18 points, and Rice, with 17 points, were the high-point men for coach Lawrence's club.

In a preliminary game, coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' team, with Dave Hanson and Dave Rasmussen doing the heavy scoring, defeated the Bagley 'B' team, 60 to 44.

The Warren Trip

With the weather moderating, and the roads good to excellent, it would perhaps make for an enjoyable evening on Friday to drive over to Warren for the Prowlers vs. Ponies district conference basketball game. On their comparative records, the two teams are evenly matched, and in addition to witnessing a good game the fans will get a look at Warren's fine new gymnasium.

Not since the 1945-46 season, when the Prowlers were captained by Marvin Ninsk Carlson, have the locals played at Warren. We're glad that Warren erected a new gymnasium, and that the Ponies and the Prowlers are again on a home-and-home schedule, for the rivalry between the two has, over the years, been the best.

Coach Al Adams' Prowlers will need the morale that a large crowd of hometown fans can produce if they are to win Friday night's tilt. While the Prowlers showed considerable improvement last Friday night in losing to a well-balanced Bagley Flyers team, the local squad isn't a smooth-functioning unit. The Prowlers did real well in rallying to tie the Bagley score at 41-all at the end of the third period, but when they wilted in the fourth quarter, and the Flyers won by a comfortable margin.

The presence of Chuck Brandvold gave the Prowlers a rugged competitor under the backboards, and as he becomes accustomed to the play of his team-mates, Chuck will add to the Prowlers' all-round performance. Against the alert Bagley team last Friday, the Prowlers controlled the majority of the tip-offs, but the agile Flyers were able to secure possession of the ball most of the time.

Remember When?

The Prowler vs. Ponies game on Friday night brings to mind a time back in the 1920's when feeling between Warren and Thief River Falls was at the tinder-box point. It was in March of 1920 when the Prowlers (and they weren't called the Prowlers back in those days) went over to Warren for an important district game against the Punics. A special train on the Soo Line was chartered for the occasion, with two or three hundred fans accompanying the team.

In the previous game that season, played here, the locals won by a 33 to 23 score in (to use a mild term) a rugged tilt. For the return game Warren getting assistance from Stephen, which was a district member in those days, was all primed for the locals.

Playing for the Prowlers were such standout athletes as Gordon Tubby LaBree at center, Leland Schuster and Rube Hadrath at the forwards, and Denny McGinn and Roy Flattum at the guards, with Albert Tommerassen as the coach.

Moving into the third period of that hectic encounter, LaBree was shoved into the crowd, and the reports were that it was prearranged to shove LaBree into the Stephen contingent. They clubbed LaBree into unconsciousness, and the game necessarily was brought to a halt while LaBree was carried out on the floor and given restoratives. An attempt was made to resume the game, with Elmer Larson replacing LaBree in the local lineup, but the side-line spectators, using nimble footwork, tripped up the Prowler guards as they moved up and down the floor. Failing to get assistance from the referee in curbing the crowd, coach Tommerassen called the Prowlers off the floor and forfeited the game to Warren.

We're glad those kind of days are gone.

A Long Time

Not only did the Roseau Rams break a long Prowler winning streak, which had reached twenty-four games, when they beat the locals, 6 to 0, last Wednesday night, but it also marked the first time since the 1948-49 season that a Prowler hockey team had been shutout. Since that date late in February of 1949 when the Prowlers, coached by Dick Roberts, lost to the Warroad Warriors, 6 to 0, the local hockey sextet has played ninety-two games without being shutout. That's quite a record.

And the Prowlers were beaten and shutout, beyond any argument, by the Roseau Rams on Wednesday. Oscar Almquist has a fine squad up there this year, with remarkable balance, and the odds are that the Rams will be representing the region in the state tournament. Incidentally, the Roseau Rams will be getting a first-rate test on Feb. 4th when the St. Paul Johnson team, rated as the best in the Twin Cities, play the Rams at Roseau.

Coach Rolle, while disappointed that the Prowlers' winning streak was broken, wasn't too surprised at the outcome. The Prowler mentor realizes that the eighth region is the state's best, and losing eight of last year's championship squad would prove quite a handicap this year. While the Prowlers regained the winning touch by defeating Duluth East, 8 to 3, at Duluth on Saturday night, coach Rolle wasn't impressed by the play of his squad, stating that the boys received the benefit of several "fluke" goals.

Miscellany

Ward Nichols tells us that he has booked a fine feature into the Falls Theatre this week in the "Bob Mathias Story." Mathias is the fellow who astounded the athletic world by winning the decathlon in the 1948 Olympic Games while still a high school student at Tulare, Cal. In the 1952 Olympic Games, Mathias, by that time a student at Stanford University, again won the decathlon, which is a ten-event individual competition in track and field. In the film that will be unrolled at the Falls this week, Mathias will be playing the star role.—The Bemidji Lumberjacks basketball team dropped a couple of games last week, but they had the satisfaction of losing to a pair of the state's better teams. The Jacks, in a game played as a preliminary to the Gopher tilt, lost to New Prague, and then in a game against the St. Louis Park quint, and with the Park's towering center, Warren Jeppeson, scoring 38 points, Bemidji lost another decision. And this week, playing against the Crookston Pirates at Bemidji, the Jacks had a few uneasy moments before they pulled away to 52 to 43 triumph.

Bills Aimed at Drunk Drivers Entered in State Legislature

A bill aimed at cracking down on drunken drivers was introduced in the Minnesota Legislature Thursday. The measure, sponsored by Rep. Sally Luther, Minneapolis, would require motor vehicle owners to consent to submit to chemical tests for drunkenness as a pre-requisite to securing driver's licenses.

Rep. Thomas Christie, Minneapolis, introduced a measure that spells out the amount of alcohol in a driver's blood that would make him subject to prosecution on a drunken driving charge.

The first bill of the session to pass both houses provides $18,000 to pay a staff of bill drafters in the office of revisor of statutes.

The Senate passed it Thursday morning and the House in the afternoon. The measure now goes to the governor.

Tax committees in both House and Senate held their first meetings. The Senate committee approved a bill to change the deadline for filing state income tax returns from March 15 to April 15, making state law conform to federal law.

Rep. Ed Chilgren, Littlefork, chairman of the House tax committee appealed to his committee to forget political differences in the interests of working out a good tax program. The committee numbers 16 liberals and 13 conservatives.

Bills introduced in the Senate included a proposal to abolish the one-dollar windshield stickers required for admission to state parks, to tax and license wrestling promoters and to make the clerk of the supreme court appointive rather than elective.

Reps. Ruben Tweten and L. A. Afseldt, both of Fosston, submitted a proposal in the House to cut the deer season from nine days to five and to eliminate the bow-and-arrow season.

Winter Carnival in St. Paul Slated for Jan. 28-Feb. 5

Spectacular Parades and Coronation of Carnival Royalty to Be Features

Minnesota's capital city will be transformed into the "Rollicking Realm of Boreas" from January 28 through February 5 when the sparkling 1955 edition of the St. Paul Winter Carnival is presented.

Several innovations have been added to the Carnival's feature-filled program, according to Wesley (Bud) Chandler, general chairman of the snow festival.

These are the WCCO Winter Carnival radio show, starring comedian Robert Q. Lewis, Irish singer Carmel Quinn, and the Chordettes, at the Auditorium on Saturday night, Jan. 29; the North American ski jumping championships at Battle Creek Slide on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 30; Winter Carnival sled dog races on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 3, 4 and 5, and the U. S. Olympic speed skating trails at Lake Como from Monday, Jan. 31, through Friday, Feb. 4.

A "double-header" program at the Auditorium will act as curtain raiser for the Carnival. The coronation of King Boreas XIX has been combined with the Northwest square dance festival. Some 2,000 persons will be participating in the dance.

The grand parade of the carnival will be at 2 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 29. Preliminaries of the national majorette contest will be carried on at the Armory that day.

Top-flight event of the winter Carnival again will be the Coronation of Queen of the Snows in the St. Paul Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 1.

The spectacular torchlite parade through the loop and into the St. Paul Auditorium will headline the program of Friday night, Feb. 4. This will also be Mayor's Day with mayors from communities throughout the Northwest joining in the Carnival fun.

Fake Licenses Get Drivers Jail Term

Motorists Are Penalized for Perpetrating Frauds

Drivers licenses — especially faked ones—are not for sale in Minnesota but some motorists are paying stiff penalties for perpetrating various frauds in their efforts to obtain them.

E. P. Lee, director of the drivers license division of the Minnesota highway department, today cited three recent cases where falsification of information by applicants for permits landed them in workhouses for periods of up to 60 days.

"One motorist," Lee said, "after having his drivers license revoked after conviction of drunken driving, thought that a change of name and address would get him back behind the wheel of his car again. The ruse worked for a while, but a comparison of the handwriting on his two applications led to his arrest and conviction for obtaining a license by fraud."

Lee also cited the case of a woman who was trapped when she applied for a duplicate permit in which she alleged a change of name and address. She had previously lost her license following a couple of convictions for drunken driving, but had subsequently obtained a new license by falsifying her name and address. Asking to get a duplicate with her real name and address led to her downfall.

A St. Paul motorist is preparing for a 60-day stretch in the workhouse because he thought a switch in names would get him a new license to replace the one he originally had, which, incidentally, showed a total of 15 convictions since 1948. His mistake? He used his real date of birth, and comparison of the handwriting revealed the fraud.

Judging Contests Set at Winter Shows

Judging contests, international in scope, will again feature the opening day of the Red River Valley Winter Shows and Northwest School Farmer's Week at Crookston on February 21. More than 200 participants from the schools of agriculture of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Manitoba, and high schools, farm and 4-H clubs of Northwestern Minnesota will compete for judging honors in their respective contests that day.

H. D. Fausch, manager of the livestock judging contests, states, "The subcollegiate livestock judging contest will be international and interstate in scope with teams from the schools of agriculture from North and South Dakota, Minnesota, and Manitoba, Canada, competing. A total of thirty-five to thirty-seven livestock judging teams are expected to compete in the subcollegiate, farmers' club, and 4-H club contests.

O. C. Soine, manager of the crop judging contests, reports that teams from Canada, North and South Dakota, and Minnesota will compete in the subcollegiate crop judging contest, and twenty-five or more F. F. A. crops teams from high schools of the Valley will compete in the high school contests.

B. C. Beresford, manager of the potato judging contest, indicates that five or more teams will compete in the team contest and fifteen to twenty are expected to take part in the individual contests.

A recognition banquet for the judging team members will be held in the evening at which time bronze plaques will be awarded to winning teams, and medal and ribbons awards will be presented to high-ranking individuals."

The contests are sponsored by the Red River Valley Livestock Association, the Red River Valley Dairymen's Association, the Red River Valley Development Association, and the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston.

Monday, February 21, judging contest day, is also "Soil Conservation Day" and open class judging of sheep will also feature the afternoon program in the judging arena.

REGULATION NEEDED

The Federal Trade Commission has charged 23 health and accident insurance companies with using false and misleading advertising. The only thing we don't like about this action is that it should have been started a lot earlier.

Through the sale of fraudulent health and accident insurance the public has been robbed of many millions of dollars. Reform in this field is long overdue at both the state and national levels.

Because much of this type of racketeering is carried on through the mails we must look to the federal government as the first line of defense. But each state, including Minnesota, can do much to curb this kind of thievery through its licensing powers.

There are many reputable companies doing an above-board business in this important field. In a general way they can be distinguished from the fakirs by the moderation of their presentation. As in other things, those who are most glib with their promises generally are the least dependable.

But insurance is a field in which regulation is essential. We have made good progress in protecting the public in other fields of insurance and we should be able to buy health and accident policies with the same security that we have in buying other forms of protection.

WORRY, WORRY

Members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, meeting at Berkeley, California, recently took a gloomy view of such things as snake bites, glaciers, air pollution and black widow spiders.

Science is not sufficiently informed about how to treat snake bites, they concluded. Large cities, with congestions of industrial plants and automobiles emitting foul gases, are confronted with terrific costs if smog is to be controlled. Glaciers in the Pacific Northwest are growing larger. Black widow spiders are increasing in numbers alarmingly.

There appears to be nothing in this listing for us to become concerned about here in Northern Minnesota immediately. Snakes, smog, glaciers and black widow spiders are not apt to be a problem in our community in 1955.

PAY AS WE BUILD

A proposed 25 billion dollar increase in federal aid for roads has much general appeal but there is understandable opposition to the idea of such a huge sum being made available by borrowing. Our still-growing federal debt is already too large and under present conditions we cannot justify a public works program, even for roads, with borrowed money.

It is suggested that this road program be looked upon as a special obligation to be paid for by special taxes. These special taxes presumably would be increased levies on motor fuels.

Perhaps it would be better to move into an expanded road building program on a pay-as-we-go basis. The increased levies necessary to meet our obligations of debt service could be made available for road construction from year to year, and while this would not be as spectacular as the big program that has been proposed, over a period of years we probably would have better roads for the dollars we spent.

Extending such an expanded program over a longer period of time would have the advantage too of leveling out our spending, and by avoiding a peak we might also get away from a later depression.

There is much to be said in favor of an increase in road expenditures. It is a thing we probably will have to come to. But our road problem is not so critical that we cannot take it in stride, paying for the improvements as we make them. Our road problem is one that will be with us forever. When we build with borrowed money we gain a slight advantage today at the expense of tomorrow.

SALES TAX ON THE WAY

The sales tax is still being proposed as a replacement tax. When it comes it will not come as a replacement however but as a new tax.

It will come inevitably because it is the only remaining source of revenue that can provide adequately for the needs of our increased spending.

Our present taxes are at or near the point of diminishing returns. To increase the levy will reduce the yield. And in seeking for new sources of revenue we are limited pretty much to the tax pattern of other states. To deviate from that pattern could prove to be expensive and within this pattern the only new revenue source is a tax on sales.

The sales tax probably will not reach us this year and maybe not for several years but it is sure to come. It will come because we will spend ourselves into it.

POSTAL RATES UP?

President Eisenhower has renewed his request for increases in postal rates to put the postal service on a self-supporting basis, and this is a sensible approach. Last year's deficit was about 400 million dollars, which we paid out of other tax sources. Those of us who use the service can just as well pay for it directly as indirectly.

But while this makes good sense, Congress has taken the position that it does not make good politics, and so the President's proposal may be side-tracked again and postal rates remain the same. The people who represent us in Congress love us very much but they do not have a high regard for our mental capacity.

The International Air Transport association, speaking for the companies that provide 90% of all scheduled airline service in the free world, says that the industry's two-billion dollar volume last year exceeded the volume of ocean liners and freighters. Commercial air transport, with only a few years of operation to its credit, is one of the truly remarkable developments of our age.

"Our telephone service is the cheapest service we buy"

I look at it this way: Our telephone makes life a lot happier for me and my family. There are times when it's been a real lifesaver, too—like the day Jimmy fell down the basement stairs.

I can call anyone in town, and call as often as I want—24 hours a day, every day of the year.

All I do is reach out and lift the receiver—and equipment worth thousands, maybe millions of dollars is ready to go to work for me. I don't have to buy any equipment myself, nor do I pay extra for repairs.

Sure, we pay a little more for our telephone than we used to—though the price has gone up a lot less than most other things. But Bob, my husband, figured out that even today our telephone actually costs us less than one cent an hour. Imagine—for all that service!

That's why we think our telephone service is the cheapest service we buy.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I forgot to pay my GI insurance premium on time, and mailed it to VA toward the end of the 31-day grace period. What does VA go by, in determining whether the premium was mailed in time—the date on my check or the date the premium reaches VA?

A—Neither. The postmark on the envelope is considered as the date on which the premium was paid.

Q—If the widow of a serviceman killed on active duty remarries, may she still receive the $92.90 monthly insurance or indemnity payments?

A—The legal widow at the time of the serviceman's death has entitlement to the indemnity; her remarriage, under the law, does not bar her continued entitlement.

Q—What is the largest amount of money a veteran can borrow to buy a home under the GI loan program?

A—There is no limit on the amount a veteran may borrow. It all depends on what the lender is willing to lend him. The maximum applies only to the amount of VA's guarantee that can be issued upon the loan.

Q—In figuring out my annual income for VA pension purposes, am I supposed to count only my take-home pay or my gross salary?

A—You must include your total salary and not just your take-home pay. Your total salary includes money withheld for retirement plans and income taxes.

Only Make Believe?

"Oh look out, Aunt Jane, you're sitting on Sara Frances!" three year-old Mary cries with obvious concern. Her startled aunt may be annoyed, amused, amazed, or even delighted that sitting on an empty chair can cause such consternation. Aunt Jane may choose to ignore a childish whim. Or she may remember that pretending is a very vital part of a child's play, and politely move for the imaginary guest.

Occasionally the child's imaginings do cause minor inconvenience. Some children become so absorbed in playing the role of someone else that they will not answer to their own names. Only "Cowboy Joe" or "Long John" can be persuaded to come to the table or to don his pajamas. Sometimes fancy and reality get so thoroughly blended that adults may worry about the child's truthfulness. Actually there is little cause for anxiety. By the time he is five or six the child separates make-believe from real life. He still pretends, but he slips more easily in and out of the roles he is playing.

Sympathetic adults have found that the use of make believe can be most effective in the education and training of children. Teachers in the early grades depend heavily on imaginative activities to make lessons meaningful. Arithmetic comes alive in store play, reading leads to small dramatizations, and music is most fun for puffing tugboats or galloping ponies.

Parents use make-believe, too. One mother told recently how she prepared her children for having company or for going visiting by acting out ahead of time the steps involved. The children learned how to manage the exchange of greetings, the disposal of wraps, finding places for guests to sit, and the etiquette of serving refreshments. This became a favorite game for the family.

Many a trip to the dentist, doctor, or barber has been made less fearsome when children have lived through the experience in make-believe at home. This kind of "let's pretend" not only makes learning easier, it's fun besides.

Last year the Red Cross spent 40 percent of its budget for counseling, financial assistance, communications, and services in hospitals for American troops around the world, and for veterans.

Bridgeman Invites You — TO — SUPPORT YOUR TEAMS

The boys who go out for high school athletics can't win all their games . . . and they won't lose all their games either. But you can be sure of one thing . . . they'll be trying their blue ribbon best in every game. A lot of training and practice precedes each game. It takes a lot of effort. And all that effort seems a little more worthwhile to the boys when they see a good crowd along the sidelines. They're reassured that folks are interested.

So, in dedicating this picture page to the athletes of Lincoln High, we urge everyone . . . all of you . . . SUPPORT THE TEAMS! Add your voice to the cheer that carries them to victory.

And If You Haven't Already . . .
WE INVITE YOU TO TRY

Al Adams is the Prowler basketball coach this year, coming here from Wahpeton where he had a state championship to his credit. Here he is, left to right, with Dean Anderson, Bill Frahm, Les Kjos and Mark Bjorkman, four of the Prowler veterans. Bill Frahm, the team's high scorer, played against Adam's Wahpeton team three years ago when he was on the Valley City squad.

Joe Mrkonich is assistant coach and on the receiving end of the milk lunch are Joe Swick, Chuck Brandvold, Dick Odegaard and Ronnie Severson. Brandvold is a new man on the squad, having transferred here from Detroit Lakes. A senior, his 190 pounds adds a lot of stability to the squad and gives them strength under the basket. That knee patch is a what's left of a football injury.

Student manager Vernon Solheim is doing the honors with the Bridgemen package here and on the receiving end, left to right, are Louie Wedul, Eddie Fillatrault, George Gifford and Evan Jones. Gifford, the one senior in the group, has played both forward and back, as has Evan Jones. Fillatrault is coming up at center and Wedul is a guard.

Student-manager David Reese is directing the activity in this scene and next to him is Cal Offerdahl, still small in stature but big in courage and a comer as a goalie. Then there is Harry Armstrong, Jimmy Hall, Art Cloutier, Freddy Dablow and Jimmy Reese. Hall is now playing on the front line with Vrae and Poole.

Here are the four horsemen of the hockey Prowlers, veterans of the team that last year won the state championship. The gentleman at the left of course is coach Dennis Rolle and next in order are Sid Vrae, Brad Teal, Joey Poole and Jack Quesnell. Joey Poole came through as an all-stater last year, and Sid Vrae made all-state in football. They have a real job ahead of them this year — but they've got what it takes. — and Bridgeman's milk too of course.

Sees Smaller Dairy Surplus Coming Year

There will still be dairy surpluses in 1955—but the gap between milk production and use promises to be the smallest since 1952.

This statement came Friday, Jan. 14, from E. Fred Koller, professor of agricultural economics at the University of Minnesota, in a talk before a Farm and Home Week audience on the St. Paul campus.

He said 1954 milk production will total 124 billion pounds and use was about 119 billion pounds. This left a gap of about five billion pounds of milk the government bought in butter, cheese and milk powder. This is a billion pounds less than in 1953.

1955 milk production is estimated at 124 to 125 billion pounds and use at 121 billion pounds—a possible gap of three or four billion pounds, much lower than in recent years.

An indication of adjustment is that U. S. fall milk production was about the same as a year ago. In first half 1954, production was much larger than in first half 1953. November, 1954, Minnesota milk production was about six per cent lower than November, 1953. U. S. butter production in the week ending December 30, 1954, was 19 per cent below a year ago.

Koller also pointed out adjustments on the use side. Americans were using 8 to 9 per cent more butter in the first 10 months of 1954 as they did in the same period of 1953.

Prospects for good business conditions and rising income in 1955 should make dairy foods demand as strong or stronger than in 1954, Koller said.

Despite progress in closing the gap between production and use, supplies of dairy products will keep prices near support level most of 1955, Koller predicted. Dairy income should be about the same as in 1954. During the year, the government should be able to reduce its storage holdings a great deal and thus give dairy markets a more optimistic view into 1956, he said.

Koller said growing U. S. population will require about two billion pounds more milk each year.

Asks Observance of Sight-saving Month in January

Dr. Leo A. Meyer, St. Paul, president of the Minnesota Optometric association, today reminded state parents that January has been designated "sight saving" month. He asked that this month in particular, attention be given to the care of children's eyes in Minnesota.

Few children will complain of poor vision chiefly because they have no idea how well others see the same things they see, the optometrists point out.

For this reason one out of every four American children has some kind of eye trouble and yet is not being treated simply because no one knows he has the defect.

'54 Travel on State Trunk Routes over 11.1 Billion Miles

Traffic on State Trunk Highways Has Increased 64.6 Per Cent Since 1941

Motor vehicles in 1954 traveled the astronomical total of more than 11.1 billion miles on Minnesota's trunk highways. Although this is only two per cent more than the 1953 figure, it is an increase of nearly two-thirds over the 6.7 billion miles traveled over the state's trunk highways in 1941. The 1941 to 1954 growth in Minnesota trunk highway usage was 64.6 per cent.

The mileage totals and percentages of increases were computed on the basis of gasoline tax revenues and other factors reflecting travel volume and on 24-hour daily traffic counts made by the state highway department at 24 automatic recording stations on rural trunk highways throughout Minnesota.

Since the present total of miles of trunk highways in the state, about 11,000, is not materially greater than the 1941 total, practically the same highways that carried the earlier load are now carrying the tremendously expanded traffic movement of the past years. The major steps accomplished to cope with the great growth of traffic in the state have been widening or realignment of some of the most heavily traveled trunk routes, reconstruction of bridges and improvement of traffic control.

The 1941 mileage is used for a pre-war comparison because it was the last year of normal motor vehicle traffic before the travel restrictions of the World War II years.

Importance of vacation travel to Minnesota's economic welfare and enjoyment is shown in the results of the traffic counts made at the 24 recording stations. The average monthly travel figures were highest in July or August at all but one station. The top count of the year was 15,153 vehicles, recorded in July by the station northwest of Anoka on U. S. 10.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

MISSISSIPPI BOATS

The story of river transportation on the Upper Mississippi would contain several interesting and romantic chapters.

The first would describe those activities in St. Paul, the early days when river boats were first used and the growth of this form of transportation so essential to the development of a territory and a state. Before the railroads came there were hundreds of arrivals of river boats each year, at the landing at St. Paul.

Another part of the story would concern itself with river boats and their use on the Mississippi above the Falls of St. Anthony and on to St. Cloud. Here the river played a very important part in the founding of many communities.

Aitkin became a center of river transport in the 1870ies. Boats served the river to both the south and the north. There was extensive use of the river northward to Grand Rapids and boats operated with reasonable regularity for both passengers and frieght until the turn of the century and with less usefulness for a few years thereafter.

There were many boats on the river above Pokegama Falls. Some were navigated by steam power but as the river became smaller the boats were also smaller and many of them in the later years were powered by internal combustion engines. The greatest use of the boats on the upper headwaters was in connection with the logging industry.

THOUSAND LAKES

Those who named Minnesota as the land of ten thousand lakes did not have an entirely original idea. Nearly three hundred years ago some Frenchmen conceived the lake area of what is now Minnesota in large terms.

Grosseliers and Radisson were far wandering Frenchmen. They were among the first white men to come to the head of Lake Superior. That was in 1650 and the year following. They proceeded south and west of the head of the big lake, traveling by canoe and on foot. They arrived at a large lake. They saw so many lakes that they named the whole area the land or district of a thousand lakes. Then the name applied to the land of a thousand lakes was given to a single lake, Mille Lacs. This was not quite logical but the name survived to the present day.

These early explorers were interested in the Indians who lived in small villages about the big lake. These were the Dakotahs, first called "Nadoway-sioux", in various spellings, by the French. Since that name was too long it was shortened to "Sioux". That term has outlived the more proper name of the Indians who were later driven from Mille Lacs by the south moving Chippewas.

There is much of great age around and about Mille Lacs. There are geologists who believe that this lake is older than Superior or the Lake of the Woods. One very interesting feature is that the lake itself rests about a hundred feet higher than the land which quite closely surrounds it. The geologists have a name for that interesting circumstance.

THE SPANISH WAR

Minnesota put four regiments into the Spanish-American War. Three were made up of the organized National Guard. When war was impending the guard units were filled and when a call for arms went out on April 28, 1898, Minnesota was ready. The regiments were sworn in during the following month at military headquarters at the state fair grounds.

The first three regiments of guardsmen were denominated as the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth. Of these regiments only one saw foreign service. This was the thirteenth which left for Manila to help capture that city from the Spaniards. This regiment arrived on August 13 and because of its discipline and ability was chosen as provost guard of Manila and the area about it. This duty continued until March of the following year. Then followed other military work and the regiment returned to the United States. It arrived in Minneapolis on October 12 and it was greeted by great numbers of people, among them President McKinley.

The Fifteenth Minnesota was a regiment of volunteers which was sent south where its principal foe was typhoid fever.

In the Spanish-American War the losses of the regiment that served overseas were two officers and 42 enlisted men, killed or dead. The wounded consisted of six officers and 68 men. There were other losses of men serving in the regular army besides the casualties inflicted by disease and accident.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Pretty "Snappy" Menu

Cuff Taylor had a near riot in his hen yard last week. Seems the hens were scratching around the cold ground when they found a piece of rubber band frozen in the ice.

"One hen pecked at it," says Cuff, "and it snapped right back. She backed off clucking while another hen tried it, and another. And the 'worm' kept right on snapping back. They all got their feathers ruffled. You never heard such a ruckus!"

"I finally had to break up the ice with an ax before those hens would get back to business and start laying eggs again."

From where I sit, some people raise a pretty big fuss over nothing, too. Take the fellow who would deny me a temperate glass of beer with my game of checkers. Maybe he'd rather have coffee! Well, that's all right. He has a right to his own preference. But so do I. And there's no point in his "snapping" at me just because his choice isn't the same as mine.

Joe Marsh

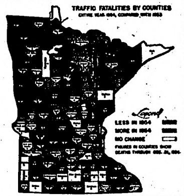
Traffic Deaths in County in 1954 Down to One from 4 in '53



TRAFFIC FATALITIES BY COUNTIES
ENTIRE YEAR 1954, COMPARED WITH 1953

The above map of Minnesota shows that Pennington county was one of 36 counties which had fewer traffic fatilities in 1954 than during 1953. There were 637 deaths resulting from traffic accidents last year—only one less than in 1953, according to figures available to the Minnesota highway department to date. In Pennington county, one traffic death was recorded in 1954 compared to four in 1953.

Figures for adjoining counties include Marshall, eight deaths in 1954, compared to three in 1953; Red Lake, one death in 1954 compared to five in 1953; and Roseau, two deaths in 1954 and four in 1953.

Four counties went through the entire year without a single traffic fatality, with McLeod County setting the pace by reducing its 1953 toll of 13 deaths to Zero. Other "perfect record" counties were Stevens, which had four fatalities in 1953, and Cottonwood and Hubbard counties, which had two each in the previous year. Their combined efforts showed a reduction of 21 deaths. On the other hand, the only two counties which were death-free in 1953—Kittson and Swift—had a total of 15 deaths in 1954.

The year-end count showed that there were 36 counties which had fewer deaths in 1954 than in 1953, 38 had more deaths, while 14 maintained their 1953 pace through 1954.

Counties showing the greatest numerical gains last year were: Anoka, with 12 fewer deaths, Hennepin, 18; Itasca, 6; McLeod, 13; Morrison, 10; Mower, 9; Redwood, 7; St. Louis, 8; Winona and Wright, 5 each.

Of the 38 counties having poorer records in 1954 than in 1953, the following stand out: Carver, 7 more than in 1953; Fillmore, 5; Kandiyohi, 5; Marshall, 5; Mille Lacs, 7; Nicollet, 6; Olmsted, 6; Otter Tail, 11; Polk, 8; Ramsey, 7; Swift, 11 and Waseca, 6.

Freedom Crusade Planned in State

Will Seek Support for Broadcasts in Europe

Arnulf, president of the Midland National Bank of Minneapolis and treasurer of the Minnesota Community Research Council, has been named state treasurer of the Crusade for Freedom campaign, it was announced today by Minnesota co-chairmen Benjamin Berger and Ed Haislet.

The Crusade, which will conduct its fund-raising during Freedom Week between Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays in February, is raising money in support of Radio Free Europe, which was established in 1949 and maintained by American citizens to keep alive the spirit of freedom and resistance. Radio Free Europe broadcasts more than 3,000 program hours weekly over 29 powerful short and medium wave transmitters located in West Germany and Portugal to Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

This is the third year the Crusade is being conducted in Minnesota, which has a 1955 goal of $50,000 to raise, according to co-chairmen Haislet and Berger.

Lee H. Everett of East Grand Forks was advanced from chief rabban to illustrious potentate of Kem Temple of the Shrine at the annual election in Grand Forks Jan. 13. He is president of the Minnesota National Bank of East Grand Forks, and as potentate he succeeds C. B. Ayers of Grand Forks.

Sprayers' Course At 'U' Jan. 24-25

Dr. Henry Hurtig, an outstanding Canadian authority on application of insecticides to large cropland and forest areas will speak twice next week at the University of Minnesota's short course for aircraft and ground sprayers. It will be held Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 24-25, on the University's St. Paul Campus.

J. O. Christianson, director of short courses, says this year's sprayers short course will have about the largest attendance ever—due largely to the growing use of aircraft and ground spraying as a means of insect and weed control. Course chairman is A. W. Buzicky, associate state entomologist.

There are selfish people in every community who still seem to get along.

4-H Members May Demonstrate at RRV Winter Shows

Food Preparation, Home Assistance and Dairy Projects Are Included

4-H club members enrolled in the food preparation, home assistance and dairy projects may demonstrate at the Red River Valley Winter Shows, says Home Agent Marge Olsen. Demonstrations will be held on Wednesday, February 23.

Dairy project members may give demonstrations on cleaning, milking and separating equipment.

Girls enrolled in food preparation may give demonstrations on using dairy foods in individual dishes or complete meals. These dairy foods are butter, milk, cream and cheese. They may be in different forms such as dry milk, sweetened condensed milk, cottage cheese or cheddar cheese to suggest a few.

Members are to notify the county extension office by February 1 if they plan to give a dairy demonstration, Miss Olsen added.

The workers who take their work seriously are the ones who usually have the permanent jobs.

WHEN I WAS A GIRL...

When I was a girl they used to say that bread was the staff of life. It's an expression that you still hear, of course, but not so much as you once did.

True, there was something tantalizing and wonderful about the smell of home-baked bread wafting in from the kitchen. And how the men folk loved it, after a hard day at work in the fields.

But as I grew older, I began to realize that neither bread nor anything else you can see, touch, and smell is the staff of life. Sound funny? Well, think it over, and you'll see what I mean. Our greatest strength comes from the things that aren't tangible. The spiritual things, I guess you'd call them.

My own staff of life has been the Church. It has supported me when I have needed it the most. When my children came along, I taught them to believe that the Church was their real staff of life. In this belief they have found hope, solace, and comfort, just as I have.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

County Students Share in Parley at Moorhead College

Outstanding Students to Share in Discussions Saturday, January 29th

Two juniors and two seniors from Thief River Falls Lincoln high school and four from Goodridge will take part in the second annual citizenship education conference at Moorhead state teachers college on Saturday, January 29.

The Lincoln students include Marilyn Waale and Jack Quesnell, seniors, and Sharon Bugge and Ed Filiatrault, juniors.

Each high school is invited to send two juniors and two seniors to the Conference (two boys and two girls). On Saturday morning these delegates take part in a series of discussion meetings led by college student leaders. At the close of each discussion meeting a vote will be taken to determine the one in each group who seems to be outstanding.

On Saturday afternoon these selected "best citizens" will participate in panel discussions on the question: "What role should the church, home, and school each play in the development of good citizenship." Again these groups will select their outstanding participant to send on to the final discussion.

The students who have survived these eliminations will take part in a "town hall" meeting at 2:30 p. m. to discuss the topic: "What can we and our town do to combat juvenile delinquency?" The moderator at this meeting will be Vance Thysell, county attorney of Clay county.

Freeman Asks Withholding of Income Tax

Budget Message Calls for Increase in Taxes on Iron Ore and Beer

Sharp criticism from some conservatives and general approval from liberals greeted Gov. Freeman's budget message Wednesday.

In a 42-page message which took him nearly an hour and a half to deliver, the governor recommended:

A general revenue fund budget of $167,466,000 for the next two years compared with the $155,169,000 appropriated for the current two-year period.

A $32,504,700 state building program.

Higher taxes on iron ore, beer, telephone company earnings, gifts and inheritances and taxes on insurance annuities and tobacco, other than cigarettes, and increased licenses and fees to raise the 19 million dollars in new money needed to balance the budget.

A withholding system for collecting state income taxes and an increase from $10 to $15 in the dependent allowance in computing income taxes.

Lowering the assessment rate for personal property tax purposes on manufacturers' tools, equipment and inventories.

The governor said the withholding system plus moves to plug loopholes in the corporate income tax structure would provide enough money to raise basic school aids from $80 to $92.

Chairmen of the Senate finance and House appropriations committees, which face the job of deciding how much can be spent, had divergent reactions.

Rep. Leo D. Mosier, Minneapolis, liberal chairman of the House appropriations committee, said Gov. Freeman presented "an intelligent and sensible way of solving our budget problems." Sen. Val Imm, Mankato, conservative chairman of the Senate finance committee, agreed that some revenue recommendations were sound but declared the increase the governor proposed on telephone companies in smaller communities is "too severe."

Sen. Donald O. Wright, Minneapolis, chairman of the Senate tax committee, declared the governor's tax recommendations "follow the usual pattern of soaking the mining companies and business corporations. This approach . . . will be a very definite roadblock in finding a fair and equitable solution."

The House tax committee chairman, Rep. Ed Chilgren, Littlefork liberal, said most of the recommendations were "sound and reasonable."

They were the Business and Professional Women's club, which conducted the sale of caps and bonnets, netting a profit of more than $600; and Company F of the National Guard, which efficiently directed traffic at the two performances of the anniversary pageant. Officers of the two groups were given a round of applause.

State High Court Grants New Trial of Fosston Case

Supreme Court Upsets Judge Lundgren Ruling in First Trial of Case

Holding that the trial court gave the jury "prejudicial" instructions, the Minnesota supreme court Friday granted a new trial to Evelyn Nathan, Fullerton, Neb., in her $12,000 suit against the St. Paul Mutual Insurance Company.

Mrs. Nathan, a widow, purchased a building in 1946 and moved it three miles into Fosston. She erected an eight-room addition and made other improvements so it would house four other families.

The building burned down in 1952 and she sought to recover $12,000 under an insurance policy. A jury in Polk county district court awarded a verdict for the insurance company. She appealed.

Associate Justice Frank T. Gallagher, in reversing District Judge Paul A. Lundgren, said the trial court "went beyond the legal requirements" on the matter of establishing an insurable interest in his instructions.

The insurance firm claimed the building was "a veritable fire trap" and that she told an insurance agent an old part and the new addition were in "good shape;" and that she had title to the premise when, in fact, it had a $200 mechanics lien.

Justice Gallagher said that the existence of the mechanic's lien, which she said she did not know about until the trial, "did not involve the moral hazard as to void the policy."

Minor Damage in Two Collisions During Past Week

While driving thru the alley at the rear of the Hartz store January 18, Jerry Mercil collided with a car driven by Harold Wasley, who was backing out from a parking space. Damage to the Mercil car was appraised at $45, with $66 damage to the Wasley car.

Trucks driven by Donald Olson, Rt. 1, and Chester Carlson, Rt. 5, collided last Thursday at the intersection of Horace av. and Sixth st. The vehicle driven by Olson was damaged to the extent of $90, while the Carlson truck escaped with $10 damage.

County Is Asked to Buy $336,000 in Savings Bonds

County Quota for 1955 Is Announced by State Savings Bond Division

Minnesota's sales-goal-for U. S. Savings Bonds, series E and H, has been set at $101,800,000 it was announced today at a state conference of district and county bond chairmen in Minneapolis.

Pennington county's share of the state goal is $336,000.

The national sales objective is $5.5 billion which is expected to produce a billion and a quarter dollars of E and H bond money in excess of maturities and redemptions. This volume will be of assistance to the Treasury's long-term program of placing more of the national debt in the hands of individuals in the form of savings bonds, and will be helpful in carrying on the whole fiscal program of the government.

The 1955 sales program is beamed at four markets; namely, 1) the general market which includes all potential bond buyers who are not on payroll savings, on farms, or in schools and who make most of their bond purchases "over the counter" in banks or other financial institutions; 2) the wage and salary market which is directly related to the promotion of sales to wage and salary earners through payroll savings plans where they work; 3) the farm market; and 4) the school savings market.

Flying Club May Buy Third Plane

Considering Purchase of Four-place Model

At a meeting of the Thief River Falls Flying club, held at the airport Friday night, the question of whether or not another plane should be purchased was discussed.

The club now has 57 active members and owns two planes. If another ship is purchased it probably will be a four-place model that could be made available for commercial flying.

A committee was authorized to explore the possibility of securing needed expansion of the airport shop facilities in the hope that a repair service can be maintained.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

The biggest single issue in this session of the legislature is certain to be taxation. In his budget message last week, Governor Orville L. Freeman proposed a dozen major measures in this area, and, before the session adjourns, each will come under the most careful legislative scrutiny.

The Governor's proposals, if adopted, would produce an estimated additional $41,000,000 for the next biennium, of which $15,000,000 would go to the General Revenue Fund and $26,000,000 to the Income Tax School Fund.

While most of them provide tax increases, two of them actually propose tax decreases — one that increases the credit allowance for dependents under the income tax and the other that decreases the personal property tax for manufacturers' tools, equipment, and inventories.

General Revenue Proposals

Perhaps the most controversial of the Governor's proposals are the seven measures to raise additional money for the General Revenue Fund. He proposed the following:

(1) Increase iron ore taxes from 11 to 15 per cent, which together with the one per cent surtax for the bonus, would bring the tax to 16 per cent, yielding an additional $9,000,000 for the biennium.

(2) Restrict iron ore labor credits, for an additional $750,000.

(3) Increase inheritance and gift taxes to produce another $1,000,000.

(4) Include annuities in the insurance gross premiums tax, $600,000.

(5) Raise beer tax 50 cents per barrel on 3.2 and 75 cents on strong beer, $2,100,000.

(6) Tax tobacco products other than cigarets at 20 per cent of retail price, $2,000,000.

(7) Increase the gross earnings tax on telephone companies in communities of less than 10,000 population from 4 to 7 per cent, $1,500,000.

Many Fights in Offing

There is certain to be strong resistance to each of these proposals. The first reaction stressed opposition to increasing iron ore taxes, mostly on the grounds that the increases might harm the competitive position of Minnesota ore.

The report of the legislature's interim commission on iron ore taxation recommended that there be no iron ore tax increase "unless the financial condition of the state makes it necessary to increase taxes generally . . . in which event the additional taxes should be spread equitably upon all taxpayers."

The house and senate tax committees were preparing to go right to work on the Governor's proposals, and the only thing that can be said with assurance now is that there will be a struggle over each measure.

Withholding Proposed

The Governor's proposals with respect to the income tax appeared to have a somewhat more favorable reception. Even at the present $80 per pupil unit basic state aid, some $12,000,000 in additional revenue for schools will be necessary, and at the Governor's recommended rate of $92, some $29,000,000 additional will be required.

Mr. Freemans' major proposals in this area include:

(1) Introduction of a withholding system for payment of the state income tax, the same as is employed by the federal government. In shifting to a current basis of payment, an estimated $25,000,000 would be produced for the biennium, owing to the speeding up of payments and to greater compliance with the income tax law.

(2) Eliminating certain loopholes in the corporate income tax law, but also providing tax-saving modifications, yielding a net of $2,000,000 more.

(3) Shifting of corporation income tax payments to a more current basis, providing another $4,000,000 for the biennium.

(4) Increasing the credits for dependents under the individual income tax law from $10 to $15, which would decrease the anticipated total yield of $31,000,000 by about $5,000,000, providing an overall net of $26,000,000 additional for the income tax school fund.

To Stimulate Business

Throughout his message the Governor stressed the necessity to reexamine the entire tax structure in terms of providing tax relief for business and industry, where they are experiencing disadvantage in competing with other states.

To provide a beginning here the Governor recommended removal of certain inequities in the corporate tax law and the reduction in the personal property tax for manufacturers.

Other major proposals dealt with the serious problem that the state must face for the years following the next biennium, especially with respect to school funds. Here the Governor proposed a Constitutional amendment that would redirect the iron ore taxes now going into permanent trust funds, making such money available for current operating costs of the educational system.

In all, the proposals represent a rather sweeping revision of the state's financial structure and are certain to arouse widespread debate and controversy.

Ivan Dimmen Dies on Prospecting Trip in N. Mexico

Former Local Resident Found Dead in Car Last Week in Remote Area

Death claimed Ivan Vernon Dimmen, 28, last week in New Mexico. Funeral services will be held Saturday, January 29, at 2 p. m. in the Oak Ridge Lutheran church with Rev. Arthur Grorud officiating. Interment will be made in the Lanstad cemetery.

Dimmen was found dead in his old-model car by three wood haulers on top of remote Rowe mesa near Santa Fe, New Mexico. He had apparently been there for several days in freezing weather after a heavy snow fall, and his death was attributed by state police either to exposure or to carbon monoxide poisoning from keeping the engine running in an effort to keep warm.

Mr. Dimmen was born September 16, 1926, in Marshall Co. After completing grammar school he attended Lincoln high school for two years. He was a member of the Merchant Marine from November 1944 to February 1946, later serving in the U. S. Army.

After his discharge he went to Fargo and did floor sanding, later taking a course in electrical engineering. Last December he went to New Mexico as a prospector.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Lena Dimmen; three sisters, Mrs. Berton (Ella) Johnson and Miss Leona Dimmen of this city; Mrs. Harold (Mable) Anderson of Warren; six brothers, Selmer, Lloyd and Clifford of this city; Pfc. Clarence Dimmen of the U. S. Army, Korea; Pfc Glenn Dimmen in Savannah, Georgia; Pfc. Elvin Dimmen of Portland, Oregon. He was preceded in death by his father and one sister.

He was the father of Mrs. Donald Brandvold of Thief River Falls.

Born Jan. 31, 1883, in New Prague, Minn., he received his law degree from Notre Dame university, South Bend, Ind., in 1906. He practiced law from 1907-09 in Montgomery, Minn., and married Charlotte Bolten of Montgomery in 1910.

He was elected county attorney of LeSueur county in 1909 and served three terms. From 1916-1924 he owned and operated a stock farm in Rice county and practiced law while recuperating from an illness. He opened a law office in Owatonna, in 1924, then moved to Faribault the following year.

Judge Hanzel was appointed to the probate bench of Rice county Nov. 6, 1930, and has been elected without interruption since.

Active in the Knights of Columbus, he was a past grand knight and past state advocate of the Minnesota K of C Council. He also served on the state board of the Izaak Walton league.

Survivors include his wife, Charlotte; one son, Maj Thomas Hanzel, USAF, Washington; six daughters, Mrs. Leonard Huguin and Mrs. Roland Benson, both of Faribault; Mrs. Rosemary Russell, St Paul; Mrs. Donald C. Brandvold, Thief River Falls; Mrs. Jerome Manahan, West St. Paul, and Mrs. Henry Courtemanche, Bloomington; and 14 grandchildren. One son, Francis J., Jr., preceded him in death.
